Republicans Start Fight To Fix OPA's New Lease On Life at Nine Months

Also Favor Far-reaching Revisions of Pricing Rules and Regulations in Price Control

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP) — Republicans launched a battle on the House floor today to hold OPA's new lease on life to nine months, instead of a year, and to write into the Price Control law far-reaching revisions of pricing rules and regulations.

Rep. Patman (D-Tex) immediately shouted to the House:

"If these amendments pass OPA will be scuttled."

Chester Bowles, economic stabilizer, appearing simultaneously before the Senate Banking committee to plead for OPA's life, declared that if subsidies are removed—as proposed in one amendment—living costs will increase and labor will demand a second round of wage increases. Subsidies are government payments to farmers, processors and others in order to hold down prices to consumers.

Faces Crucial Tests

The OPA confronts its crucial legislative tests as the House begins voting on amendments tomorrow. Today, the debate had to compete with the opening of the baseball season, and about sixty of the 431 House members remained on the floor through the afternoon to hear the sharp exchanges.

Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich) told the House "it is our duty to rewrite the standards, the rules of OPA, so as to get production and at the same time have effective price control."

He outlined his proposed amendments as follows:

1. Limit OPA's continuation to next March 31, instead of one year beyond June 30 as requested by President Truman.

2. Require OPA to fix price ceilings so as to guarantee each manufacturer his costs plus a reasonable profit on every item he makes.

3. Put "teeth" into the OPA "decontrol" requirements, stipulating that price ceilings must be lifted as supply in a line of production comes into balance with demand. Wolcott said the decontrol amendment written by the Banking committee is merely a statement of policy, without "teeth."

Would Cut Subsidies

4. Require the government to get out of the $2,000,000,000 annual subsidy business by January 1, with a twenty-five per cent reduction in subsidy payments each forty-five days. This would cut overall subsidy payments in the next fiscal year from $2,051,000,000 to around $776,000,000.

These amendments were defeated in the House Banking committee, but may get stronger backing on the floor.

Wolcott told his colleagues he could hear Bowles saying, if the cost-plus amendment is adopted, "you have cut the heart out of OPA." The amendment, Wolcott argued, would force OPA to fix prices in a manner to assure adequate production.

Rep. Judd (R-Minn) raised the question whether the amendment would not be subject to the same abuses that attended cost-plus contracts during the war. He asked whether this would not "encourage people to be uneconomic."

Reuther Pledges Vigorous Action To Outlaw Strikes

CHICAGO, April 16 (AP) — Walter P. Reuther of the CIO United Auto Workers, in his first report as president, pledged "vigorous" action today against "outlaw" strikes.

Reuther, discussing a program which he presented to the union's twenty-two-man International Executive Board at the start of closed sessions, also recommended promotion of industrywide agreements and "thinking in terms of wages, prices and profits." He told a news conference:

"You cannot legislate responsibility. Strengthening the union's responsibility is an internal matter, rather than contractual. When a small group of irresponsible individuals throw thousands out of work x x x we'll meet that challenge."

It is the moral obligation of UAW leaders to "rise above personal differences in the best interests of the membership," Reuther said. "Negative leadership at the lower levels is due to a feeling of lack of positive leadership at the top.

"A union is not strong if it is not responsible. It cannot be responsible if it is not strong," he asserted.

In answer to a newsman's question, Reuther said he never had read a union responsibility clause in the Ford Motor Company's contract with the UAW, and that it had been admitted as "an expedient" to meet "a particular situation."

The newly-elected UAW chief who succeeded R. J. Thomas, now UAW vice president, declared there was no immediate discussion of the proposals he presented to the executive board. Each item, he said, would be taken up individually.

In addition to pledging support of price control and "full mobilization of our people" for the 1946 congressional elections, Reuther said his program included:

Support for a housing program; support for the CIO program of organizing industries in the south; organization of white collar and technical employes in industries where the UAW has jurisdiction, and elimination of employment discrimination because of race, creed, color or sex.

Three GI Prisoners Say Camp Guards Beat American Soldiers

LONDON, April 16 (AP)—Three GI prisoners testified today that they had seen American inmates at the Lichfield detention camp beaten by guards, while a fourth said he himself was beaten as part of the prison routine.

The four soldiers took the witness stand in the detention camp trial after being assured by Brig. Gen. Edward C. Betts, United States judge advocate of the European theater, that they would not be "persecuted" for giving evidence.

The four had interrupted court martial proceedings against Lichfield guard Sgt. James M. Jones of Muskogee, Okla., last Thursday, stating they were "afraid" to testify unless they were assured by Secretary of War Patterson or some high army official that they would not suffer discrimination for participating in the case.

House Would Investigate Cause of Airplane Crashes

WASHINGTON, April 16. (AP)—Blaming thunderstorms for "many serious aircraft accidents," the House Interstate committee decided today they should be investigated.

It approved for later House action legislation directing the Weather Bureau to "investigate fully and thoroughly the internal structure of thunderstorms."

Johnson Accuses War Department Of Confusing Draft Situation

Writes Secretary of War that House Measure Is Due to "Stupidity" of Army

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP) — Senator Johnson (D-Colo) demanded today that War department "muddleheads" drop their "arrogant demand" for another full year of the draft and settle for a six-week extension.

He wrote Secretary of War Patterson that six weeks of the draft beyond May 15 would provide all the men needed "with something to spare" and provide replacements for fathers and combat veterans still in uniform. He said the bill passed by by the House yesterday would not provide for these needs.

The House measure would ban any further inductions until Oct. 15 at least, while continuing the act itself for nine months, and impose other restrictions which the services opposed.

Johnson Charges Stupidity

Johnson wrote that this "confused and chaotic" measure was due to the War department's "blind and congenital stupidity" in assuming "that members of Congress are dummies and that they can be awed and influenced by a mass of distorted mathematics."

"Instead of driving for a six weeks' extension of the draft, which would have provided the men for all their presently anticipated needs with something to spare," Johnson continued, "the War department arrogantly demanded a year's extension of the Selective Service, but their arguments to support it were rainwater weak. The result is the House bill.

"If the War department would admit its mistake and make an honest effort to fill their requirements and nothing more, perhaps Congress may still be able to enact a sensible limited extension of the draft.

"Therefore I urge the War department to seek a six weeks' extension of Slective Service now and to abandon its despicable spirit of 'let's see how much we can wheedle out of Congress.' "

Patterson Is Silent

The Senate, whose Military committee recommended a one-year extnsion with no suspension of inductions, is expected to act next week. Johnson, a committee member, has officially proposed a six-week extension.

There was no immediate response from Patterson to Johnson's letter but he and other military officials have expressed their views on a one-year extension in numerous appearances before congressional committees.

Patterson told the Senate Military committee March 21 that "this country cannot afford to take chances on manpower for the army."

Scientists Destroy Cancer in Rats

PHILADELPHIA, April 16—(AP)—Development of an alcoholic extract used successfully in treatment of cancer and tumor on rats is reported by three Philadelphia scientists who emphasize their research is in its preliminary stages and that the extract is not ready for use on humans.

Dr. E. J. Farris, executive director of the Wistar Institute of Anatomy and Biology, said the experiments have enabled, for the first time in history, immunization against a growth.

The extract was developed by Dr. Paul Myron Aptekman, chemist at the institute. He was aided by Dr. Margaret Reed Lewis and Dr. Helen Dean King. The three, in a paper describing their experiments for the Journal of Immunology said:

"To the best of our knowledge these are the first experiments in which the injection into tumors of a substance such as the concentrate brought about oocolysis (destruction of a tumor) that arose in rats of its own inbred strain, and was followed by the establishment of tumor immunity in the majority of treated rats."

Ex-Policeman Kills His Wife, Her Sister, Mother-In-Law and Self

WINFIELD, N. J., April 17 (AP)—A former Winfield police officer fatally shot his wife, her sister, and his mother-in-law today before killing himself with a shot in the head, first assistant Union county prosecutor Edwin Cohn said. Cohn identified 31-year-old Walter Fizer as the policeman and gave this version of the shooting:

Fizer's wife, Mrs. Ruth Fizer, 26, staggered from her home a few seconds after neighbors had heard a shot. She was holding her stomach.

Fizer then pursued his mother-in-law, Mrs. Florence Ashley, 55, of Port Richmond, Staten Island, N. Y., from the house, firing several shots. She took temporary refuge in a curbside telephone booth, then fled down the street.

Fizer then reloaded the revolver, Cohn said, re-entered the house and fired several more shots, some of which struck and fatally wounded his sister-in-law, Mrs. George Warne, of the Port Richmond address.

Fizer reloaded again and shot and killed himself, Cohn added.

The assistant prosecutor said Fizer and his wife had been estranged and Mrs. Fizer had returned to the home in this government sponsored community today with her mother and sister.

Primary Battles Are Now Certain For Major Offices in Maryland

By JAMES E. HAGUE

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 16 (AP)—Only a slight chance remained today that primary battles in Maryland for the major places on the Democratic and Republican tickets could be avoided.

That chance, slim as it is, depends on whether certain of the sixty candidates for nominations to the four statewide offices and six congressional districts can be persuaded to withdraw by midnight Saturday.

No new names can now be added to the lists as the filing time for candidates expired at midnight last night. The only possible change between the present roster and the final ballots for the June 24 primaries is in withdrawals.

Although the battle lines have now been drawn, most of the major candidates were expected to wait until Saturday midnight brings the final primary picture before beginning their all-out campaigns.

The bitterest skirmishing was expected on the Democratic side but Republican hopes that Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin of Baltimore, would get the gubernatorial nomination without a fight were dampened by the failure of Herman L. Mills, of Hagerstown, to switch from the governorship contest to another bracket in the primaries.

Practically a foregone conclusion was a race between Sen. George L. Radcliffe and Gov. Herbert R. O'Conor for the Democratic nomination for Senator. The third man in the field, John E. Laveck, Catonsville, is new in politics.

Tawes To Complete Ticket

The expiration of the filing deadline apparently removed all chances also of averting a three-cornered battle among Rep. H. Street Baldwin, Hydes, W. Preston Lane, Hagerstown and Comptroller J. Millard Tawes, Crisfield, for the Democratic governorship place.

If any of the "Big Three,"—there are actually eight men in the field—withdraw, it is not now possible for them to accept another spot on the ticket in a harmony move.

The fight in this division will be reflected on the Democratic side in tussels for attorney general and comptroller. Lane and Baldwin have entered full opposing tickets and Tawes is expected to complete his by endorsing one of the five candidates for Attorney general.

The biggest arguments over congressional nominations will also be Democratic. All four of the five Democratic incumbents seeking renomination have opponents. And there are no less than seven competitors for the Second congressional district seat Baldwin is vacating.

As it stands now, only four nominations will go by default, all to Republicans, George C. Doub, Owings Mills, the McKendin-Galen L. Tait candidate for attorney general is the only aspirant for state-wide office on either side who so far wins in "No contest."

Beall Is Unopposed

Not enough withdrawals are expected to take the fight out of the forthcoming campaign but one withdrawal is certain. Between now and Saturday, Paul Robertson, Baltimore City Republican chairman, must decide whether he wants to run for

Soviet Magazine Criticizes U. S.

MOSCOW, April 16 (AP) — The magazine News Times said today the outcome of Soviet-Iranian negotiations clearly demonstrated the aims and methods of Soviet foreign policy and Russia's will and capacity to regulate her relations with her neighbors "on a positive basis."

The fortnightly publication also carried three articles critical of the United States. One accused the United States of not keeping promises to the Philippines; another said persecution of American negroes was continuing, and a third assailed American policy with regard to the Japanese emperor.

(A Moscow broadcast quoting the same magazine said the greatest danger now facing the United Nations "arises from efforts of certain definite circles to make the U. N. an instrument for the domination of some countries over others, to turn it into a weapon of the Anglo-American bloc, counterposed both to these nations of Eastern Europe and the majority of mankind who inhabit colonial and dependent countries."

(The broadcast accused "the reactionary press" of artificially inflating the Soviet-Iranian issue, and declared the case had been turned into a diversion from "dangerous situations" in Greece and Indonesia.

(It added that the Russians "firmly hope these attempts meet with stern rebuff; that the U. N. will preserve its purity in the principle of equality of states which is described in its charter and which is an essential condition for its success as a major instrument for the maintenance of general peace and security.")

A New Times editorial said that the "successful outcome" of the Soviet-Iranian negotiations extended in meaning far outside the sphere of relations between the two countries.

Committee Opposition Snags Legislation On Army-Navy Merger

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP) — Opposition behind the closed doors of the Senate Military committee today snagged legislation for merging the armed forces.

Senator Bridges (R-Vt) told a reporter he had blocked plans of proponents to send the bill along to the Senate without additional hearings or a full discussion.

The New Hampshire Republican said he had the backing of "a minority" on the committee against speedy action and "will file a minority report" if sponsors of the single department plan such things.

"I am not satisfied with the present legislation," Bridges said, "because it involves too great a concentration of power in the hands of one man."

The bill would allow the president to replace the present War and Navy departments and their cabinet officers with a single department of common defense, headed by a secretary and containing army, navy and air force units.

Bill Aimed at James C. Petrillo Is Signed by President Truman

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP) — A bill became law today aimed at James C. Petrillo, president of the AFL Musicians Union,—to "put him in his place," as the sponsor termed it.

President Truman signed the measure putting heavy penalties on the use of coercion against radio broadcasters. Opponents attacked it during House consideration as "anti-labor," "unconstitutional," and an abridgement of the right to strike.

"This bill is specifically designed to put in his place and cut down to size a man named James Ceasar Petrillo," Rep. Clarence Brown (R-Ohio) said during House debate.

Petrillo said in New York today he had no comment on the signing of the bill.

Charles Berry, national program director for the American Broadcasting Company, said: "We've naturally been watching it with interest. Now that it is the law we're taking it under advisement to see how it affects our operaions."

Philip Carlin, vice president of the Mutual Broadcasting System in charge of programs, said: "I have no statement to make—the matter is being studied."

The other two of the four major networks, the Columbia Broadcasting System and the National Broadcasting Company, had nothing to say about the bill or its effect on their operations.

It provided penalties of up to one year's imprisonment and $1,000 fine for the use of force, threats or "other means" to compel radio stations to hire more employes than they want; pay money for services not performed; pay unions for the use of phonograph records; pay for broadcasting the record of a previous program.

Interference with the broadcasting of cultural or educational programs from other countries calls for the same penalties.

Russia's New Five Year Plan Will Strengthen Nation

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, April 16 (AP) — "Comrade Stalin has warned us that in the future peace-loving nations may be again taken unaware by aggression, unless of course they develop special measures capable of preventing aggression."

"We must not forget that monopolistic capitalism is capable of giving birth to new aggressors. For the prevention of new aggression, aggressive nations must be completely disarmed and submitted to military and economic control, and we must have in the United Nations a body which will stand guard over international peace and security and will be capable of defending peace and preventing new aggression.

"The fighting forces of the Soviet Union must be strengthened. We must constantly insure their equipment with the newest of modern weapons and we must insure the further strengthening of the military and economic potential of the Soviet state."

With these words Nikolai Voznesensky, chairman of Russia's State Planning Commission, recently introduced the Russian people to the demands which would be made upon them under the new five-year plan. He added, summarizing the entire objective:

"It is to rehabilitate our war ravaged regions, to restore industry and agriculture to prewar levels, then to surpass this level by a considerable extent."

Will Expand Industry

Task No. 1 under the new plan calls for restoration and development of heavy industry—iron, steel, fuel, electricity, machine tools, chemicals, timber and building materials.

Lehman Hits Way Food Is Handled

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP) — Herbert H. Lehman charged the government tonight with "faulty planning and unrealistic measures" to meet the world food crisis and called anew for consumer rationing.

He also demanded immediate orders setting aside a certain percentage of grain for export even at the expense of some inequitable civilian distribution because "once this wheat gets onto the store shelves in the form of bread, it does not make much difference whether we decide to buy an extra loaf or not."

Peeling off the figurative gloves he wore as director-general of UNRRA until his resignation three weeks ago to speak "as an American" at a food mass meeting in Constitution hall, Lehman assailed the administration on two specific points:

1. "I entirely disagree with its attitude that the United States should commit only 1,000,000 tons of grain per month in order to meet the world crisis."

2. "And I strongly disagree with its views that the crisis will be over in ninety days. Such a policy is a gamble with the lives of millions of innocent war victims."

Rosenberg Testifies In His Own Behalf

NUERNBERG, April 16. (AP)—Nazi philosopher Alfred Rosenberg, concluding a day-long recital on the witness stand in his defense against war crimes charges, claimed today that the dictatorship in Germany was forced upon Adolf Hitler by wartime emergencies.

"I was in full agreement with Hitler that the fuehrer principle should not be one man rule but rule by a directorate or senate," Rosenberg testified before the International Military Tribunal.

"Concentration of power, I said, was a wartime phenomenon, but I never regarded Hitler as a tyrant."

Rosenberg fervently reaffirmed his faith in Hitler, terming himself "a German soldier who worked passionately for the welfare of his nation." His defense of his own administration as minister for eastern occupied territories was largely a succession of disavowals of blame for cruelties and atrocities. He professed general ignorance of concentration camp horrors and the extermination of Jews.

Action in Iranian Case Put Off by Council; To Tackle Spanish Question

Government Will Not Let Prices Soar as Result Of Coal Strike

Bowles Says Prices Must Not Be above Stabilization Level after Settlement Is Made

WASHINGTON, April 16. (AP)—Economic Stabilizer Chester Bowles pledged today that the government will not allow a coal wage settlement to push prices above the stabilization level.

The Wage Stabilization Board will have to decide what part of any wage raise is to be considered in setting price ceilings and "we are not going beyond the amount approvable," Bowles told the Senate Banking committee.

"There will be no exceptions as far as we are concerned from the wage stabilization program" and "no round about methods," he said in response to questions by Senator Capehart (R-Ind).

The sixteen-day soft coal strike continued with no sign of a break in a week-long stalemate. Bowles observed that his office had no function to perform until after an agreement is reached.

Checks Wages, Prices

The administration's stabilization program is designed to keep a check on wages and prices. The wage board can disapprove any wage increase for pricing purposes which it considers unstabilizing generally, or does not conform to the wage pattern for an industry or an area.

Bowles volunteered that "a long coal strike would be a body blow to the United States."

Senator Bankhead (D-Ala), agreeing, said a long coal strike would be even worse than a long steel strike.

Bowles testified in urging extension of price control legislation a year beyond the June 30 expiration date.

Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach said the overall effect of the coal walkout is not yet critical.

The secretary said he would keep trying to break the deadlock. John L. Lewis, chief of the AFL United Mine Workers, has insisted that the operators agree to the principle of a tonnage levy for a health and welfare fund to be operated by the union, Schwellenbach said.

No Progress Made

France, Poland, Russia Press for Consideration of Spain; Trygve Lie Makes Surprise Move

NEW YORK, April 16 (AP)—The United Nations Security Council decided today to tackle the controversial Spanish question tomorrow after a surprise move by Secretary-General Trygve Lie temporarily blocked action on Russia's attempt to close the Iranian case.

After a two-hour debate in which United States Delegate Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., intimated he believed Russia had exerted pressure to get Iran to withdraw her complaint, the council decided it could not take a vote on the Russian motion for at least two days.

It then adjourned until 3 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, tomorrow when it will take up Poland's charge that Franco Spain is threatening world peace—the only other matter on the agenda.

Lie unexpectedly entered the Iranian case by submitting a legal opinion, which in effect agreed with Russia's contention that the council had no right to keep the case on the agenda.

His opinion came as Russia apparently faced defeat, with eight of the council's eleven votes lined up against her and advocating that the question be kept on the agenda until May 6, the date on which Russia has promised to have all Red army troops out of Iran.

Lie contended that since Iran has withdrawn her complaint against Russia no dispute exists and said "it may well be" that there is no way the council can keep the case on the agenda under terms of the United Nations charter.

Chairman Quo Tai-Chi immediately referred his opinion to the council's committee of experts on rules and procedure with instructions that the committee report back to the council by Thursday.

Stettinius, opening today's resumed discussions on the Iranian case, expressed the view that Iran's withdrawal of her complaint against Russia would not prevent the council from keeping jurisdiction of the case.

"The council cannot ignore the fact," he declared, "that the sudden reversal of the Iranian government of the position which it has steadfastly maintained until yesterday occurred while Soviet troops were still physically in Iran."

He then reiterated his opposition to Russia's motion to expunge the Iranian case from the agenda.

"In the opinion of the United States government—and apparently of other members who spoke to this point yesterday—it would be unwise for the council to drop the Iranian matter from its agenda, in spite of the fact that the parties concerned have requested it to do so."

Gromyko then took the floor, declaring that the position of Stettinius was "quite illogical."

"I observe," he declared, "that the delegate from the United States sacrifices logic in order to prolong and inflate the so-called Iranian question."

Police Searching For Missing Heiress

SOUTH HADLEY, Mass., April 16 (AP)—Miss Dorothy Ball, 20, Muncie, Ind., heiress missing since early today from Mount Holyoke college, was sought tonight by police of eleven eastern states.

The girl, described as five foot nine, blond, weighing 135 pounds, is the daughter of E. Arthur Ball, vice president of the Ball Brothers Manufacturing company, of Muncie, manufacturers of glass canning jars.

Campus police were alerted at midnight last night when the girl failed to return to her room. Massachusetts State Police, who sent out a general alarm through eleven states, were notified of her disappearance early today.

A student reported that Miss Ball, wearing a fur coat, boarded a bus bound for nearby Holyoke last night, but investigation did not show whether she carried a suitcase.

Miss Ball, a junior at the college, is deaf and has a speech impediment, but reads lips expertly.

College authorities described her as well balanced, and a successful and popular student. She was treasurer of the student government association last year and in her freshman year won a prize as having the gretest creative writing talent in her class.

Compulsory Health Insurance Indorsed By William Green

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP) — AFL President William Green indorsed compulsory health insurance legislation today and suggested that the senate labor committee investigate some opponents.

Green declared that some of the organizations "busily stirring up opposition to this bill" are "depending largely upon false and misleading slogans and expending huge amounts of money." He charged that misleading campaigns against the bill have been conducted by the National Physicians' Committee for the Extension of Medical Service and by the Association of American Physicians and Surgeons, Inc.

Replying to friendly questioning by Senator Morse (R-Ore), Green said he certainly did not consider it "socialistic" to provide medical care for the working people through an insurance system. Morse told him the measure frequently had been attacked on that basis.

CIO-PAC Reaffirms Its Belief In Policies of Late President

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP)—The CIO Political Action Committee, in a seventeen point program for 1946, today called indirectly for defeat of those Democrats and Republicans who, it says, have joined in a "coalition of reaction."

The CIO-PAC, reaffirming its belief in the Roosevelt economic and foreign policies, also urged the United Nations Security Council to take concerted action to "quarantine" Spain and Argentina, which it described as "centers of fascist infection."

It also urged immediate resumption of food rationing "to make American food available to the starving of other lands."

In a preamble, the committee called upon the people to measure the record of every candidate for office against the program it approved today, and to give their support to those whose records "carry the assurance that they will work with courage and vigor for its fulfillment." Likewise it called for opposition to "those who have forfeited the peoples' confidence by their failure to act in the peoples' interest."

As House Democrats planned a caucus tomorrow night to air complaints against Chairman Robert E. Hannegan and what Rep. Paul Stewart (D-Okla) called "too much CIO influence" at Democratic national headquarters, the CIO-PAC declared:

"The coalition of poll-tax Democrats and reactionary Republicans thwarts the peoples' program. It blocks the Roosevelt legislative proposals which are being carried forward by President Truman in his messages to the Congress.

"It threatens to cancel wage increases by price increases, leading to a disastrous inflation. It blocks action for adequate housing to veterans as well as workers, for a public health program, for adequate social security, for job and educational opportunities. It opposes jobs for all and refuses to subscribe to the principle of full employment—even as a goal toward which we should strive."

Chinese Communist Crack Troops Sweep into Manchurian Capital

CHUNGKING, April 16—(AP)—Chinese Communist troops cracked the government's outer defenses of Changchun today, swept into the Manchurian capital and raked the center of the city with heavy artillery fire, government dispatches declared.

(A Tokyo dispatch said Gen. Marshall, apparently in a dramatic bid to halt the battle, had cancelled plans to go to Shanghai and instead would fly direct from Tokyo to the Chinese Truce committee's headquarters at Peiping tomorrow. The special United States envoy is returning to China after a visit in Washington.)

The government's Central news agency reported from Mukden that Communist assault troops, armed with seized Japanese weapons, had smashed their way into Changchun after capturing the main air field in "heavy fighting" against out-numbered defenders.

In their sweep into the city, the dispatch added, the Communists destroyed the Fourteenth Area Air Command headquarters with heavy artillery fire and their shells were exploding deep inside the city.

Telephone communication between Mukden and Changchun was broken, however, and it was not clear whether the slim and lightly-armed garrison still held out in the slit trench and sand bag defenses in the heart of the city.

The Government's Northeast China command announced the United States-armed Chinese First Army had captured the Communist stronghold of Szepingkai, but that a relife column pushing up from the south still was sixty miles or more from the hard-pressed capital.

Faced with the prospect of the first major defeat in the Manchurian Civil war fighting—now virtually Civil war—the government was reported preparing to fly battle-seasoned troops to the side of the Changchun garrison, outnumbered ten to one.

Republicans Start Fight To Fix OPA's New Lease On Life at Nine Months

Also Favor Far-reaching Revisions of Pricing Rules and Regulations in Price Control

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP) — Republicans launched a battle on the House floor today to hold OPA's new lease on life to nine months, instead of a year, and to write into the Price Control law far-reaching revisions of pricing rules and regulations.

Rep. Patman (D-Tex) immediately shouted to the House:

"If these amendments pass OPA will be scuttled."

Chester Bowles, economic stabilizer, appearing simultaneously before the Senate Banking committee to plead for OPA's life, declared that if subsidies are removed—as proposed in one amendment—living costs will increase and labor will demand a second round of wage increases. Subsidies are government payments to farmers, processors and others in order to hold down prices to consumers.

Faces Crucial Tests

The OPA confronts its crucial legislative tests as the House begins voting on amendments tomorrow. Today, the debate had to compete with the opening of the baseball season, and about sixty of the 431 House members remained on the floor through the afternoon to hear the sharp exchanges.

Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich) told the House "it is our duty to rewrite the standards, the rules of OPA, so as to get production and at the same time have effective price control."

He outlined his proposed amendments as follows:

1. Limit OPA's continuation to next March 31, instead of one year beyond June 30 as requested by President Truman.

2. Require OPA to fix price ceilings so as to guarantee each manufacturer his costs plus a reasonable profit on every item he makes.

3. Put "teeth" into the OPA "decontrol" requirements, stipulating that price ceilings must be lifted as supply in a line of production comes into balance with demand. Wolcott said the decontrol amendment written by the Banking committee is merely a statement of policy, without "teeth."

Would Cut Subsidies

4. Require the government to get out of the $2,000,000,000 annual subsidy business by January 1, with a twenty-five per cent reduction in subsidy payments each forty-five days. This would cut overall subsidy payments in the next fiscal year from $2,051,000,000 to around $776,000,000.

These amendments were defeated in the House Banking committee, but may get stronger backing on the floor.

Wolcott told his colleagues he could hear Bowles saying, if the cost-plus amendment is adopted, "you have cut the heart out of OPA." The amendment, Wolcott argued, would force OPA to fix prices in a manner to assure adequate production.

Rep. Judd (R-Minn) raised the question whether the amendment would not be subject to the same abuses that attended cost-plus contracts during the war. He asked whether this would not "encourage people to be uneconomic."

WILLIAM TELL was pretty good with the bow and arrow and there have been several crack rifle shots, but when it comes to the slingshot here's your man! He's John Milligan, 34, Detroit, Mich, shown here holding a penny which he hit deadcenter from a distance of 30-feet. Competing with Detroit police during pistol practice, he scored 87 out of 100 with his trusty slingshot while the pistol-toteds hit a mere average of 70.

Reuther Pledges Vigorous Action To Outlaw Strikes

CHICAGO, April 16 (AP) — Walter P. Reuther of the CIO United Auto Workers, in his first report as president, pledged "vigorous" action today against "outlaw" strikes.

Reuther, discussing a program which he presented to the union's twenty-two-man International Executive Board at the start of closed sessions, also recommended promotion of industrywide agreements and "thinking in terms of wages, prices and profits." He told a news conference:

"You cannot legislate responsibility. Strengthening the union's responsibility is an internal matter, rather than contractual. When a small group of irresponsible individuals throw thousands out of work x x x we'll meet that challenge."

It is the moral obligation of UAW leaders to "rise above personal differences in the best interests of the membership," Reuther said. "Negative leadership at the lower levels is due to a feeling of lack of positive leadership at the top.

"A union is not strong if it is not responsible. It cannot be responsible if it is not strong," he asserted.

In answer to a newsman's question, Reuther said he never had read a union responsibility clause in the Ford Motor Company's contract with the UAW, and that it had been admitted as "an expedient" to meet "a particular situation."

The newly-elected UAW chief who succeeded R. J. Thomas, now UAW vice president, declared there was no immediate discussion of the proposals he presented to the executive board. Each item, he said, would be taken up individually.

In addition to pledging support of price control and "full mobilization of our people" for the 1946 congressional elections, Reuther said his program included:

Support for a housing program; support for the CIO program of organizing industries in the south; organization of white collar and technical employes in industries where the UAW has jurisdiction, and elimination of employment discrimination because of race, creed, color or sex.

Three GI Prisoners Say Camp Guards Beat American Soldiers

LONDON, April 16 (AP)—Three GI prisoners testified today that they had seen American inmates at the Lichfield detention camp beaten by guards, while a fourth said he himself was beaten as part of the prison routine.

The four soldiers took the witness stand in the detention camp trial after being assured by Brig. Gen. Edward C. Betts, United States judge advocate of the European theater, that they would not be "persecuted" for giving evidence.

The four had interrupted court martial proceedings against Lichfield guard Sgt. James M. Jones of Muskogee, Okla., last Thursday, stating they were "afraid" to testify unless they were assured by Secretary of War Patterson or some high army official that they would not suffer discrimination for participating in the case.

House Would Investigate Cause of Airplane Crashes

WASHINGTON, April 16. (AP)—Blaming thunderstorms for "many serious aircraft accidents," the House Interstate committee decided today they should be investigated.

It approved for later House action legislation directing the Weather Bureau to "investigate fully and thoroughly the internal structure of thunderstorms."

Johnson Accuses War Department Of Confusing Draft Situation

Writes Secretary of War that House Measure Is Due to "Stupidity" of Army

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP) — Senator Johnson (D-Colo) demanded today that War department "muddleheads" drop their "arrogant demand" for another full year of the draft and settle for a six-week extension.

He wrote Secretary of War Patterson that six weeks of the draft beyond May 15 would provide all the men needed "with something to spare" and provide replacements for fathers and combat veterans still in uniform. He said the bill passed by by the House yesterday would not provide for these needs.

The House measure would ban any further inductions until Oct. 15 at least, while continuing the act itself for nine months, and impose other restrictions which the services opposed.

Johnson Charges Stupidity

Johnson wrote that this "confused and chaotic" measure was due to the War department's "blind and congenital stupidity" in assuming "that members of Congress are dummies and that they can be awed and influenced by a mass of distorted mathematics."

"Instead of driving for a six weeks' extension of the draft, which would have provided the men for all their presently anticipated needs with something to spare," Johnson continued, "the War department arrogantly demanded a year's extension of the Selective Service, but their arguments to support it were rainwater weak. The result is the House bill.

"If the War department would admit its mistake and make an honest effort to fill their requirements and nothing more, perhaps Congress may still be able to enact a sensible limited extension of the draft.

"Therefore I urge the War department to seek a six weeks' extension of Slective Service now and to abandon its despicable spirit of 'let's see how much we can wheedle out of Congress.' "

Patterson Is Silent

The Senate, whose Military committee recommended a one-year extnsion with no suspension of inductions, is expected to act next week. Johnson, a committee member, has officially proposed a six-week extension.

There was no immediate response from Patterson to Johnson's letter but he and other military officials have expressed their views on a one-year extension in numerous appearances before congressional committees.

Patterson told the Senate Military committee March 21 that "this country cannot afford to take chances on manpower for the army."

Scientists Destroy Cancer in Rats

PHILADELPHIA, April 16—(AP)—Development of an alcoholic extract used successfully in treatment of cancer and tumor on rats is reported by three Philadelphia scientists who emphasize their research is in its preliminary stages and that the extract is not ready for use on humans.

Dr. E. J. Farris, executive director of the Wistar Institute of Anatomy and Biology, said the experiments have enabled, for the first time in history, immunization against a growth.

The extract was developed by Dr. Paul Myron Aptekman, chemist at the institute. He was aided by Dr. Margaret Reed Lewis and Dr. Helen Dean King. The three, in a paper describing their experiments for the Journal of Immunology said:

"To the best of our knowledge these are the first experiments in which the injection into tumors of a substance such as the concentrate brought about oocolysis (destruction of a tumor) that arose in rats of its own inbred strain, and was followed by the establishment of tumor immunity in the majority of treated rats."

Ex-Policeman Kills His Wife, Her Sister, Mother-In-Law and Self

WINFIELD, N. J., April 17 (AP)—A former Winfield police officer fatally shot his wife, her sister, and his mother-in-law today before killing himself with a shot in the head, first assistant Union county prosecutor Edwin Cohn said. Cohn identified 31-year-old Walter Fizer as the policeman and gave this version of the shooting:

Fizer's wife, Mrs. Ruth Fizer, 26, staggered from her home a few seconds after neighbors had heard a shot. She was holding her stomach.

Fizer then pursued his mother-in-law, Mrs. Florence Ashley, 55, of Port Richmond, Staten Island, N. Y., from the house, firing several shots. She took temporary refuge in a curbside telephone booth, then fled down the street.

Fizer then reloaded the revolver, Cohn said, re-entered the house and fired several more shots, some of which struck and fatally wounded his sister-in-law, Mrs. George Warne, of the Port Richmond address.

Fizer reloaded again and shot and killed himself, Cohn added.

The assistant prosecutor said Fizer and his wife had been estranged and Mrs. Fizer had returned to the home in this government sponsored community today with her mother and sister.

GI WIVES, CHILDREN SAILING FOR EUROPE

REVERSING the war bride stories of the past few months, these American wives of GIs overseas arrive in New Jersey for processing prior to sailing to Europe to join their husbands in the occupation army. Eighteen wives and ten children are in first group from Washington, D. C., area.

Primary Battles Are Now Certain For Major Offices in Maryland

By JAMES E. HAGUE

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 16 (AP)—Only a slight chance remained today that primary battles in Maryland for the major places on the Democratic and Republican tickets could be avoided.

That chance, slim as it is, depends on whether certain of the sixty candidates for nominations to the four statewide offices and six congressional districts can be persuaded to withdraw by midnight Saturday.

No new names can now be added to the lists as the filing time for candidates expired at midnight last night. The only possible change between the present roster and the final ballots for the June 24 primaries is in withdrawals.

Although the battle lines have now been drawn, most of the major candidates were expected to wait until Saturday midnight brings the final primary picture before beginning their all-out campaigns.

The bitterest skirmishing was expected on the Democratic side but Republican hopes that Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin of Baltimore, would get the gubernatorial nomination without a fight were dampened by the failure of Herman L. Mills, of Hagerstown, to switch from the governorship contest to another bracket in the primaries.

Practically a foregone conclusion was a race between Sen. George L. Radcliffe and Gov. Herbert R. O'Conor for the Democratic nomination for Senator. The third man in the field, John E. Laveck, Catonsville, is new in politics.

Tawes To Complete Ticket

The expiration of the filing deadline apparently removed all chances also of averting a three-cornered battle among Rep. H. Street Baldwin, Hydes, W. Preston Lane, Hagerstown and Comptroller J. Millard Tawes, Crisfield, for the Democratic governorship place.

If any of the "Big Three,"—there are actually eight men in the field—withdraw, it is not now possible for them to accept another spot on the ticket in a harmony move.

The fight in this division will be reflected on the Democratic side in tussels for attorney general and comptroller. Lane and Baldwin have entered full opposing tickets and Tawes is expected to complete his by endorsing one of the five candidates for Attorney general.

The biggest arguments over congressional nominations will also be Democratic. All four of the five Democratic incumbents seeking renomination have opponents. And there are no less than seven competitors for the Second congressional district seat Baldwin is vacating.

As it stands now, only four nominations will go by default, all to Republicans. George C. Doub, Owings Mills, the McKendin-Galen L. Tait candidate for attorney general is the only aspirant for state-wide office on either side who so far wins in "No contest."

Beall Is Unopposed

Three Republicans are unopposed in their congressional bids, including the only GOP incumbent, J. Glenn Beall, Frostburg.

Not enough withdrawals are expected to take the fight out of the forthcoming campaign but one withdrawal is certain. Between now and Saturday, Paul Robertson, Baltimore City Republican chairman, must decide whether he wants to run for

Soviet Magazine Criticizes U. S.

MOSCOW, April 16 (AP) — The magazine News Times said today the outcome of Soviet-Iranian negotiations clearly demonstrated the aims and methods of Soviet foreign policy and Russia's will and capacity to regulate her relations with her neighbors "on a positive basis."

The fortnightly publication also carried three articles critical of the United States. One accused the United States of not keeping promises to the Philippines; another said persecution of American negroes was continuing, and a third assailed American policy with regard to the Japanese emperor.

(A Moscow broadcast quoting the same magazine said the greatest danger now facing the United Nations "arises from efforts of certain definite circles to make the U. N. an instrument for the domination of some countries over others, to turn it into a weapon of the Anglo-American bloc, counterposed both to these nations of Eastern Europe and the majority of mankind who inhabit colonial and dependent countries."

(The broadcast accused "the reactionary press" of artificially inflating the Soviet-Iranian issue, and declared the case had been turned into a diversion from "dangerous situations" in Greece and Indonesia.

(It added that the Russians "firmly hope these attempts meet with stern rebuff; that the U. N. will preserve its purity in the principle of equality of states which is described in its charter and which is an essential condition for its success as a major instrument for the maintenance of general peace and security.")

A New Times editorial said that the "successful outcome" of the Soviet-Iranian negotiations extended in meaning far outside the sphere of relations between the two countries.

Committee Opposition Snags Legislation On Army-Navy Merger

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP) — Opposition behind the closed doors of the Senate Military committee today snagged legislation for merging the armed forces.

Senator Bridges (R-Vt) told a reporter he had blocked plans of proponents to send the bill along to the Senate without additional hearings or a full discussion.

The New Hampshire Republican said he had the backing of "a minority" on the committee against speedy action and "will file a minority report" if sponsors of the single department plan such things.

"I am not satisfied with the present legislation," Bridges said, "because it involves too great a concentration of power in the hands of one man."

The bill would allow the president to replace the present War and Navy departments and their cabinet officers with a single department of common defense, headed by a secretary and containing army, navy and air force units.

Russia's New Five Year Plan Will Strengthen Nation

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, April 16 (AP) — "Comrade Stalin has warned us that in the future peace-loving nations may be again taken unaware by aggression, unless of course they develop special measures capable of preventing aggression."

"We must not forget that monopolistic capitalism is capable of giving birth to new aggressors. For the prevention of new aggression, aggressive nations must be completely disarmed and submitted to military and economic control, and we must have in the United Nations a body which will stand guard over international peace and security and will be capable of defending peace and preventing new aggression.

"The fighting forces of the Soviet Union must be strengthened. We must constantly insure their equipment with the newest of modern weapons and we must insure the further strengthening of the military and economic potential of the Soviet state."

With these words Nikolai Voznesensky, chairman of Russia's State Planning Commission, recently introduced the Russian people to the demands which would be made upon them under the new five-year plan. He added, summarizing the entire objective:

"It is to rehabilitate our war ravaged regions, to restore industry and agriculture to prewar levels, then to surpass this level by a considerable extent."

Will Expand Industry

Task No. 1 under the new plan calls for restoration and development of heavy industry—iron, steel, fuel, electricity, machine tools, chemicals, timber and building materials.

Lehman Hits Way Food Is Handled

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP) — Herbert H. Lehman charged the government tonight with "faulty planning and unrealistic measures" to meet the world food crisis and called new for consumer rationing.

He also demanded immediate orders setting aside a certain percentage of grain for export even at the expense of some inequitable civilian distribution because "once this wheat gets onto the store shelves in the form of bread, it does not make much difference whether we decide to buy an extra loaf or not."

Peeling off the figurative gloves he wore as director-general of UNRRA until his resignation three weeks ago to speak "as an American" at a food mass meeting in Constitution hall, Lehman assailed the administration on two specific points:

1. "I entirely disagree with its attitude that the United States should commit only 1,000,000 tons of grain per month in order to meet the world crisis."

2. "And I strongly disagree with its views that the crisis will be over in ninety days. Such a policy is a gamble with the lives of millions of innocent war victims."

Rosenberg Testifies In His Own Behalf

NUERNBERG, April 16. (AP)—Nazi philosopher Alfred Rosenberg, concluding a day-long recital on the witness stand in his defense against war crimes charges, claimed today that the dictatorship in Germany was forced upon Adolf Hitler by wartime emergencies.

"I was in full agreement with Hitler that the fuehrer principle should not be one man rule but rule by a directorate or senate," Rosenberg testified before the International Military Tribunal.

"Concentration of power, I said, was a wartime phenomenon, but I never regarded Hitler as a tyrant."

Rosenberg fervently reaffirmed his faith in Hitler, terming himself "a German soldier who worked passionately for the welfare of his nation." His defense of his own administration as minister for eastern occupied territories was largely a succession of disavowals of blame for cruelties and atrocities. He professed general ignorance of concentration camp horrors and the extermination of Jews.

Bill Aimed at James C. Petrillo Is Signed by President Truman

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP) — A bill became law today aimed at James C. Petrillo, president of the AFL Musicians Union,—to "put him in his place," as the sponsor termed it.

President Truman signed the measure putting heavy penalties on the use of coercion against radio broadcasters. Opponents attacked it during House consideration as "anti-labor," "unconstitutional," and an abridgement of the right to strike.

"This bill is specifically designed to put in his place and cut down to size a man named James Ceasar Petrillo," Rep. Clarence Brown (R-Ohio) said during House debate.

Petrillo said in New York today he had no comment on the signing of the bill.

Charles Berry, national program director for the American Broadcasting Company, said: "We've naturally been watching it with interest. Now that it is the law we're taking it under advisement to see how it affects our operations."

Philip Carlin, vice president of the Mutual Broadcasting System in charge of programs, said: "I have no statement to make—the matter is being studied."

The other two of the four major networks, the Columbia Broadcasting System and the National Broadcasting Company, had nothing to say about the bill or its effect on their operations.

It provided penalties of up to one year's imprisonment and $1,000 fine for the use of force, threats or "other means" to compel radio stations to hire more employes than they want; pay money for services not performed; pay unions for the use of phonograph records; pay for broadcasting the record of a previous program.

Interference with the broadcasting of cultural or educational programs from other countries calls for the same penalties.

Chinese Communist Crack Troops Sweep into Manchurian Capital

CHUNGKING, April 16—(AP)—Chinese Communist troops cracked the government's outer defenses of Changchun today, swept into the Manchurian capital and raked the center of the city with heavy artillery fire, government dispatches declared.

(A Tokyo dispatch said Gen. Marshall, apparently in a dramatic bid to halt the battle, had cancelled plans to go to Shanghai and instead would fly direct from Tokyo to the Chinese Truce committee's headquarters at Peiping tomorrow. The special United States envoy is returning to China after a visit in Washington.)

The government's Central news agency reported from Mukden that Communist assault troops, armed with seized Japanese weapons, had smashed their way into Changchun after capturing the main air field in "heavy fighting" against out-numbered defenders.

In their sweep into the city, the dispatch added, the Communists destroyed the Fourteenth Area Air Command headquarters with heavy artillery fire and their shells were exploding deep inside the city.

Telephone communication between Mukden and Changchun was broken, however, and it was not clear whether the slim and lightly-armed garrison still held out in the slit trench and sand bag defenses in the heart of the city.

The Government's Northeast China command announced the United States-armed Chinese First Army had captured the Communist stronghold of Szepingkai, but that a relife column pushing up from the south still was sixty miles or more from the hard-pressed capital.

Faced with the prospect of the first major defeat in the Manchurian Civil war fighting—now virtually Civil war—the government was reported preparing to fly battle-seasoned troops to the side of the Changchun garrison, outnumbered ten to one.

Action in Iranian Case Put Off by Council; To Tackle Spanish Question

Government Will Not Let Prices Soar as Result Of Coal Strike

Bowles Says Prices Must Not Be above Stabilization Level after Settlement Is Made

WASHINGTON, April 16. (AP)—Economic Stabilizer Chester Bowles pledged today that the government will not allow a coal wage settlement to push prices above the stabilization level.

The Wage Stabilization Board will have to decide what part of any wage raise is to be considered in setting price ceilings and "we are not going beyond the amount approvable," Bowles told the Senate Banking committee.

"There will be no exceptions as far as we are concerned from the wage stabilization program" and "no round about methods," he said in response to questions by Senator Capehart (R-Ind).

The sixteen-day soft coal strike continued with no sign of a break in a week-long stalemate. Bowles observed that his office had no function to perform until after an agreement is reached.

Checks Wages, Prices

The administration's stabilization program is designed to keep a check on wages and prices. The wage board can disapprove any wage increase for pricing purposes which it considers unstabilizing generally, or does not conform to the wage pattern for an industry or an area.

Bowles volunteered that "a long coal strike would be a body blow to the United States."

Senator Bankhead (D-Ala), agreeing, said a long coal strike would be even worse than a long steel strike.

Bowles testified in urging extension of price control legislation a year beyond the June 30 expiration date.

Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach said the overall effect of the coal walkout is not yet critical.

The secretary said he would keep trying to break the deadlock. John L. Lewis, chief of the AFL United Mine Workers, has insisted that the operators agree to the principle of a tonnage levy for a health and welfare fund to be operated by the union, Schwellenbach said.

No Progress Made

Police Searching For Missing Heiress

SOUTH HADLEY, Mass., April 16 (AP)—Miss Dorothy Ball, 20, Muncie, Ind., heiress missing since early today from Mount Holyoke college, was sought tonight by police of eleven eastern states.

The girl, described as five foot nine, blond, weighing 135 pounds, is the daughter of E. Arthur Ball, vice president of the Ball Brothers Manufacturing company, of Muncie, manufacturers of glass canning jars.

Campus police were alerted at midnight last night when the girl failed to return to her room. Massachusetts State Police, who sent out a general alarm through eleven states, were notified of her disappearance early today.

A student reported that Miss Ball, wearing a fur coat, boarded a bus bound for nearby Holyoke last night, but investigation did not show whether she carried a suitcase.

Miss Ball, a junior at the college, is deaf and has a speech impediment, but reads lips expertly.

College authorities described her as well balanced, and a successful and popular student. She was treasurer of the student government association last year and in her freshman year won a prize as having the gretest creative writing talent in her class.

France, Poland, Russia Press for Consideration of Spain; Trygve Lie Makes Surprise Move

NEW YORK, April 16 (AP)—The United Nations Security Council decided today to tackle the controversial Spanish question tomorrow after a surprise move by Secretary-General Trygve Lie temporarily blocked action on Russia's attempt to close the Iranian case.

After a two-hour debate in which United States Delegate Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., intimated he believed Russia had exerted pressure to get Iran to withdraw her complaint, the council decided it could not take a vote on the Russian motion for at least two days.

It then adjourned until 3 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, tomorrow when it will take up Poland's charge that Franco Spain is threatening world peace—the only other matter on the agenda.

Lie unexpectedly entered the Iranian case by submitting a legal opinion, which in effect agreed with Russia's contention that the council had no right to keep the case on the agenda.

His opinion came as Russia apparently faced defeat, with eight of the council's eleven votes lined up against her and advocating that the question be kept on the agenda until May 6, the date on which Russia has promised to have all Red army troops out of Iran.

Lie contended that since Iran has withdrawn her complaint against Russia no dispute exists and said "it may well be" that there is no way the council can keep the case on the agenda under terms of the United Nations charter.

Chairman Quo Tai-Chi immediately referred his opinion to the council's committee of experts on rules and procedure with instructions that the committee report back to the council by Thursday.

Stettinius, opening today's resumed discussions on the Iranian case, expressed the view that Iran's withdrawal of her complaint against Russia would not prevent the council from keeping jurisdiction of the case.

"The council cannot ignore the fact," he declared, "that the sudden reversal of the Iranian government of the position which it has steadfastly maintained until yesterday occurred while Soviet troops were still physically in Iran."

He then reiterated his opposition to Russia's motion to expunge the Iranian case from the agenda.

"In the opinion of the United States government—and apparently of other members who spoke to this point yesterday—it would be unwise for the council to drop the Iranian matter from its agenda, in spite of the fact that the parties concerned have requested it to do so."

Gromyko then took the floor, declaring that the position of Stettinius was "quite illogical."

"I observe," he declared, "that the delegate from the United States sacrifices logic in order to prolong and inflate the so-called Iranian question."

Compulsory Health Insurance Indorsed By William Green

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP) — AFL President William Green indorsed compulsory health insurance legislation today and suggested that the senate labor committee investigate some opponents.

Green declared that some of the organizations "busily stirring up opposition to this bill" are "depending largely upon false and misleading slogans and expending huge amounts of money." He charged that misleading campaigns against the bill have been conducted by the National Physicians' Committee for the Extension of Medical Service and by the Association of American Physicians and Surgeons, Inc.

Replying to friendly questioning by Senator Morse (R-Ore), Green said he certainly did not consider it "socialistic" to provide medical care for the working people through an insurance system. Morse told him the measure frequently had been attacked on that basis.

CIO-PAC Reaffirms Its Belief In Policies of Late President

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP)—The CIO Political Action Committee, in a seventeen point program for 1946, today called indirectly for defeat of those Democrats and Republicans who, it says, have joined in a "coalition of reaction."

The CIO-PAC, reaffirming its belief in the Roosevelt economic and foreign policies, also urged the United Nations Security Council to take concerted action to "quarantine" Spain and Argentina, which it described as "centers of fascist infection."

It also urged immediate resumption of food rationing "to make American food available to the starving of other lands."

In a preamble, the committee called upon the people to measure the record of every candidate for office against the program it approved today, and to give their support to those whose records "carry the assurance that they will work with courage and vigor for its fulfillment." Likewise it called for opposition to "those who have forfeited the peoples' confidence by their failure to act in the peoples' interest."

As House Democrats planned a caucus tomorrow night to air complaints against Chairman Robert E. Hannegan and what Rep. Paul Stewart (D-Okla) called "too much CIO influence" at Democratic national headquarters, the CIO-PAC declared:

"The coalition of poll-tax Democrats and reactionary Republicans thwarts the peoples' program. It blocks the Roosevelt legislative proposals which are being carried forward by President Truman in his messages to the Congress.

"It threatens to cancel wage increases by price increases, leading to a disastrous inflation. It blocks action for adequate housing to veterans as well as workers, for a public health program, for adequate social security, for job and educational opportunities. It opposes jobs for all and refuses to subscribe to the principle of full employment—even as a goal toward which we should strive."

Ridgeley Legion Selects Delegate For Boys State

Richard Magruder, 15, son of Harold Magruder, Ridgeley, W. Va., was selected last night as the delegate to Boys State at Jaskson Mills, W. Va., to represent Knobley Mountain Post No. 136, American Legion of Ridgeley. Robert Maxson, 14, also of Ridgeley was chosen as alternate.

The Magruder boy's father is a veteran of World War II, a pilot in the Army Forces who was wounded in action over Germany. His grandfather, Frank Magruder, was one time mayor of Ridgeley. Both boys are students at Ridgeley high school.

At the meeting last night post members discussed the possibility of sponsoring both junior and senior baseball teams. It was decided to put teams on the field in both classes and Robert Zimmerman was named chairman of the senior ball team committee, with William McCullough, chairman of the junior ball team group.

Eugene Mulligan reported that plans for the clothing drive for Shipment to Greek refugees and needy are progressing and announcement of pick-up plans will be made in a few days.

Tugboat Gremlin Rescues Three Boys from Drowning

BALTIMORE, April 16—(AP)—The crew of the tugboat Gremlin rescued three boys from drowning today as they clung to a sinking rowboat in forty feet of water off Port Covington.

The boys, none of whom could swim, said they had started on a fishing trip down the Patapsco river this morning in the oarless rowboat.

First aid was administered on board the tug, and the youths were later treated for exposure at the South Baltimore General hospital.

Police identified them as Walter Hudson, twelve; Joseph Anthony, thirteen, and Norman Gallion, ten, all of Baltimore.

Pay Increases Are Won By Westinghouse Unions

BALTIMORE, April 16—(AP)—Pay increases of seventeen and one-half cents an hour were granted today to nearly 800 salaried employes of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation here, at the conclusion of negotiations between the company and the Federation of Westinghouse Independent Unions.

In a company statement announcing the increase, a Westinghouse official said the agreement affected 15,000 workers, including members of the association of salaried Westinghouse Workers in Baltimore, and was effective as of April 15.

Russia's New

In order to attain the claimed annual rate of production of pig [illegible] (18,500,000 tons) and steel (... 45,000,000 tons), Russia plans to build forty-five blast furnaces, 104 rolling mills and sixty-three coke batteries.

The plan calls for rebuilding of all damaged mills in the South, and construction of new ones. In the East—in the Urals and Siberia—great plants are to rise.

Far Eastern Siberia and the Transcaucasus will develop their own resources of iron ore.

Extraction of iron ore in the Shoria highlands is to be increased by 2,080,000 tons and large mines will be opened in the Kursk region of the Ukraine.

Plans call for reductions in the long hauls of raw materials—particularly the hauling of ore from the Urals to the Kuznetsky basin in Siberia.

Large areas are to be surveyed for future production.

The rate of copper output is to be increased 1.6 times, aluminum doubled, nickel increased 1.9 times, lead 2.6 times, zinc 2.5 times, tungsten 4.4 times, molybdenum concentrated 2.1 times and tin 2.7 times.

Russia hopes to be able to mine fifty-one per cent more coal than before the war.

A large scale development in gas production is planned, particularly in natural gases and in the processing of peat, coal and shale.

Two plants for the hydration of coal and one for the production of synthetic gasoline are planned.

During the period between now and the end of 1950 four oil refining plants will be built and sixteen oil refining installations constructed. Three oil refineries will be rehabilitated to supply oil products solely to the agricultural and industrial regions of the South.

The plan contemplates an annual motor vehicle production of 500,000 by 1950.

The production of synthetic rubber has doubled, automobile tires trebled and rubber footwear increased 1.3 times. At the end of the five year plan the share of rubber produced from non-food raw materials will be thirty-eight per cent of the total.

Building materials with an accent on housing and private homes for the workers in Russian industry are going to be stepped into high gear. Approximately 4,600,000 square meters of prefabricated houses are to be turned out annually. There will be major increases in the making of roofing, flooring, glass radiation and insulation, lumbering, alcohol and paper.

Government Will

fered to consider a joint fund administered by an independent agency, he added.

The government's special mediator in the coal case, Paul Fuller, spoke more than five hours today in private conversations with Lewis and other leaders of the union. Afterward, he told reporters he had made no progress in the dispute over establishing a union welfare and health fund.

Asked how soon the Labor department expected to have Lewis and the operators back in joint negotiations Fuller said no date had been set but that they will be resumed as soon as there is some basis on which to negotiate.

GAYER CARDS WELCOME MOST JOYOUS EASTER

WITH THE MOST JOYOUS EASTER the world has known since the prewar years set to dawn on next Sunday, the greeting card industry is offering appropriate Easter cards. Designs are more colorful; verses brighter, and even the ever-popular religious cards seem to reflect a note of spiritual rejoicing. Typical of this season's selection are the cards shown above.

Fire Chief Insists Building Code Still Being Violated

Failing to indicate what action he plans, but insisting "there will be a story in it," Fire Chief Reid C. Hoenicka continued yesterday to claim the city code is being violated in connection with construction at the Woodmen of the World building, Union street.

Hoenicka complained to the mayor and council a couple of weeks ago, saying there are inadequate windows in the structure and contending that the building code is violated. Council at that time stopped work on the building and a conference was held, at which it was decided there was no violation.

S. Russ Minter, architect, designed the structure along the most modern lines, Ralph L. Rizer, city engineer says, and the permit was issued in accordance with the code. Rizer states the building complies with necessary regulations and specifications, and is one of the most modern structures of its kind here.

Charles Z. Heskett, city solicitor, asked by council to investigate and rule on Hoenicka's complaint, told council and the fire chief Monday that the code is not being violated and the building is apparently being constructed in a safe and satisfactory manner.

Hoenicka lists several sections of the code in his statement and contends six sections of the code are being violated.

DEATHS

Mrs. Amanda Belle Pownall 87, a native of Romney, W. Va., died Sunday at the home of her daughter in Osceala, Iowa. She was a daughter of the late John and Eliza Shaw Pownall and went to Iowa about forty years ago. Her husband, James W. Pownall, died several years ago.

the United States Senate spot or for the Fourth congressional district nomination. He has filed for both and must withdraw one of the candidates.

As the various candidates prepared to get down to the serious business of campaigns, Tawes was expected to name a campaign manager soon. All the contenders were scheduled to announce shortly their overall schedules.

In addition to statewide and congressional seats, nominations for county offices, various judgeships and the general assembly will be at stake June 24.

The ballots are expected to be so large that some election supervisors already have predicted that it will take them a full day or more to count results.

However, the final outcome will be known much more quickly than in 1938 because of changes in the election laws. Now only a plurality of votes in the nominating convention is needed to win. In 1938, a majority was necessary and the tabulation was complicated by the first and second choice systems.

Votes in the nominating convention are allotted according to representation in the general assembly.

Functions of Zoning Board Discussed

The board of zoning appeals will hand down opinions regarding building and occupancy applications only at regular sessions, and individual board members cannot give opinions at other times, J. E. Wetzel, chairman, pointed out last night at a special meeting of the board.

Wetzel said that the meeting was called so that board members could familiarize themselves with the special functions of the group as outlined in the zoning ordinance, and pointed out that the board is empowered to use discretion in certain cases, whereas the city engineer must be guided by fixed zoning rules.

The chairman emphasized that the board cannot act in an advisory capacity to persons who wish to know whether or not they can obtain building or occupancy permits, but can only state whether or not the applications are to be granted. This involves inspection of the premises and hearing testimony of applicants at regular sessions, he added.

Wetzel urged all persons who are not familiar with the zoning ordinance to obtain copies at the city engineer's office in city hall.

Russia's New

In order to attain the desired annual rate of production of pig iron (19,500,000 tons) and steel (25,000,000 tons), Russia plans to build forty-five blast furnaces, 104 rolling mills and sixty-three coke batteries.

The plan calls for rebuilding of all damaged mills in the South, and construction of new ones. In the East—in the Urals and Siberia—great plants are to rise.

Far Eastern Siberia and the Transcaucasus will develop their own resources of iron ore.

Extraction of iron ore in the Shoria highlands is to be increased by 2,000,000 tons and large mines will be opened in the Kursk region of the Ukraine.

Plans call for reductions in the long hauls of raw materials—particularly the hauling of ore from the Urals to the Kuznetsky basin in Siberia.

Large areas are to be surveyed for future production.

The rate of copper output is to be increased 1.6 times, aluminum doubled, nickel increased 1.9 times, lead 2.6 times, zinc 2.5 times, tungsten 4.4 times, molybdenum concentrated 2.1 times and tin 2.7 times.

Russia hopes to be able to mine fifty-one per cent more coal than before the war.

A large scale development in gas production is planned, particularly in natural gases and in the processing of peat, coal and shale.

Two plants for the hydration of coal and one for the production of synthetic gasoline are planned.

During the period between now and the end of 1950 four oil refining plants will be built and sixteen oil refining installations constructed. Three oil refineries will be rehabilitated to supply oil products solely to the agricultural and industrial regions of the South.

The plan contemplates an annual motor vehicle production of 500,000 by 1950.

The production of synthetic rubber has doubled, automobile tires trebled and rubber footwear increased 1.3 times. At the end of the five year plan the share of rubber produced from non-food raw materials will be thirty-eight per cent of the total.

Building materials with an accent on housing and private homes for the workers in Russian industry are going to be stepped into high gear. Approximately 4,600,000 square meters of prefabricated houses are to be turned out annually. There will be major increases in the making of roofing, flooring, glass radiation and insulation, lumbering, alcohol and paper.

Fire Chief Insists Building Code Still Being Violated

Failing to indicate what action he plans, but insisting "there will be a story in it," Fire Chief Reid C. Hoenicka continued yesterday to claim the city code is being violated in connection with construction at the Woodmen of the World building, Union street.

Hoenicka complained to the mayor and council a couple of weeks ago, saying there are inadequate windows in the structure and contending that the building code is violated. Council at that time stopped work on the building and a conference was held, at which it was decided there was no violation.

S. Russ Minter, architect, designed the structure along the most modern lines, Ralph L. Rizer, city engineer says, and the permit was issued in accordance with the code. Rizer states the building complies with necessary regulations and specifications, and is one of the most modern structures of its kind here.

Charles Z. Heskett, city solicitor, asked by council to investigate and rule on Hoenicka's complaint, told council and the fire chief Monday that the code is not being violated and the building is apparently being constructed in a safe and satisfactory manner.

Hoenicka lists several sections of the code in his statement and contends six sections of the code are being violated.

the United States Senate spot or for the Fourth congressional district nomination. He has filed for both and must withdraw one of the candidates.

As the various candidates prepared to get down to the serious business of campaigns, Tawes was expected to name a campaign manager soon. All the contenders were scheduled to announce shortly their overall schedules.

In addition to statewide and congressional seats, nominations for county offices, various judgeships and the general assembly will be at stake June 24.

The ballots are expected to be so large that some election supervisors already have predicted that it will take them a full day or more to count results.

However, the final outcome will be known much more quickly than in 1938 because of changes in the election laws. Now only a plurality of votes in the nominating convention is needed to win. In 1938, a majority was necessary and the tabulation was complicated by the first and second choice systems.

Votes in the nominating convention are allotted according to representation in the general assembly.

Functions of Zoning Board Discussed

The board of zoning appeals will hand down opinions regarding building and occupancy applications only at regular sessions, and individual board members cannot give opinions at other times, J. E. Weizel, chairman, pointed out last night at a special meeting of the board.

Weizel said that the meeting was called so that board members could familiarize themselves with the special functions of the group as outlined in the zoning ordinance, and pointed out that the board is empowered to use discretion in certain cases, whereas the city engineer must be guided by fixed zoning rules.

The chairman emphasized that the board cannot act in an advisory capacity to persons who wish to know whether or not they can obtain building or occupancy permits, but can only state whether or not the applications are to be granted. This involves inspection of the premises and hearing testimony of applicants at regular sessions, he added.

Weizel urged all persons who are not familiar with the zoning ordinance to obtain copies at the city engineer's office in city hall.

FOUR ARE INJURED WHEN CAR HITS POLE ON MARYLAND AVENUE

Four persons were injured, one of them seriously, yesterday morning at 12:30 o'clock when the car in which they were riding on Maryland avenue struck a telephone pole, careened across the sidewalk and dropped over a ten-foot wall near the Oldtown road intersection.

Injured in the crash was Troy W. Beal, 21, Ellerslie, who was admitted to Memorial hospital for observation and treatment of brush burns of the face and a lacerated lower lip. His condition was reported "fairly good" last evening.

Dorothy Dicken, 19, 419 Maryland avenue, another passenger, was treated in the same hospital for brush burns of the left leg and over the left eye, as was Roy Mason, 24, Ellerslie, who was treated today at 10:30 a. m. for brush burns of the lower lip.

Bagley told police he left the scene of the crash to go to the hospital and inquire about the injured persons and later went home.

Lt. James E. Van, who heard the crash while waiting for a bus at Oldtown road, said Bagley's 1936 Oldsmobile, traveling south, broke off the pole near its base and landed on its top in the field below the wall. The car had to be righted before the injured could be released, police said.

Grocers Favor Retaining OPA Provided Fair Price Policy Is Adopted

A resolution in favor of retaining the Office of Price Administration for nine months, provided that OPA adopts a fair price policy that will encourage production of "merchandise Americans want and need," was passed unanimously yesterday evening at the monthly meeting of the Independent Retail Food Dealers Association of Western Maryland, held at Central YMCA.

Other recommendations made in the resolution were to "eliminate subsidies that require our children to pay for the food we eat," and to adjust policies "that retain and encourage regular business practices and customs rather than discourage them."

Charles Roloson, candidate for state comptroller, attended the meeting and was introduced by Joseph G. Jackson, secretary.

Allegany county's retail spending during 1945, amounted to $608 average per resident, or $58 above the nationwide per capita rate, according to a survey published in a recent issue of Printers Ink.

The data presented covers all forty-eight states and is based upon a report from the United States Department of Commerce.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 17

"WITH YOU;" "With desire I have desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer." Luke 22:15. Read Luke 22:7-17.

Dr. Atkins

The church has ever since that passover night treasured and interpreted what was said and done in that upper room. They have made theologies and sacraments of it, high altars and plain communion tables. What else Jesus said may belong to theology, but these words belong to the human heart. They are tremulous with longing, burdened with memory, glowing with love.

They make a sacrament of family intimacies, of shared experiences, of meetings and partings. "With you out of all the world, with you before I go, with you—before you go." They consecrate with their divine tenderness the last family meal before he goes, before she goes. They institute sacraments of memory and love. They hallow bonds which absence cannot break. They are the heartache of Jesus sharing all heartaches You cannot make a theology of them. But the heart knows—"with you before I suffer."

PRAYER; Lord of tenderness and love, who knew the pain and cost of human partings, grant thy grace and help to all who say goodbye and light all farewells with the assurance that no partings are forever. Amen.

"WITH YOU;" "With desire I have desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer." Luke 22:15. Read Luke 22:7-17.

Dr. Atkins

The church has ever since that passover night treasured and interpreted what was said and done in that upper room. They have made theologies and sacraments of it, high altars and plain communion tables. What else Jesus said may belong to theology, but these words belong to the human heart. They are tremulous with longing, burdened with memory, glowing with love.

They make a sacrament of family intimacies, of shared experiences, of meetings and partings. "With you out of all the world, with you before I go, with you—before you go." They consecrate with their divine tenderness the last family meal before he goes, before she goes. They institute sacraments of memory and love. They hallow bonds which absence cannot break. They are the heartache of Jesus sharing all heartaches. You cannot make a theology of them. But the heart knows—"with you before I suffer."

PRAYER: Lord of tenderness and love, who knew the pain and cost of human partings, grant thy grace and help to all who say goodbye and light all farewells with the assurance that no partings are forever. Amen.

The Republican Liberalism of 1946

REPUBLICANS JOURNALS in general are commending the emphasis that is being placed upon the liberal course of their party by B. Carroll Reece, the new party chairman, which is something this newspaper has long stressed and further popular appreciation of which it has sensed as necessary in the face of the deceptive propaganda on the subject circulated by Democratic headquarters.

This emphasis, in the opinion of the New York Herald Tribune," is encouraging. "The word has long been a rallying cry for the best element in American politics," it says. "There was once a liberal Republican party, composed of former Republicans not in accord with President Grant's first administration, that in 1872 nominated Horace Greeley for president and B. Gratz Brown for vice president. The ticket was indorsed by the Democrats but failed of election.

"By its very nature liberalism does not stand still. In Greeley's day it meant a healthy discontent with postwar corruption and the reconstruction failures of President Grant; at the turn of the century Theodore Roosevelt, Lincoln Steffens, Ida Tarbell and, a little later, Bob La Follette were liberals concerned about monopoies, special privilege, abuses of big business and political graft."

But the "Herald Tribune" points out that liberalism today goes beyond the old political meanings. "The liberal of 1946," it explains, "believes the people should run their government but his thinking does not stop there. The liberal of 1946 makes use of his vision, his freedom from orthodox tenets, to consider a world in which governments shall co-operate, and men live and work in peace."

Exactly so. By enlarging this political liberalism, it says, Mr. Reece is in a position to render the Republican party a great service, and that is the belief of this newspaper, which also believes that Mr. Reece will take due advantage of the opportunity, which, indeed, is already starting to do in excellent manner.

Healthful Signs For the Primary

SINCE candidates who have filed for various state and local offices to be filled at the November election have a five-day period in which to withdraw, and since there is likelihood that there will be some of these before the final deadline, it is too early to evaluate the listings.

But there are some healthful signs about the listings. One is that there are more than usual, thus giving the electorate a wider opportunity to pick and choose from various fields. This is an improvement over a situation that has formerly obtained in some quarters wherein discriminative choice was more limited through apathy and negligance.

Another is the evidence of a greater interest in the filling of the various offices in county, district and state, both with respect to the increased number of candidates and the evident belief of the people in general that the filling of public offices is of more than routine concern now, which is quite true considering present conditions.

Another, from the Republican angle, is that on the whole there will be less factional fighting than what appears assured for their opponents on the other side of the political fence, with the prospect that such as is now in sight will be reduced by the time of the final deadline. This is salutary in consideration of the normal political lineup in the state as a whole. There will be some, of course, on both sides, but this is perhaps just as well to the end that the ruckus will result in sharply defined issues and increased opportunity for individual measurements for the voters after the primary.

The Red Cross Makes A Sensible Decision

THE CENTRAL COMMITTEE of the American Red Cross has done the sensible thing in bringing about a mutual agreement not to renew its wartime fund-raising agreement between the organization and the CIO and the AFL, which expires April 30.

A statement issued by the Red Cross chairman, Basil O'Connor, explained that "the purpose of this understanding, which was inaugurated in 1942 and renewed annually during World War II, was to develop greater co-operation in the year-round activities of the Red Cross, including its fund-raising campaigns. The arrangement has resulted in greatly increased participation in Red Cross affairs by the members of organized labor."

Nevertheless, the arrangement was bad, not only because it aroused a storm of protest over the country but also because it was wrong in principle and concerned only two groups and excluded other like groups. Through the arrangement the two labor unions were allowed something like half a million dollars for "expenses" in the fund-raising program.

That arrangement should never have been made because the Red Cross, greatest of all humanitarian agencies, should never have to make any special arrangement with any labor, industrial, sectarian, political, racial, religious or class groups; because it should appeal to all merely as Americans and jealously guard its voluntary character; because to reimburse any group for co-operation expenses is destructive, divisional and wrong; because such repayments violate the Red Cross voluntary spirit which no increase in collections can compensate; and because, as one newspaper, the "Beloit News," of Wisconsin, aptly said "there is no more reason the contributions of union members should be segregated so as to give special credit than there is to separate the contributions of Methodist, Catholics, Protestants, Jews, the Federation of Women's Clubs, or other groups."

It is significant that other large labor groups, including the railroad brotherhoods and the United Mine Workers, would have nothing to do with such an arrangement and that their memberships continued to cooperate with the objectives of the Red Cross on a voluntary basis the same as the average citizen.

Now that the arrangement has been ended, the multitude of critics will be satisfied and the Red Cross will resume its status of a voluntary co-operative organization, which it should remain, and it is hoped the experience will prove a good lesson for its management in the future.

Bureaucracy Moves On Butter at Last

THE BUREAUCRATS at Washington have at last belatedly moved to do something about the butter shortage situation. The stabilization director, Chester Bowles, has announced a revision of the dairy subsidy program with the avowed purpose of increasing the butter output and holding off a price increase in milk, butter and cheese. He has issued an order banning the sale of whipping cream and puts price ceilings for the first time on cream which goes into manufactured products, such as ice cream and bakery goods.

The details of the butterfat restrictions and the new cream ruling will be issued later; but they are designed to overcome a situation that made it more profitable to use butterfat for other goods than for butter. In effort to keep prices of milk, butter, cheese and other dairy products at their present levels, the OPA will pay higher subsidies to farmers—a questionable expedient but probably necessary in the circumstances since there are such subsidies—instead of granting higher prices for which they have been clamoring. Additional increases are contemplated, but Bowles says this will depend on congressional action.

The large part of the butter difficulty has been that there has been a ceiling on butter but no ceiling on butterfat. The butter manufacturer, quite naturally, has been buying what butter he could at a price that will give him a margin of profit and the remainder has gone to those who use butterfat in manufacturing where no ceiling has been involved.

The corrective action should have been taken long since, and why it was not is somewhat of a mystery, but bureaucracy moves laggardly its wonders to perform. It is to be hoped that the Bowles order will result in getting some butter to the tables of the nation.

Different Draft Bill by Senate Is Seen Likely

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Out of the maneuvering of the political folks on Capitol Hill may come a law extending the Selective Service system, but it will not resemble the one passed by the House.

The members of the House got themselves recorded as in favor of the extension of the draft, but they were voting on a bill that was already weakened by amendments and did not represent what either the president or the War department wanted in order to insure an adequate military force in the interim period between the present and the hoped-for days of normalcy.

The Senate does not have all of its members up for re-election this autumn—only one-third will face the voters at the polls—so there's a chance that the upper house will endeavor to give the War department what it seeks.

The House not only eliminated the drafting of boys between 18 and 20 but held up all inductions until October 15. Now the War department is trying to get its quota by means of the volunteer system and does not object to the tieing of the two things together—namely, that the draft shall operate only when volunteers do not come forth in an adequate supply.

Difficult Elements Introduced

But when the House changes the draft ages so that all below 20 years of age are exempt, it introduces a difficult element into the situation for the War department. Presumably all the able-bodied above 20 have already been in service or have beed deferred because of physical defects. Only a small numer of able-bodied young men of 20 or more years of age were deferred for occupational reasons.

So the House has taken away the most important aid sought by the War department and by the navy too, for that matter. It is that the inducement to the 18-year-olds to volunteer shall not be removed. Many of these boys, feeling that they would sooner or later be drafted anyway, have volunteered. By flatly banning any induction of boys below 20, the militar services lost their leverage on this age group. Very few of 20 and above will be volunteering and only those who have been in essential jobs will be subject to the draft when October 15 comes if the volunteer system, between now and autumn, has failed to provide the necessary quota.

Eisenhower Is Frank

Gen. Eisenhower, who has tried very hard to persuade Congress to give him a minimum number of soldiers to meet the army's goal of 1,070,000 by July 1, 1947, is popular on Capitol Hill and he is known to speak frankly about the army's needs. There is no padding in his figures or estimates. But when election stares members in the face, they feel they cannot follow even Eisenhower.

Now this is not altogether what it appears to be on the surface at all—a mere concession to political influence. It is really a fear that the mothers of the boys will not understand the draft problem and will punish at the polls the members who vote to induct the 18-year-olds. This matter of the 'teen-age boys has been a serious one for the members of Congress.

There is something lacking in our democratic system. It is that the needs of the army and navy for 18-year-old inductees has never been so comprehensively explained as to enable a member of Congress to vote for such a step without fear of losing support at home.

Conference Device Likely

In order to keep the public from punishing the members of the House, a device frequently used in legislation will doubtless be brought forward. The Senate will pass a bill that differs from the House measure. The bill will then go to a conference committee of both houses. There the legislation really will be written. Out of this conference will come a measure which probably will compromise as between the ages 18 and 20 or else will include the 18 to 20-year group but at a date beyond October 15.

Anyway, when the measure becomes law, it will have been voted on by voice vote. Even if there is a record vote, it will be difficult for members to vote against a "conference report," for then it is all or nothing. Either the bill is accepted as the conference committee changed it or there is no legislation. The members could not afford to take the responsibility of voting so that there would be no extension, because the president could insist on holding in service fathers and others with long service. For one thing is clear—the army and navy cannot be disbanded even if there is a congressional election this year. In the end a bill that satisfies the needs of the military services must be passed.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Russia, Bucking Strong American Public Opinion, Favors Geneva as U. N. Capital

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Inside reason why the Russians are pulling wires to have the capital of the United Nations moved back to sleepy Geneva is that American public opinion has been too powerful a champion of the smaller nations.

So the Russians have been working behind the scenes to corral votes in favor of the Geneva transfer and can count on Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Poland and France. However, they can't count on the British, who once favored a European capital, but now are 100 per cent sold that American opinion is one of their best allies.

The Russians also can't count on the Latin Americans. In the old days, Pan-American diplomats loved lolling in Paris most of the time and turning up in Geneva a few days of the week. Today, however, Paris is one of the most uncomfortable places in the world, Geneva is short of food, and New York is far more pleasurable.

The Russians, who originally favored an American city as the United Nations capital, now consider this a serious mistake. They dislike the fact that American newspapers publish columns and columns of front-page news on every move made by the Russians, and they figure that American newsmen at Geneva would sit dowsily in the Swiss cafes drinking beer, or spend weekends in the Swiss Alps.

In Europe, they also believe, no photographer or newspaper would have the energy to trail Ambassador Gromyko on his famous and circuitous trip around New York city when he almost stopped in at the Security council meeting, but didn't.

If the Iranian question had been discussed at Geneva, instead of New York, the Russians figure, it never would have attracted so much attention and the Soviet would have come off with a complete victory.

American Inhospitality

The Russians have one excellent talking point to bolster their argument, inadvertently handed them by residents of Connecticut and New York city—the inhospitality of some Americans.

The howls of protest which went up from Connecticut citizens was like a dash of cold water in the face of United Nations delegates and gave the Russians a heaven-sent talking point in favor of Geneva. Likewise the inhospitality of George N. Shuter, president of Hunter College, has played right into Russian hands. Prior to United Nations occupation, President Shuster had not been using his buildings for some time, but despite that, he has been moaning and groaning that he wants them back in order to set up a housekeeping department for his lady students, apparently not realizing that if United Nations fails to keep the peace of the world, his lady students will have little opportunity to keep house.

Remarked one disillusioned United Nations delegate: "New Yorkers don't seem to realize that war inconveniences people. To some extent, so does peace."

Jews in Germany

Kindly, mild-mannered Ben Cohen, counsel of the State department, was approached by a delegation of American Jewish leaders to ask his help for more than 100,000 Jewish refugees in Germany who are still unable to find permanent homes. They wanted Cohen to help them migrate to the United States and other countries.

Cohen expressed his great sympathy, but said: "I can not do it because I can't use my position for any personal cause. It should diminish my effectiveness on other matters."

The Jewish delegation replied: "Can you think of anything more effective than to rescue 100,000 hapless Jews in Europe?"

Cohen, however, refused to budge.

Note—Chief difficulty regarding the future of Jews in Germany is that Hitler hatred was so deeply instilled, and during a period many years to come the life of a Jew in Germany would be almost unbearable.

No Army Race Prejudice

A negro former master sergeant in the army, Marion F. Green, testified before Gen. Doolittle's "caste system" board the other day, that there was little evidence of racial prejudices and other discrimination in the army. When Gen. Doolittle inquired about this, Sgt. Green replied:

"Colored soldiers found some resentment against them when they first joined the army, but this was quickly ironed out after a few months of training. In February, 1941, we had some fights and riots while I was stationed at Camp Livingston, Louisiana. However, by the time we finished training, everybody was getting alone fine. I encountered no racial bias whatever overseas."

The ex-GI also suggested that saluting of officers be optional when enlisted men are off duty and off the post, to which Lt. Gen. Troy Middleton, now an executive of Louisiana State university, countered: "Wouldn't optional saluting such as you propose tend to tear down discipline?"

"Not necessarily, General," replied Green. "If a man does something to merit respect, he will get that respect whether he is a civilian or an army officer."

The Nylon Lobby

Many congressmen will vote against dynamic Speaker Sam Rayburn in a secret committee session, but don't have the nerve to stand up and oppose him on the floor of the House. Very soon, however, Democrats who have fallen for the beguiling promises of the giant power lobby are going to face the latter test.

Sam Rayburn really has fire in his eye when he talks about the power lobby. And today that lobby ranks with the real estate buttonholers as one of the most potent on Capitol Hill, has even gone to the extent of dangling nylons before the wives of congressmen in order to win votes against the government's southwest power authority in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Southern Missouri.

The question at issue is whether the government can construct its own electric lines to distribute electric power from the Denison dam on the Texas-Oklahoma border and the Norfolk, Ark., dam. Without such power lines, the government merely generates the power but can't sell it. The power lobby wants to prevent this sale.

So far, the power lobby's technique has been successful with the Appropriations subcommittee, which knifed construction of the distributing lines. Congressmen Ben Jensen, of Iowa; Henry Dworshak, of Idaho; Robert Jones, of Ohio, and W. F. Norrell, of Arkansas, were the gentlemen reported to have fallen for the wiles of the lobby.

However, when the bill comes out on the floor of Congress, Sam Rayburn, together with the dean of Congress, Adolph Sabath, of Illinois, and Charles Savage, of Washington, plans to stage a real battle.

It will be interesting to see whether Rayburn's Democratic friends vote in public as some of them did in secret.

The Power Of Purpose

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

Nothing is so tragic as an aimless life, just living, from day to day, without plan or purpose. The happiest people I know do not complain, but only express the desire that days might be longer, so that they might put more into them!

Living for oneself alone is about as lonely a life as one can live. And it is always an unsatisfactory life. Such people are bored a great deal of the time, and they wonder why those with an aim and purpose won't join them.

I have quoted many times that saying of Cecil Rhodes, the "Empire Builder," in South Africa, who stated while dying, "so much to do, so little done." Busy, purposeful people never lack for something useful to do. All days are far too short. Their minds radiate. They wear fighting fingers. Their bodies are tireless. Happy deeds keep them warm in heart.

The Power of Purpose, that has steamed through the minds and hearts of the great of this earth, has left to the world a heritage that is priceless. The purpose of the pioneer, the discoverer, the inventor, the scientist, and the humanitarian is what has given to us all our present day comforts, enjoyments and faith in the future. Are we to allow these benefits to wilt away under the evil plans and purposes of those who would destroy all this through another suicidal war?

The high purpose of freedom and independence, that motivated those who came to this Western world, and made it a welcome place for the depressed and ill-ruled of other lands, should not now be thrust aside, by any of us—their benefactors. Each one of us is an individual inheritor of this freedom and independence, and we are privileged to carry it on with the same high purpose of those who gave it to us.

The Power of Purpose is essential in all activities of the indivudual or national life. Without it, we would travel backward, instead of forward. It's a spiritual quality, linked to the divine in man. Everything useful has its incention through the Power of Purpose.

Washington Hoopla Needs Examination, Pettengill Says

By SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL

In the bad old days, if you had good teeth, and were leery of strangers, you bit every silver dollar offered you in trade. Or, if you had store teeth, or none, you tossed the buckeroo on the table and listened to its ring, if any. Then you looked into the horse's mouth and examined his legs for spavin.

You have to do the same, my friends, with the cheeric and hotcha coming out of Washington. To illustrate: the solemn assurance that no secret deals had been or would be made with foreign powers; the Atlantic Charter and our betrayal of Poland; the concealment of rising prices through subsidies; the pretense that we were trying to keep out of war with Japan when, as now admitted by Secretary Stimson, "the question was how we should maneuver them into firing the first shot," etc. Eternal vigilance, with respect to officialdom, is the only price of liberty.

Bucket of Suds

Mr. Snyder of O.W.M.R., and President Truman have given us the bully news that civilian production is running at the rate of $150 billions a year, or "higher than ever before in history." This was to sell you on the notion that O.P.A. is not holding down production of houses, suits, shorts or shirts.

This bucket of suds has been spilled over the land and, a usual, Boobus Americanus has lapped it up, as he did Henry Wallace's hoop-la last fall that wages could be raised twenty-four per cent without increasing prices.

But if you are reluctant to be adopted, permanently, by the Boobus Branch of genus homo, let us take these figures apart and explore the ticking thereof.

Two Important Offsets

The figures, please note, are in dollars and not goods. But you can't use dollar bills for wall-board, and statistics are a poor substitute for shorts. Comparing today's rosy figures with 1939, the previous peace-time peak year under the New Deal, we have two important offsets; rising population and rising prices. Since 1939 we have grown about 6,000,000 more folks who crave wall-board and butter. The wholesale price index for all commodities is now 107. In 1939 it was seventy-seven. At wholesale prices, this means that in 1939 you could buy for $77 the same quantity of everything combined which now costs $107. In other words, $100 even at white market prices today is no bigger than $72 was in 1939.

Taking account of increased population and prices, we find that, per capita, $150 billion dollars worth of civilian goods in 1946 are no more goods than $103 billion dollars worth in 1939. So you see how misleading the administration's figures are. They remind you of the official ballyhoo of the stock market back in the old permanent plateau days.

Even Boobus Americanis should grasp the fact that it would be easy to turn the $150 billion present production into $300 billion before the election next November. Simply cut every dollar bill in two, and stamp each half thereof "One Dollar." Then you would have $300 billion dollars worth of goods, "higher than ever before in history." But would you have any more butter or beef?

Very Low Base Used

Now, this doesn't mean that we are not actually producing more goods in 1946 than in 1939, despite the shortages. We are, and to that extent, the oh-be-joyful is correct. But again, 1939 was nothing to brag about compared with what it could have been if constant government harassment of business and National Labor Relations Board tyrannies had not kept the brakes on. In 1939, ten years after the crash, we still had over 9,000,000 out of work, or seventeen percent of the labor force.

So, putting the best face on the figures to which they are entitled, the administration is comparing 1946 with a very low base. This is like the farmer who said his poultry had increased 100 percent. He had an old hen, and now she has hatched one chick! You used to get a haircut for two bits. Now you pay seventy-five cents and up. After that the government gives you a shampoo and massage!

The Republican Liberalism of 1946

REPUBLICANS JOURNALS in general are commending the emphasis that is being placed upon the liberal course of their party by B. Carroll Reece, the new party chairman, which is something this newspaper has long stressed and further popular appreciation of which it has sensed as necessary in the face of the deceptive propaganda on the subject circulated by Democratic headquarters.

This emphasis, in the opinion of the New York Herald Tribune," is encouraging. "The word has long been a rallying cry for the best element in American politics," it says. "There was once a liberal Republican party, composed of former Republicans not in accord with President Grant's first administration, that in 1872 nominated Horace Greeley for president and B. Gratz Brown for vice president. The ticket was indorsed by the Democrats but failed of election.

"By its very nature liberalism does not stand still. In Greeley's day it meant a healthy discontent with postwar corruption and the reconstruction failures of President Grant; at the turn of the century Theodore Roosevelt, Lincoln Steffens, Ida Tarbell and, a little later, Bob La Follette were liberals concerned about monopolies, special privilege, abuses of big business and political graft."

But the "Herald Tribune" points out that liberalism today goes beyond the old political meanings. "The liberal of 1946," it explains, "believes the people should run their government but his thinking does not stop there. The liberal of 1946 makes use of his vision, his freedom from orthodox tenets, to consider a world in which governments shall co-operate, and men live and work in peace."

Exactly so. By enlarging this political liberalism, it says, Mr. Reece is in a position to render the Republican party a great service, and that is the belief of this newspaper, which also believes that Mr. Reece will take due advantage of the opportunity, which, indeed, is already starting to do in excellent manner.

Healthful Signs For the Primary

SINCE candidates who have filed for various state and local offices to be filled at the November election have a five-day period in which to withdraw, and since there is likelihood that there will be some of these before the final deadline, it is too early to evaluate the listings.

But there are some healthful signs about the listings. One is that there are more than usual, thus giving the electorate a wider opportunity to pick and choose from various fields. This is an improvement over a situation that has formerly obtained in some quarters wherein discriminative choice was more limited through apathy and negligence.

Another is the evidence of a greater interest in the filling of the various offices in county, district and state, both with respect to the increased number of candidates and the evident belief of the people in general that the filling of public offices is of more than routine concern now, which is quite true considering present conditions.

Another, from the Republican angle, is that on the whole there will be less factional fighting than what appears assured for their opponents on the other side of the political fence, with the prospect that such as is now in sight will be reduced by the time of the final deadline. This is salutary in consideration of the normal political lineup in the state as a whole. There will be some, of course, on both sides, but this is perhaps just as well to the end that the ruckus will result in sharply defined issues and increased opportunity for individual measurements for the voters after the primary.

The Red Cross Makes A Sensible Decision

THE CENTRAL COMMITTEE of the American Red Cross has done the sensible thing in bringing about a mutual agreement not to renew its wartime fund-raising agreement between the organization and the CIO and the AFL, which expires April 30.

A statement issued by the Red Cross chairman, Basil O'Connor, explained that "the purpose of this understanding, which was inaugurated in 1942 and renewed annually during World War II, was to develop greater co-operation in the year-round activities of the Red Cross, including its fund-raising campaigns. The arrangement has resulted in greatly increased participation in Red Cross affairs by the members of organized labor."

Nevertheless, the arrangement was bad, not only because it aroused a storm of protest over the country but also because it was wrong in principle and concerned only two groups and excluded other like groups. Through the arrangement the two labor unions were allowed something like half a million dollars for "expenses" in the fund-raising program.

That arrangement should never have been made because the Red Cross, greatest of all humanitarian agencies, should never have to make any special arrangement with any labor, industrial, sectarian, political, racial, religious or class groups; because it should appeal to all merely as Americans and jealously guard its voluntary character; because to reimburse any group for co-operation expenses is destructive, divisional and wrong; because such repayments violate the Red Cross voluntary spirit which no increase in collections can compensate; and because, as one newspaper, the "Beloit News," of Wisconsin, aptly said "there is no more reason the contributions of union members should be segregated so as to give special credit than there is to separate the contributions of Methodist, Catholics, Protestants, Jews, the Federation of Women's Clubs, or other groups."

It is significant that other large labor groups, including the railroad brotherhoods and the United Mine Workers, would have nothing to do with such an arrangement and that their memberships continued to cooperate with the objectives of the Red Cross on a voluntary basis the same as the average citizen.

Now that the arrangement has been ended, the multitude of critics will be satisfied and the Red Cross will resume its status of a voluntary co-operative organization, which it should remain, and it is hoped the experience will prove a good lesson for its management in the future.

Bureaucracy Moves On Butter at Last

THE BUREAUCRATS at Washington have at last belatedly moved to do something about the butter shortage situation. The stabilization director, Chester Bowles, has announced a revision of the dairy subsidy program with the avowed purpose of increasing the butter output and holding off a price increase in milk, butter and cheese. He has issued an order banning the sale of whipping cream and puts price ceilings for the first time on cream which goes into manufactured products, such as ice cream and bakery goods.

The details of the butterfat restrictions and the new cream ruling will be issued later; but they are designed to overcome a situation that made it more profitable to use butterfat for other goods than for butter. In effort to keep prices of milk, butter, cheese and other dairy products at their present levels, the OPA will pay higher subsidies to farmers—a questionable expedient but probably necessary in the circumstances since there are such subsidies—instead of granting higher prices for which they have been clamoring. Additional increases are contemplated, but Bowles says this will depend on congressional action.

The large part of the butter difficulty has been that there has been a ceiling on butter but no ceiling on butterfat. The butter manufacturer, quite naturally, has been buying what butter he could at a price that will give him a margin of profit and the remainder has gone to those who use butterfat in manufacturing where no ceiling has been involved.

The corrective action should have been taken long since, and why it was not is somewhat of a mystery, but bureaucracy moves laggardly its wonders to perform. It is to be hoped that the Bowles order will result in getting some butter to the tables of the nation.

Different Draft Bill by Senate Is Seen Likely

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Out of the maneuvering of the political folks on Capitol Hill may come a law extending the Selective Service system, but it will not resemble the one passed by the House.

The members of the House got themselves recorded as in favor of the extension of the draft, but they were voting on a bill that was already weakened by amendments and did not represent what either the president or the War department wanted in order to insure an adequate military force in the interim period between the present and the hoped-for days of normalcy.

The Senate does not have all of its members up for re-election this autumn—only one-third will face the voters at the polls—so there's a chance that the upper house will endeavor to give the War department what it seeks.

The House not only eliminated the drafting of boys between 18 and 20 but held up all inductions until October 15. Now the War department is trying to get its quota by means of the volunteer system and does not object to the tieing of the two things together—namely, that the draft shall operate only when volunteers do not come forth in an adequate supply.

Difficult Elements Introduced

But when the House changes the draft ages so that all below 20 years of age are exempt, it introduces a difficult element into the situation for the War department. Presumably all the able-bodied above 20 have already been in service or have beed deferred because of physical defects. Only a small numer of able-bodied young men of 20 or more years of age were deferred for occupational reasons.

So the House has taken away the most important aid sought by the War department and by the navy too, for that matter. It is that the inducement to the 18-year-olds to volunteer shall not be removed. Many of these boys, feeling that they would sooner or later be drafted anyway, have volunteered. By flatly banning any induction of boys below 20, the militar services lost their leverage on this age group. Very few of 20 and above will be volunteering and only those who have been in essential jobs will be subject to the draft when October 15 comes if the volunteer system, between now and autumn, has failed to provide the necessary quota.

Eisenhower Is Frank

Gen. Eisenhower, who has tried very hard to persuade Congress to give him a minimum number of soldiers to meet the army's goal of 1,070,000 by July 1, 1947, is popular on Capitol Hill and he is known to speak frankly about the army's needs. There is no padding in his figures or estimates. But when election stares members in the face, they feel they cannot follow even Eisenhower.

Now this is not altogether what it appears to be on the surface at all—a mere concession to political influence. It is really a fear that the mothers of the boys will not understand the draft problem and will punish at the polls the members who vote to induct the 18-year-olds. This matter of the 'teen-age boys has been a serious one for the members of Congress.

There is something lacking in our democratic system. It is that the needs of the army and navy for 18-year-old inductees has never been so comprehensively explained as to enable a member of Congress to vote for such a step without fear of losing support at home.

Conference Device Likely

In order to keep the public from punishing the members of the House, a device frequently used in legislation will doubtless be brought forward. The Senate will pass a bill that differs from the House measure. The bill will then go to a conference committee of both houses. There the legislation really will be written. Out of this conference will come a measure which probably will compromise as between the ages 18 and 20 or else will include the 18 to 20-year group but at a date beyond October 15.

Anyway, when the measure becomes law, it will have been voted on by voice vote. Even if there is a record vote, it will be difficult for members to vote against a "conference report," for then it is all or nothing. Either the bill is accepted as the conference committee changed it or there is no legislation. The members could not afford to take the responsibility of voting so that there would be no extension, because the president could insist on holding in service fathers and others with long service. For one thing is clear—the army and navy cannot be disbanded even if there is a congressional election this year. In the end a bill that satisfies the needs of the military services must be passed.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Inside reason why the Russians are pulling wires to have the capital of the United Nations moved back to sleepy Geneva is that American public opinion has been too powerful a champion of the smaller nations.

So the Russians have been working behind the scenes to corral votes in favor of the Geneva transfer and can count on Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Poland and France. However, they can't count on the British, who once favored a European capital, but now are 100 per cent sold that American opinion is one of their best allies.

The Russians also can't count on the Latin Americans. In the old days, Pan-American diplomats loved lolling in Paris most of the time and turning up in Geneva a few days of the week. Today, however, Paris is one of the most uncomfortable places in the world, Geneva is short of food, and New York is far more pleasurable.

The Russians, who originally favored an American city as the United Nations capital, now consider this a serious mistake. They dislike the fact that American newspapers publish columns and columns of front-page news on every move made by the Russians, and they figure that American newsmen at Geneva would sit dowsily in the Swiss cafes drinking beer, or spend weekends in the Swiss Alps.

In Europe, they also believe, no photographer or newspaper would have the energy to trail Ambassador Gromyko on his famous and circuitous trip around New York city when he almost stopped in at the Security council meeting, but didn't.

If the Iranian question had been discussed at Geneva, instead of New York, the Russians figure, it never would have attracted so much attention and the Soviet would have come off with a complete victory.

American Inhospitality

The Russians have one excellent talking point to bolster their argument, inadvertently handed them by residents of Connecticut and New York city—the inhospitality of some Americans.

The howls of protest which went up from Connecticut citizens was like a dash of cold water in the face of United Nations delegates and gave the Russians a heaven-sent talking point in favor of Geneva. Likewise the inhospitality of George N. Shuter, president of Hunter College, has played right into Russian hands. Prior to United Nations occupation, President Shuster had not been using his buildings for some time, but despite that, he has been moaning and groaning that he wants them back in order to set up a housekeeping department for his lady students, apparently not realizing that if United Nations fails to keep the peace of the world, his lady students will have little opportunity to keep house.

Remarked one disillusioned United Nations delegate: "New Yorkers don't seem to realize that war inconveniences people. To some extent, so does peace."

Jews in Germany

Kindly, mild-mannered Ben Cohen, counsel of the State department, was approached by a delegation of American Jewish leaders to ask his help for more than 100,000 Jewish refugees in Germany who are still unable to find permanent homes. They wanted Cohen to help them migrate to the United States and other countries.

Cohen expressed his great sympathy, but said: "I can not do it because I can't use my position for any personal cause. It should diminish my effectiveness on other matters."

The Jewish delegation replied: "Can you think of anything more effective than to rescue 100,000 hapless Jews in Europe?"

Cohen, however, refused to budge.

Note—Chief difficulty regarding the future of Jews in Germany is that Hitler hatred was so deeply instilled, and during a period many years to come the life of a Jew in Germany would be almost unbearable.

No Army Race Prejudice

A negro former master sergeant in the army, Marion F. Green, testified before Gen. Doolittle's "caste system" board the other day, that there was little evidence of racial prejudices and other discrimination in the army. When Gen. Doolittle inquired about this, Sgt. Green replied:

"Colored soldiers found some resentment against them when they first joined the army, but this was quickly ironed out after a few months of training. In February, 1941, we had some fights and riots while I was stationed at Camp Livingston, Louisiana. However, by the time we finished training, everybody was getting alone fine. I encountered no racial bias whatever overseas."

The ex-GI also suggested that saluting of officers be optional when enlisted men are off duty and off the post, to which Lt. Gen. Troy Middleton, now an executive of Louisiana State university, countered: "Wouldn't optional saluting such as you propose tend to tear down discipline?"

"Not necessarily, General," replied Green. "If a man does something to merit respect, he will get that respect whether he is a civilian or an army officer."

The Nylon Lobby

Many congressmen will vote against dynamic Speaker Sam Rayburn in a secret committee session, but don't have the nerve to stand up and oppose him on the floor of the House. Very soon, however, Democrats who have fallen for the beguiling promises of the giant power lobby are going to face the latter test.

Sam Rayburn really has fire in his eye when he talks about the power lobby. And today that lobby ranks with the real estate buttonholers as one of the most potent on Capitol Hill, has even gone to the extent of dangling nylons before the wives of congressmen in order to win votes against the government's southwest power authority in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Southern Missouri.

The question at issue is whether the government can construct its own electric lines to distribute electric power from the Denison dam on the Texas-Oklahoma border and the Norfolk, Ark., dam. Without such power lines, the government merely generates the power but can't sell it. The power lobby wants to prevent this sale.

So far, the power lobby's technique has been successful with the Appropriations subcommittee, which knifed construction of the distributing lines. Congressmen Ben Jensen, of Iowa; Henry Dworshak, of Idaho; Robert Jones, of Ohio, and W. P. Norrell, of Arkansas, were the gentlemen reported to have fallen for the wiles of the lobby.

However, when the bill comes out on the floor of Congress, Sam Rayburn, together with the dean of Congress, Adolph Sabath, of Illinois, and Charles Savage, of Washington, plans to stage a real battle.

It will be interesting to see whether Rayburn's Democratic friends vote in public as some of them did in secret.

The Power Of Purpose

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

Nothing is so tragic as an aimless life, just living, from day to day, without plan or purpose. The happiest people I know do not complain, but only express the desire that days might be longer, so that they might put more into them!

Living for oneself alone is about as lonely a life as one can live. And it is always an unsatisfactory life. Such people are bored a great deal of the time, and they wonder why those with an aim and purpose won't join them.

I have quoted many times that saying of Cecil Rhodes, the "Empire Builder," in South Africa, who stated while dying, "so much to do, so little done." Busy, purposeful people never lack for something useful to do. All days are far too short. Their minds radiate. They wear fighting fingers. Their bodies are tireless. Happy deeds keep them warm in heart.

The Power of Purpose, that has steamed through the minds and hearts of the great of this earth, has left to the world a heritage that is priceless. The purpose of the pioneer, the discoverer, the inventor, the scientist, and the humanitarian is what has given to us all our present day comforts, enjoyments and faith in the future. Are we to allow these benefits to wilt away under the evil plans and purposes of those who would destroy all this through another suicidal war?

The high purpose of freedom and independence, that motivated those who came to this Western world, and made it a welcome place for the depressed and ill-ruled of other lands, should not now be thrust aside, by any of us—their benefactors. Each one of us is an individual inheritor of this freedom and independence, and we are privileged to carry it on with the same high purpose of those who gave it to us.

The Power of Purpose is essential in all activities of the indivudual or national life. Without it, we would travel backward, instead of forward. It's a spiritual quality, linked to the divine in man. Everything useful has its incention through the Power of Purpose.

Washington Hoopla Needs Examination, Pettengill Says

By SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL

In the bad old days, if you had good teeth, and were leery of strangers, you bit every silver dollar offered you in trade. Or, if you had store teeth, or none, you tossed the buckeroo on the table and listened to its ring, if any. Then you looked into the horse's mouth and examined his legs for spavin.

You have to do the same, my friends, with the cheeric and hotcha coming out of Washington. To illustrate: the solemn assurance that no secret deals had been or would be made with foreign powers; the Atlantic Charter and our betrayal of Poland; the concealment of rising prices through subsidies; the pretense that we were trying to keep out of war with Japan when, as now admitted by Secretary Stimson, "the question was how we should maneuver them into firing the first shot," etc. Eternal vigilance, with respect to officialdom, is the only price of liberty.

Bucket of Suds

Mr. Snyder of O.W.M.R., and President Truman have given us the bully news that civilian production is running at the rate of $150 billions a year, or "higher than ever before in history." This was to sell you on the notion that O.P.A. is not holding down production of houses, suits, shorts or shirts.

This bucket of suds has been spilled over the land and, a usual, Boobus Americanus has lapped it up, as he did Henry Wallace's hoop-la last fall that wages could be raised twenty-four per cent without increasing prices.

But if you are reluctant to be adopted, permanently, by the Boobus Branch of genus homo, let us take these figures apart and explore the ticking thereof.

Two Important Offsets

The figures, please note, are in dollars and not goods. But you can't use dollar bills for wall-board, and statistics are a poor substitute for shorts. Comparing today's rosy figures with 1939, the previous peace-time peak year under the New Deal, we have two important offsets; rising population and rising prices. Since 1939 we have grown about 6,000,000 more folks who crave wall-board and butter. The wholesale price index for all commodities is now 107. In 1939 it was seventy-seven. At wholesale prices, this means that in 1939 you could buy for $77 the same quantity of everything combined which now costs $107. In other words, $100 even at white market prices today is no bigger than $72 was in 1939.

Taking account of increased population and prices, we find that, per capita, $150 billion dollars worth of civilian goods in 1946 are no more goods than $103 billion dollars worth in 1939. So you see how misleading the administration's figures are. They remind you of the official ballyhoo of the stock market back in the old permanent plateau days.

Even Boobus Americanis should grasp the fact that it would be easy to turn the $150 billion present production into $300 billion before the election next November. Simply cut every dollar bill in two, and stamp each half thereof "One Dollar." Then you would have $300 billion dollars worth of goods, "higher than ever before in history." But would you have any more butter or beef?

Very Low Base Used

Now, this doesn't mean that we are not actually producing more goods in 1946 than in 1939, despite the shortages. We are, and to that extent, the oh-be-joyful is correct. But again, 1939 was nothing to brag about compared with what it could have been if constant government harassment of business and National Labor Relations Board tyrannies had not kept the brakes on. In 1939, ten years after the crash, we still had over 9,000,000 out of work, or seventeen percent of the labor force.

So, putting the best face on the figures to which they are entitled, the administration is comparing 1946 with a very low base. This is like the farmer who said his poultry had increased 100 percent. He had an old hen, and now she has hatched one chick! You used to get a haircut for two bits. Now you pay seventy-five cents and up. After that the government gives you a shampoo and massage!

Kansas City Plans To Move the Missouri River Out of Town

By ISABEL REED
AP Newsfeatures

KANSAS CITY—Moving the Missouri river out of Kansas City might have seemed sheer fantasy to grandpa, but not to today's city fathers, who, with an eye on making room for the largest municipal airport in the world, are considering a plan to do just that.

Besides making a giant airport less than a mile from the heart of Kansas City's business district, exponents of the plan say that taking the kinks out of the Missouri would ease the annual flood pains of the city's central industrial district.

"It's revolutionary and it's visionary, but the U. S. Army engineers say it's feasible," said Lou E. Holland, chairman of the city's aviation board which suggested the idea to Mayor John B. Cage.

Cost Fifty to 100 Million

Army engineers place the cost at "roughly $50,000,000." Other estimates have been as high as $100,000,000.

The plan is this:

To reroute the Missouri along the Clay county bluffs, three miles north of its present bend through Kansas City. Geologists maintain that the new proposed channel was the original bed of the fickle Missouri.

Close the part of the present channel that separates the municipal airports of Kansas City, Kas., and Kansas City, Mo., and make one master combined field with runways as long as 13,500 feet.

Bid for Air Supremacy

"No air organization could resist an airport of that sort," said Holland. "It would become one of the greatest airports in the world. The shortest runway would be 7,000 feet. Others would be nearly 14,000 feet. All of that right in the heart of a city."

The 4,000-foot east-west runway at the Kansas City, Mo., municipal airport has been a point of argument for years because of the field's proximity to the downtown area. Airline pilots frequently land cross wind rather than use the too-short runway.

"Even more important is the fact that the flood waters of the Missouri river would be diverted almost in a straight line far north of Kansas City," continued Holland.

Almost every year Kansas City's central industrial section, which includes a large packing house district, is threatened with a flood when the Kaw river goes on its annual rampage and overflows the Missouri where the two join at Kansas City. Frequently damage is high.

Big Problems Involved

Mayor Gage is interested in the project to the extent that he would like the public to be educated as to what it would mean to the city. He also has expressed a desire to have the U. S. Engineers make a survey to determine the exact cost of the undertaking.

"It's more than just digging a new ditch and filling up the old one," said an engineer. "New dikes would have to be constructed, the city's sewer system extended, and at least one bridge built across the the new channel."

Then there's another angle which has a member of the aviation board puzzled.

State Line Question

"What would we do about the state line between Missouri and Kansas?" he asked. "The law says it follows the middle of the Missouri river. I guess we'd have to make a new law."

But it will take more than state lines, dikes, bridges and sewer systems to discourage Kansas Citians. They dream of their home town becoming the hub of the world, and if it means picking up the Mississippi's largest tributary, you can look for moving day for the "Big Muddy."

Kansas City Plans To Move the Missouri River Out of Town

By ISABEL REED
AP Newsfeatures

KANSAS CITY—Moving the Missouri river out of Kansas City might have seemed sheer fantasy to grandpa, but not to today's city fathers, who, with an eye on making room for the largest municipal airport in the world, are considering a plan to do just that.

Besides making a giant airport less than a mile from the heart of Kansas City's business district, exponents of the plan say that taking the kinks out of the Missouri would ease the annual flood pains of the city's central industrial district.

"It's revolutionary and it's visionary, but the U. S. Army engineers say it's feasible," said Lou E. Holland, chairman of the city's aviation board which suggested the idea to Mayor John B. Cage.

Cost Fifty to 100 Million

Army engineers place the cost at "roughly $50,000,000." Other estimates have been as high as $100,000,000.

The plan is this:

To reroute the Missouri along the Clay county bluffs, three miles north of its present bend through Kansas City. Geologists maintain that the new proposed channel was the original bed of the fickle Missouri.

Close the part of the present channel that separates the municipal airports of Kansas City, Kas., and Kansas City, Mo., and make one master combined field with runways as long as 13,500 feet.

Bid for Air Supremacy

"No air organization could resist an airport of that sort," said Holland. "It would become one of the greatest airports in the world. The shortest runway would be 7,000 feet. Others would be nearly 14,000 feet. All of that right in the heart of a city."

The 4,000-foot east-west runway at the Kansas City, Mo., municipal airport has been a point of argument for years because of the field's proximity to the downtown area. Airline pilots frequently land cross wind rather than use the too-short runway.

"Even more important is the fact that the flood waters of the Missouri river would be diverted almost in a straight line far north of Kansas City," continued Holland.

Almost every year Kansas City's central industrial section, which includes a large packing house district, is threatened with a flood when the Kaw river goes on its annual rampage and overflows the Missouri where the two join at Kansas City. Frequently damage is high.

Big Problems Involved

Mayor Gage is interested in the project to the extent that he would like the public to be educated as to what it would mean to the city. He also has expressed a desire to have the U. S. Engineers make a survey to determine the exact cost of the undertaking.

Senior Girl Scouts Plan Camp Program

A discussion of the senior Girl Scout program for established camp featured the meeting of the senior scouts last evening at the little house, with Mrs. Seth Bowen, temporary leader, presiding. The girls want pioneering camping, advanced arts and crafts; dancing of all kinds; several are interested in sketching and a number requested nature studies in the camp program.

Mrs. Bowen is a member of the Program committee of the Camp Council, which enquires what the girls would like for their program and then work out the arrangements. She has served as camp unit leader at established camp for the past two years and last year was director of the day camp.

Considering the length of time the girls have been in scouting, Mrs. Bowen selected Ellen Newman and Jean Rohman to represent the Cumberland senior scouts and accompany her to the dedication ceremony opening the Applacian trail, which will be held at Calodonia, Chambersburg, Pa., May 18. Ten other senior scouts plan to attend the ceremony. The senior scouts there have been instrumental in opening the trail and have been in charge of the remarking of the old trail. Senior scouts of the entire section have been invited to attend the ceremony.

Plans were also discussed for a hay ride for members and friends, to be held April 30. The group will meet at Nave's cross road at 7 o'clock. Nancy Largent is chairman of arrangements.

Work was also continued on the radio skit the girls are planning to present. It is a dramatic program, bringing out that girls should spend a large portion of their time out of doors and enjoy nature.

Senior Girl Scouts Plan Camp Program

A discussion of the senior Girl Scout program for established camp featured the meeting of the senior scouts last evening at the little house, with Mrs. Seth Bowen, temporary leader, presiding. The girls want pioneering camping, advanced arts and crafts; dancing of all kinds; several are interested in sketching and a number requested nature studies in the camp program.

Mrs. Bowen is a member of the Program committee of the Camp Council, which enquires what the girls would like for their program and then work out the arrangements. She has served as camp unit leader at established camp for the past two years and last year was director of the day camp.

Considering the length of time the girls have been in scouting, Mrs. Bowen selected Ellen Newman and Jean Rohman to represent the Cumberland senior scouts and accompany her to the dedication ceremony opening the Applacian trail, which will be held at Calodonia, Chambersburg, Pa., May 18. Ten other senior scouts plan to attend the ceremony. The senior scouts there have been instrumental in opening the trail and have been in charge of the remarking of the old trail. Senior scouts of the entire section have been invited to attend the ceremony.

Plans were also discussed for a hay ride for members and friends, to be held April 30. The group will meet at Nave's cross road at 7 o'clock. Nancy Largent is chairman of arrangements.

Work was also continued on the radio skit the girls are planning to present. It is a dramatic program, bringing out that girls should spend a large portion of their time out of doors and enjoy nature.

Edward J. Mattingly To Wed Miss Neely On Easter Tuesday

Miss Mary Theresa Neely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert Neely, 115 Cumberland street, will become the bride of Edward J. Mattingly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph I. Mattingly, 515 Shriver avenue, April 23.

The ceremony will be solemnized at a high nuptial mass at 9 o'clock in SS. Peter and Paul Catholic church, with the Rev. Edward L. Mattingly, CSSR, Kansas City, Mo., uncle of Mr. Mattingly, officiating. Miss Alice R. Neely will be the maid of honor and her sister's only attendant. Patrick Tierney will serve as Mr. Mattingly's best man.

Miss Neely, whose parents recently announced her engagement, is a graduate of Ursuline Academy, and has been in training in Allegany Hospital School of Nursing, where she was a member of the Cadet Nurse Corps. She is a granddaughter of Mrs. Mary R. Carpenter, 116 Greene street.

Mr. Mattingly is a graduate of La-Salle high school and the University of Notre Dame, South Bend, Ind. He recently received his discharge from the army, after four years service, of which three were spent in the ETO, where he served as a captain. He is associated with his father in the J. I. Mattingly and Brother Provision Wholesale Company.

Penn Avenue Glee Club To Give Easter Pageant

The Glee Club of Pennsylvania Avenue school will present a sacred pageant, "The Sign of Victory," at 1:45 o'clock this afternoon at the school. It deals with the effect the life, teachings, death and resurrection of Jesus had upon Cleopas and his family and friends.

Although Cleopas' young daughter cherishes a palm branch which the hand of Jesus touched as He made His triumphant entry in Jerusalem, she finds that the cross, rather than the palm is the living, everlasting sign of a heavenly King's triumph over sin and death.

Songs and pantomined hymns intersperse the drama.

"NO TIME FOR TEARS"

You're for America?

Of course you are!

But how much do you really know about America? How much do you know about the spirit which molded America and held it together in spite of hell 'n' high water? How much do you know of the temper and trials of our forefathers?

Unconsciously you think of American life as based on speedy transportation, trains, planes, telephones, radios, modern conveniences. But suppose you had none of these things—only your own invincible will to sustain you. Would you dare to be a pioneer then?

HAVE YOU WHAT IT TAKES TO MAKE AMERICA?

You're going to face that question many times in these troubled post war years. And you won't find the answer in dull volumes on economics or sociology. But you can find it occasionally in vibrant stories of real Americans who are daring to make good today under the conditions which formed the U. S. A.

Lora Wood Hughes has written such a book on her own life. It's called "No Time for Tears" (Houghton, Mifflin Company, Publishers). And it's as lusty a dose of Americana as will ever hit your solar plexus.

From babyhood Lora Wood wanted to be a nurse, which meant about the toughest job there was. Kansas was an actual wilderness then with buffalo, Indians, sod houses, wolves and every other kind of varmint, human or otherwise. Houses were miles apart over cow trails. Seldom was there a doctor. Nursing, for the rare few who undertook it, meant twelve, often forty-eight hours of steady hard labor, tending raving patients, cooking and cleaning for the family, minding the young ones. And you went where you were needed, willy nilly.

From the early 70s through the nightmare of our second World war, Lora Wood Hughes went. And on high!—without formal training at first but going anyway. Doctoring mangled men and pain crazed cattle. Learning early to discount her own weakness and pain. Going where she was called, to log cabins and isolated pest houses which even the doctors would not enter, where smallpox scales lay large as fingernails" on the unclean floor.

And it was up to her to see the horror through alone. Out to the ghastly typhoid wards in Honolulu where thousands of our Spanish war soldiers died. Into the deep snows and endless forests of frontier Canada. Nearly always without equipment—often without payment.

Here is not only the story of a brave and great hearted woman Here is a magnificent picture of the spirit which made America at a time when we need it most. The war has left us stranded on strange and disheartening frontiers. Here is how those earlier Americans conquered frontiers, rode triumphantly over them with no time for resentment or self pity, no time for tears." Such are today our living inspiration.

Government Takes Action To Improve Supply of Butter

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP)—The government has started action on a program it hopes will get housewives more butter and keep their dairy bills from rising.

To get more butter, it will restore the wartime controls which prohibited sale of whipping cream and restricted the amount of butterfat in ice cream. It also will put price ceilings for the first time on cream which goes into manufactured products such as ice cream and bakery goods.

"We can't expect to see a big increase in the supply of butter in the stores overnight, but I think we can count on real improvement within the next sixty days," said Stabilization Director Chester Bowles in a statement announcing the new program.

Details of the butterfat restrictions and the new cream ceiling will be issued later. They are designed to overcome a situation which maks it more profitable to use butter-fat for ice cream and other goods than for butter.

To keep prices of milk, butter, cheese and other dairy products at their present levels, the OPA will pay higher subsidies to farmers instead of granting the higher prices for which they have been clamoring.

In some areas where milk price increases have been ordered since early this year, prices will be cut to the extent they are offset by the higher subsidy.

Countians Warned of High Cancer Death Rate

Urging Allegany county residents to contribute funds in the current drive to raise $6,000 in the fight against cancer, Mrs. Morris Rosenbaum, chairman of the campaign in Allegany and Garrett counties, said between 8,000 and 9,000 county residents will die of the disease unless something is done in the immediate future to combat the "killer."

Sixty per cent of the amount raised here will be retained in the state, with part of it earmarked for the cancer clinic at Memorial hospital.

Mrs. Rosenbaum said that while all the letters appealing for funds for the drive have not been mailed, several hundred dollars already have been received.

Continue Inquest

CHICAGO, April 16—(AP)—An inquest into the death of 6-year-old Suzanne Degnan, who was kidnaped and butchered January 7, was continued again today until May 15 to allow time for further police investigation. The little girl and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Degnan, formerly resided in Baltimore.

Lonely War Wife Wants Her Marine Husband Home

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

The clamor made since the end of the war by wives of servicemen demanding that Uncle Sam send their husbands home at once has been almost louder than the sound of cheering when victory came.

Naturally, it's perfectly understandable. Everybody sympathizes deeply with these wives who have suffered so much and waited so patiently for so long. Many of them were so young, and perhaps had no more than a few days with their husbands before they were left to their desperately anxious waiting. So, of course, now that the emergency is over, every added moment without them seems almost unbearable.

Writes one young wife:

"Dear Miss Fairfax:

"I'm lonely for my husband, who is in the marines. He enlisted in July, 1942, for four years, spent nineteen months in the Pacific, and came from overseas in May, 1945, so it will soon be a year that he has been back in the States. We have a son who is 3 years old. I have just seen my husband a few times since he enlisted. It's an awfuly lonely and hard life without someone you love.

"When Uncle Sam needed him, he went and did his duty, and now when we need him, we can't have him. It's too expensive to go to him, so we have to stay home and just wait until he comes, and we don't get to see him very often. It seems to get harder to bear all the time.

"Now that the war is over, why can't we have him? Why can't they send him home? I have a feeling something is going to happen before he comes home in July, and that we will never get a chance to live like a regularly married couple.

"I suppose there's nothing that can be done. Do you know of anything besides just keeping on being lonely and waiting? I never go anywhere without my son. I believe in being a good wife, and I don't go anywhere to enjoy myself. My husband is very jealous, so I like to live the way he wants me to. But it is very hard to live without him, when we love each other so much, and our son also needs his daddy."

"MRS. H. D."

Yes, indeed, Mrs. H. D., it is very hard to live such a lonely life, and many other young wives know exactly how you are feeling.

But just think how much more fortunate you are than many others! Your husband came through his nineteen months of Pacific warfare safe and well. When you remember how many young wives there are whose husbands will never come home again, it seems as though your heart should be so full of thankfulness that there would be no room for anything else.

Then, too, you have only a few more weeks to wait, while there are lots of wives whose husbands are still overseas, stationed in Germany or Japan, and they don't know when they'll be coming back.

Your feeling that something may happen before your husband gets home in July is nothing more than nervous apprehension, born of the tension caused by your years of worry and waiting. It is too bad, and a great mistake I think, that you did not go out and have some normal times during that period. I cannot believe your husband ever meant you to live such a narrow life, without ever going out to enjoy yourself.

But cheer up now! With only a few more weeks to go, you have everything to be thankful for, and nothing to b so down-hearted about. After all, your husband did enlist for four years, you know. You wouldn't want him to walk out on his own bargain, would you?

COURT RULES WIDOW WHO DESERTED MATE CAN COLLECT ESTATE

ANNAPOLIS, April 16 (AP)—The Maryland Court of Appeals held today that deserting a husband and living in adultery or bigamy would not bar a widow from collecting her share of a husband's estate.

The court is in opinion affirming a Baltimore Orphans Court decree, ruled that awarding $2,000 and half of the residue of Frederick Schmeizl's estate to Matilda Schmeizl was in accordance with state law.

It declared that Mrs. Schmeizl had left him in August 1930, lived fifteen years with another man and upon Schmeizl's death sought her widow's share of the estate.

The court asserted that for many years Schmeizl "had grounds for absolute divorce, but he did not see fit to procure divorce for reasons unknown to us x x x.

"The power to determine what is salutary for the people of the state resides in the legislature. It is not the function of the court to determine whether the public policy which finds expression in legislation of this character is well or ill conceived.' "

The case was appealed by Joseph and Jacob Schmeizl, Theresa Bohlen and Mary Weber.

Margarine Shortage May Grow More Critical

NEW YORK, April 16 (AP)—The present acute shortage of margarine will continue, and may grow more pronounced later this year, a spokesman for the food industry predicts.

Vegetable oils from which margarine is made are needed desperately all over the world. Supplies are low and prospects for any substantial increase are poor.

Dealers reported a sharp increase in demand during the last few months as the shortage of butter became more acute.

—Early long distance roads in Europe were laid out and used by traders gathering amber.

Stocks Recover from Last Week's Declines, Approach 15-Year Peak

NEW YORK, April 16—(AP)—Stocks again approached their fifteen-year highs in today's market, recovering nearly all of last week's decline.

Favorable reports of first quarter operations bolstered the industrials and provided a backdrop for the general advance. Brokers said expected freight rate adjustments for the railroads, which asked a twenty-five per cent boost, led investors to an optimistic view concerning carriers' prospects. Other encouragement derived from anticipation of price control limitations, progress of housing legislation and predictions steel operating rates will be maintained until the end of April.

A sustained pace of dealings brought total sales for the day to 1,450,000 shares compared with 1,-170,000 Monday. Of 993 issues registering, 665 showed gains against 187 losses.

Leaders of the advance were United States Steel, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, American Smelting, Anaconda, Kennecott, American Can, American Metal, International Paper, United Merchants and Manufacturers, Pure Oil, Douglas Aircraft, Montgomery Ward, United States Rubber, Cerro De Pasco, Texas Company, Standard Oil (N.J.), Electric Power and Light, Eastman Kodak, Union Carbide, Hiram Walker, Owens-Illinois, Chrysler, General Motors, Sunray Oil, R-K-O, Gillette, Stone and Webster, Revere Copper, and United States Gypsum. Lagging much of the day, American Telephone and New York Central closed up fractionally.

Forward movers in the curb were Crosley Motors, General Plywood, Heydon Chemical, Bunker Hill, R-K-O Warrants and National Union Radio. Hearn Department Stores slipped. Turnover here was 550,000 shares against 460,000.

The bond market started forward in morning trade, faltered, and slipped into irregularity which carried through to the finish. Gains and losses running to around a point either way were well divided.

Long-term United States governments dropped the ¼ point permissible limit in the over-the-counter market, with the victory loan December 2½s of '67-'72 priced at 105 18-32 bid. Dealers said slim demand caused the decline rather than selling pressure.

Turnover widened to $4,040,000 from $3,850,000 Monday.

Thomas Bradley's Funeral Will Be Held Thursday

Retired Miner Fell Down Stairs after Suffering Paralytic Attack

By GEORGE W. DADDYSMAN

WESTERNPORT, April 16—Funeral services for Thomas Edward Bradley, 82, a retired coal miner, who died at 2:45 a. m. today at the home of his son, Samuel Bradley, 235 Cromwell street, Luke, where he resided, will be held Thursday at 3 p. m. at the Piedmont Pentecostal Holiness church. The Rev. Virgil O. Rath, pastor, will officiate. Interment will be in the cemetery at Bloomington.

Mr. Bradley suffered a paralytic stroke at his home Friday evening, falling down a dozen steps while descending the stairway. He was born in Loudon county, Va., April 10, 1864, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bradley and has lived here sixty-seven years. He retired eighteen year ago. His wife, the late Joanna Linkswiler Bradley, died in 1927.

Besides Samuel Bradley he is survived by three sons, James F. Bradley, Uniontown, Pa.; Joseph E. Bradley, Clinton, Ia., and Gerald K. Bradley, Westernport; two daughters, Mrs. Hugh Morris, Westernport, and Mrs. Ralph Flemming, Keyser, W. Va.; twenty-four grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. The body will remain at the home of his son, Samuel Bradley.

Street Lights Out

Westernport was without street lighting last night to midnight, after strong winds blew some Potomac Edison Company lines down in the vicinity of Riordan street. The lights work by a time switch and when they did not come on at 7:15 p. m. linemen began making repairs.

Alumni Plan Banquet

The annual banquet of the Alumni association of Piedmont high school will be held Friday evening, May 31, if an orchestra can be secured for that date. An alumni medal will be given to the valedictorian of the 1946 graduating class of the school. A meeting will be held next Monday at 7:30 p. m.

New Council To Meet

Mrs. Trix Bright, Keyser, W. Va., will preside over the meeting of the newly organized Mineral County Council of Parent-Teachers at the meeting to be held in the Piedmont high school auditorium Wednesday at 8 p. m.

John I. Rogers, Keyser, member of the House of Delegates from Mineral county, W. Va., will discuss legislation enacted at the recent session of the legislature to submit a constitutional amendment to the vote of the citizens in the November election.

The program to be given by the pupils of the Piedmont schools will include selections, "Good Scouts," high school orchestra, directed by Miss Anita Dickens, music instructor; song, "Let the Rest of the World Go By," eighth grade girls; cornet solo, "When I Grow Too Old to Dream," Kenneth Shook; piano solo, "Claire de Lune," Betty Witherow; instrumental quartet, "Star of Hope," Philip Staggers, Caroline Weakley, Kenneth Snook and Betty Jean Alkire.

Parents, teachers and patrons of the school may attend.

Radio System Discussed

The Town of Westernport will pay its share in keeping the proposed two-way radio communication service of Keyser, W. Va., and the Tri-Towns in repair, but will not pay anything toward salaries of employes in keeping a twenty-four-hour service at the Keyser police station, according to a decision of Mayor J. Milton McIntyre and commissioners last night.

The need of an underpass in the vicinity of Fourth street and Maryland avenue under the Western Maryland railway, for the use of students attending Bruce and St. Peter's high school was explained by Commissioner Lewis F. Engle. Much of the time there are railroad cars on the siding and it is necessary for children to walk about a half a mile around them, he said, adding that some children climb through the cars and may be injured.

A light is needed in the vicinity of Spring street and Riordan's road which would benefit about eight families, Paul Michaels stated. He said he is planning to put a wall in front of his home and that if the town furnishes the pipe to carry off the water that does not drain, he will lay the pipe.

An appeal for donations was read by the city clerk, J. Carr Getty, from Raymond C. Hudson, chairman of the finance committee of the Boy Scouts of the Tri-Towns. The request was refused as the officials felt that other than the Red Cross they should not make donations to organizations.

Adam Zais appeared relative to Main street, extended, needing repairs. He asked that something be done so that water would drain better.

Miss Adams Speaks

Miss Ruby M. Adams, director of elementary education in Allegany county, was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Parent-Teacher association last night at Hammond street school, Westernport.

A program was presented by students of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades, songs by boys' choir, choral group, unison Scripture reading, poems and songs and a pageant. There were readings by Mrs. Clyde Kalbaugh, Mrs. Rymer Ferrell, Wayne Biggs, James Wilkinson and Donald Lee Smith, and vocal solos by Carol Burke and Joanna Grindle.

Miss Nellie Dowling, principal, Mrs. Hazel Kenner and Mrs. Eldridge Guy were selected members of a nominating committee at a short business meeting and will report at the June meeting. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. Nellie Luke Dies

Mrs. Nellie Rocke Luke, 64, wife of Allan L. Luke, Sr., Fort Lewis, Salem, Va., died at 3:15 p. m. today in Johnson-Willis hospital Richmond, Va., where she had been a patient for two weeks. She had undergone four major operations in the past two years.

A native of Covington, Va., Mrs. Luke came to the Tri-towns section in 1904 and resided in Luke, where her husband was employed at the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company. When the family moved to Salem in May, 1929, he was superintendent of the plant. He is still connected with the company in an advisory capacity.

Mrs. Luke was a member of St. James's Episcopal church, Westernport. She last visited this section six years ago.

Besides her husband, she is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Merle R. Thompson, Norfolk, Va.; Mrs. Kermit Birchfield, Roanoke, Va.; Mrs. John J. Sheehan, and Mrs. William Breckinridge, both at home; and two sons, Allan L. Luke, Jr., Tyrone, Pa., who was recently discharged after serving overseas as a captain with the army in North Africa and the European theater; and J. Guthrie Luke, a resident of Luke.

Also surviving are three sisters, the Misses Mary Lydia and Theresa Grey Rocke, both of Covington; and Mrs. John Carroll, Boston, Mass.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 1 p. m. at the residence in Salem, with interment in a Covington cemetery.

Brief Mention

The minstrel of the Piedmont graded school previously scheduled for April 26 has been postponed to May 3.

Members of the drum corps of Kelly-Mansfield Post No. 52, American Legion, Piedmont, W. Va., will attend the annual apple blossom festival at Winchester, Va., May 3.

A special meeting of the alumni association to complete plans for the annual banquet will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m., at Bruce high school.

Pvt. William A. Roye, stationed at Aberdeen Proving Grounds, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roye, Sr.

Donald Morrison and Miss Edith See, Baker, W. Va., visited Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roye, Sr.

Mrs. Nusre Mansor and infant daughter, Philos avenue, are home from Allegany hospital, Cumberland.

Former Flight Officer Re-enlists in Army As Master Sergeant

Capt. L. M. Bairstow, local army recruiter, said Stitcher is the first officer to re-enlist through the local recruiting station, and that he will become a master sergeant, as a result of his prior rating.

Stitcher was separated from service January 16 at Fort George G. Meade. He served four years in the army air forces prior to discharge, the last eighteen months of which was spent as a flight officer. The last five months of the war he piloted a Mustar P-51 fighter plane. Prior to beginning his pilot training, he was crew chief of a plane. The highest grade he attained as an enlisted man was buck sergeant.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Stitcher, of the Valley street address, he was the first of three brothers to serve in the Army during the war. Lewis A., a veteran of the ETO, was also discharged last January, while Pvt. Carl A., was killed in action November 27, 1942 in North Africa. It was for the latter, a former Allegany High athlete, that Stitcher Field on Holland street was named.

Sgt. Stitcher is the holder of the Asiatic-Pacific service ribbon, the American service ribbon and World War II victory ribbon. While in the Pacific, Stitcher flew low over Hiroshima after the Japanese city had been blasted to smithereens by the atomic bomb.

"The new GAS RANGE the Best Cooking Appliance ever built"

There are important reasons for such an overwhelming vote of confidence.

Modern Gas ranges are spotlessly clean, of course, just as they are completely automatic, with "clock-control-cooking," too, if you want it, but it is the marvelously efficient low flame method of Gas cooking that assures exact results—so easily—and wins the housewife's heart.

Over any other method of automatic cooking, the modern Gas range oven has the exclusive advantage of automatically graduated heat. Temperatures are self-adjusting to meet the exact requirements of the oven evenly and continuously—not by fits and starts. It is the "throttle" type of heat control which makes this superiority possible.

Smokeless broiling is another exclusive feature obtainable only in the modern Gas range—made possible by the flame method of cooking. The flame consumes the broiling vapors.

Former Flight Officer Re-enlists in Army As Master Sergeant

Capt. L. M. Bairstow, local army recruiter, said Stitcher is the first officer to re-enlist through the local recruiting station, and that he will become a master sergeant, as a result of his prior rating.

Stitcher was separated from service January 16 at Fort George G. Meade. He served four years in the army air forces prior to discharge, the last eighteen months of which was spent as a flight officer. The last five months of the war he piloted a Mustang P-51 fighter plane. Prior to beginning his pilot training, he was crew chief of a plane. The highest grade he attained as an enlisted man was buck sergeant.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Stitcher, of the Valley street address, he was the first of three brothers to serve in the Army during the war. Lewis A., a veteran of the ETO, was also discharged last January, while Pvt. Carl A., was killed in action November 27, 1942 in North Africa. It was for the latter, a former Allegany High athlete, that Stitcher Field on Holland street was named.

Sgt. Stitcher is the holder of the Asiatic-Pacific service ribbon, the American service ribbon and World War II victory ribbon. While in the Pacific, Stitcher flew low over Hiroshima after the Japanese city had been blasted to smithereens by the atomic bomb.

Early Treatment Usually Prevents Crooked Teeth

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Crooked teeth not only rob a bright smile of its natural beauty, but they may even deform the face itself.

When the teeth do not meet properly, the condition is called malocclusion. There are several varieties of malocclusion, all so common that nearly everyone can think off-hand of an individual example of the various types. They follow. See if you can't easily match them up with people you know or whose pictures you have seen.

In one, the arch of the teeth is too narrow and the teeth crooked or irregular. In another, the lower jaw and teeth are too far back, so that the front upper teeth protrude or are bunched together. In still a third kind, the lower jaw and teeth are too far forward.

Early Treatment

Alertness and care on the part of parents and proper treatment begun early in life could prevent or correct most of these defects.

It is a peculiar fact that malocclusion is much more common in civilized people than in primitive tribes. For this reason it has been thought that perhaps the difference in diet and food habits between civilized and uncivilized peoples accounts for malocclusion.

There is no proof, however, that this is true, but it has led to the suggestion that chewing uncooked or partially cooked meats, fruits and vegetables will stimulate proper growth of the jaws by pressure of the chewing.

It would seem to be true that the diet of the growing child in this country contains a large amount of foods supplying sugar and starches and not enough of those which supply calcium or lime salts, and phosphorus, which are needed for building bone.

It is thought by others that the catching diseases of childhood, such as scarlet fever, measles and chickenpox may have a bad effect on the enamel of the teeth and result in poorly formed teeth that directly cause malocclusion.

Baby Teeth

One thing that parents can do to prevent crooked teeth is to give proper care to the baby teeth. If baby teeth must be pulled out before the second teeth come in the jaws may be thrown out of line and crooked teeth result. Proper care of the teeth will present their early loss.

There is some question as to whether thumb-sucking, lip-biting and lip-sucking may not play a part in producing malocclusion, so efforts should be made to prevent these habits.

Another question which often troubles parents is what is the best time to take the child to the dentist for treatment to correct malocclusion. It is probable that in most cases the treatment should be started as soon as the irregularities in the teeth are noted.

As a general rule, treatment for the correction of malocclusion should be well under way if not nearly completed by the time the child is twelve years old in order to obtain the best results. Parents should not neglect this important factor in the child's health.

All children should have their teeth examined by a dentist at least every six months after they reach their second birthday.

Questions and Answers

A. M. Y.: I have been troubled for the past two months with boils. They appear mostly on my head and back of my ears. Will you please tell me something about the cause and the treatment?

Answer: The cause of boils is lowered resistance to a type of germ commonly found in the skin, which is known as staphylococcus. The germs are rubbed into the skin because of the contact of the clothes, or from dirty hands.

In the treatment of boils, several things may be done. The general resistance of the body should be built up by getting plenty of fresh air, sunshine, and outdoor exercise, as well as by eating a proper, well-balanced diet, that is, a diet containing all of the necessary food parts, vitamins and minerals. The hands and clothes should be kept clean.

In the treatment of the condition, it is also necessary that measures be taken to prevent infection of the skin around the boils. Fifty per cent. alcohol may be applied over the boils several times daily.

Sometimes a vaccine made from the pus of one of the boils and given by injection is effective. A toxoid made from a staphylococcus germ and given by injection is also helpful.

Early Treatment Usually Prevents Crooked Teeth

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

When the teeth do not meet properly, the condition is called malocclusion. There are several varieties of malocclusion, all so common that nearly everyone can think off-hand of an individual example of the various types. They follow. See if you can't easily match them up with people you know or whose pictures you have seen.

In one, the arch of the teeth is too narrow and the teeth crooked or irregular. In another, the lower jaw and teeth are too far back, so that the front upper teeth protrude or are bunched together. In still a third kind, the lower jaw and teeth are too far forward.

Early Treatment

Alertness and care on the part of parents and proper treatment begun early in life could prevent or correct most of these defects.

It is a peculiar fact that malocclusion is much more common in civilized people than in primitive tribes. For this reason it has been thought that perhaps the difference in diet and food habits between civilized and uncivilized peoples accounts for malocclusion.

There is no proof, however, that this is true, but it has led to the suggestion that chewing uncooked or partially cooked meats, fruits and vegetables will stimulate proper growth of the jaws by pressure of the chewing.

It would seem to be true that the diet of the growing child in this country contains a large amount of foods supplying sugar and starches and not enough of those which supply calcium or lime salts, and phosphorus, which are needed for building bone.

It is thought by others that the catching diseases of childhood, such as scarlet fever, measles and chickenpox may have a bad effect on the enamel of the teeth and result in poorly formed teeth that directly cause malocclusion.

Baby Teeth

One thing that parents can do to prevent crooked teeth is to give proper care to the baby teeth. If baby teeth must be pulled out before the second teeth come in the jaws may be thrown out of line and crooked teeth result. Proper care of the teeth will present their early loss.

There is some question as to whether thumb-sucking, lip-biting and lip-sucking may not play a part in producing malocclusion, so efforts should be made to prevent these habits.

Another question which often troubles parents is what is the best time to take the child to the dentist for treatment to correct malocclusion. It is probable that in most cases the treatment should be started as soon as the irregularities in the teeth are noted.

As a general rule, treatment for the correction of malocclusion should be well under way if not nearly completed by the time the child is twelve years old in order to obtain the best results. Parents should not neglect this important factor in the child's health.

All children should have their teeth examined by a dentist at least every six months after they reach their second birthday.

Questions and Answers

A. M. Y.: I have been troubled for the past two months with boils. They appear mostly on my head and back of my ears. Will you please tell me something about the cause and the treatment?

Answer: The cause of boils is lowered resistance to a type of germ commonly found in the skin, which is known as staphylococcus. The germs are rubbed into the skin because of the contact of the clothes, or from dirty hands.

In the treatment of boils, several things may be done. The general resistance of the body should be built up by getting plenty of fresh air, sunshine, and outdoor exercise, as well as by eating a proper, well-balanced diet, that is, a diet containing all of the necessary food parts, vitamins and minerals. The hands and clothes should be kept clean.

In the treatment of the condition, it is also necessary that measures be taken to prevent infection of the skin around the boils. Fifty per cent. alcohol may be applied over the boils several times daily.

Sometimes a vaccine made from the pus of one of the boils and given by injection is effective. A toxoid made from a staphylococcus germ and given by injection is also helpful.

Senate Committee Questions Air Pact

WASHINGTON, April 16. (AP)—The Senate Commerce committee challenged on a 14 to 1 vote the validity of the Bermuda air agreement between the United States and Britain.

The action came on adoption of a resolution by Sen. Brewster (R-Me) declaring that this government is not bound by the agreement until it has been ratified as a treaty, which requires a two-thirds Senate vote. Only Sen. Pepper (D-Fla) voted against sending the resolution to the Senate.

Adoption of this measure left in confusion the status of a pact under which this country and Britain undertook to arrange schedules and rates for trans-ocean flying and sought to open some Atlantic military bases to commercial use.

The Bermuda agreements had been submitted to the Commerce committee for its information only, with the State department contending that its action in signing them was final.

The Maine senator said he assumed the next step would be for the State department or the president to ask the Justice department for a ruling.

The committee action cast a cloud on an agreement which supporters of the proposed $3,750,000,000 British loan were prepared to use in offsetting growing Senate demands that the British grant this country full title to some of the military bases which this country has built on empire soil.

Veterans Information Office Being Operated By Amvets in City Hall

The Veterans' Infromation Center, located in the city hall, is to continue daily operation, and is being manned by volunteers from J. Louis Wolford Post No. 1, Amvets, according to C. William Spangler, post vice-commander, and chairman of the project.

The office is open daily except Saturday and Sunday from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m., and from 9 a. m. until noon on Saturdays.

Last week, places of residence were found for five veterans and their families. Persons with houses, room or apartments for rent should contact the local office, as the housing shortage continues, Spangler said.

Veterans interested in building, may obtain housing priority forms at the office, Spangler indicated.

ST. LOUIS, April 16 (AP) — The highly-touted St. Louis Cardinals mound staff developed the jitters in today's opening National league game here and the Redbirds, after an explosive three-run first inning, were tramped on by the slugging Pittsburgh Pirates 6-4 before 14,009 paid spectators.

Pitchers Johnny Beazley, Murry Dickson, Harry Brecheen, Blix Donnelly and Burkhardt yielded eleven hits, two wild pitches, eight bases on balls and hit one batter. Box:

CUBS NOSE OUT REDS

CINCINNATI, April 16 (AP) — The Chicago Cubs, 1945 National League champions, opened their season today with a 4-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds, their "cousins" of a year ago, but they almost didn't make it.

A crowd of 30,699 was ready to wrap up a Red victory going into the ninth inning and then something happened.

A couple of singles with Don Johnson's double produced a run to help tighten the affair. Peanuts Lowery blasted out another single and Phil Cavarretta did likewise to make the score 3-2.

Andy Pafko went out on an infield play and the game was tied but Marvin Rickert got a walk and Mickey Livingston struck out. At this point Bob Sheffing rammed a single that produced the game winning run. Box:

Last night's meeting was the league's final before the opening games and President John J. Long emphasized that the league will give 100 per cent support to Umpire-in-Chief William Spangler and his staff of arbiters.

Long urged the teams to refrain from running to him with their petty difficulties and requested that all protests be made in writing and forwarded to him.

Following the Interstate League session a meeting of the City Baseball League was held and G. Ray Lippold, secretary-treasurer, was instructed to draw up a schedule after difficulties over the acquisition of playing fields is ironed out at a meeting of the city clearing house committee, scheduled for 8 p. m. today in the Central YMCA.

Ricker Planning Next Fight Show Here on April 30

Shrout Hopes To Resume Amateur Programs Next Month

"Vic" Ricker, matchmaker for the Cumberland Athletic Club, of which Leonard "Chick" Little is promoter, hopes to present his next professional boxing show in the state armory on Tuesday, April 30.

For the past week Ricker has had lines out for out-of-town boxers to furnish the fireworks in his ten-round main go and eight-round semi-final but has nothing definite to announce at the present time.

Purses asked by many of the good boxers are much higher than the C.A.C. can guarantee, especially for a city Cumberland's size and the fact that a $2,000 gate at a "pro" show here is regarded as tops.

The Adragna brothers, of Carnegie, Pa., who performed brilliantly in the two top bouts of the first professional show of the season here March 18, drew down approximately $575 of the $2,200 gate but Ricker figures it will cost more to get the "fighting brothers" to return for future matches.

Adragna Gets $1,142

The local matchmaker produced a newspaper clipping from a Pittsburgh paper which stated that Mimmie Adragna, who whipped Jimmie Ricco, of Baltimore, here last month, received $1,142 for his second winning fight, against Augie Lapara, at New Orleans last Monday night, and he will return to Louisiana for another engagement on May 6. Mimmie and his brother, Sammy, have taken the Crescent City by storm according to reports from the South. Sammy will box Cosby Linson at New Orleans next Monday.

"My first show pleased the fans and I'm doing my best to line up another corking fight card," Ricker declared.

Shrout To Resume Shows

Matchmaker Robert E. Shrout, Jr., of the Allegany Athletic Association, who presented his last amateur show in SS. Peter and Paul gym on March 11, hopes to resume fistic action early next month. He will likely stage his next simon pure swat carnival two weeks after Ricker's show.

"I have plenty of time to work on a good card and I hope to be able to line up something worthwhile," Shrout said.

Orioles To Open Season Thursday

Baltimore Will Be Host to Rochester Wings in Its Opener

NEW YORK, April 16 (AP) — The International league, which begins its sixty-third consecutive season tomorrow, is in store for a banner year both at the gate and on the playing field in the opinion of Frank J. Shaughnessy, president of the circuit.

Toronto's Maple Leafs start the ball rolling at Syracuse tomorrow but the remainder of the teams do not swing into action until Thursday with Montreal at Jersey City, Rochester at Baltimore and Buffalo at Newark.

Among the newcomers to the league are infielder Jack Robinson and Pitcher John Wright, first Negroes in modern times to sign contracts with teams in organized baseball. Each is considered a better than average prospect.

Shaughnessy's optimism is based on what he saw during his visits to the Florida spring training camps of seven of the loop's eight clubs.

"Financially the league is bound to have a humdinger season," he added. "Surely the public is more sportminded than ever and that will be reflected in the spin of the turnstiles."

Cleveland Ace Twirls 3-Hitter, Fans Ten; Detroit, Yanks and Bosox Win Openers

CHICAGO, April 16 (AP) — Bobby Feller bested bespectacled Bill Dietrich in a brilliant pitching duel as the Cleveland Indians nipped the Chicago White Sox, 1-0, in an American league opener witnessed by 20,106 chilled fans at Comiskey park today.

Feller, who hurled an unprecedented opening day no-hitter exactly six years ago, yielded three hits and struck out ten, but needed a belly-flop catch by Center-Fielder Bob Lemon in the ninth to clinch the victory.

Dietrich, who fanned nine and gave up six hits, was touched for the deciding marker in the sixth when George Case walked, advanced on a sacrifice and scored on Hank Edwards's single, the second of three hits for the husky Tribe right-fielder. Box:

CUBS NOSE OUT REDS

CINCINNATI, April 16 (AP) — The Chicago Cubs, 1945 National League champions, opened their season today with a 4-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds, their "cousins" of a year ago, but they almost didn't make it.

A crowd of 30,699 was ready to wrap up a Red victory going into the ninth inning and then something happened.

A couple of singles with Don Johnson's double produced a run to help tighten the affair. Peanuts Lowery blasted out another single and Phil Cavarretta did likewise to make the score 3-2.

Andy Pafko went out on an infield play and the game was tied but Marvin Rickert got a walk and Mickey Livingston struck out. At this point Bob Sheffing rammed a single that produced the game winning run. Box:

Cumberland Lodge No. 271, Loyal Order of Moose, will play Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, in the opening game at 1:30 p. m., while Cumberland Aerie No. 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will cross bats with Fulton Myers Post, American Legion in the nightcap affair.

Music To Be Provided

Opening day ceremonies here will be marked by the presence of the Moose band, Fort Cumberland Post's drum corps and Fulton Myers Post's drum corps. Mayor Thomas S. Post will be invited to toss out the first ball and other members of the city council will be honored guests on the occasion.

Last night's meeting was the league's final before the opening games and President John J. Long emphasized that the league will give 100 per cent support to Umpire-in-Chief William Spangler and his staff of arbiters.

Long urged the teams to refrain from running to him with their petty difficulties and requested that all protests be made in writing and forwarded to him.

Following the Interstate League session a meeting of the City Baseball League was held and G. Ray Lippold, secretary-treasurer, was instructed to draw up a schedule after difficulties over the acquisition of playing fields is ironed out at a meeting of the city clearing house committee, scheduled for 8 p. m. today in the Central YMCA.

Home teams will be required to provide the plate umpire while the visiting club will be asked to supply the base arbiter. Franchise fees of $15 have been posted by each club.

Shrout Hopes To Resume Amateur Programs Next Month

"Vic" Ricker, matchmaker for the Cumberland Athletic Club, of which Leonard "Chick" Little is promoter, hopes to present his next professional boxing show in the state armory on Tuesday, April 30.

For the past week Ricker has had lines out for out-of-town boxers to furnish the fireworks in his ten-round main go and eight-round semi-final but has nothing definite to announce at the present time.

Purses asked by many of the good boxers are much higher than the C.A.C. can guarantee, especially for a city Cumberland's size and the fact that a $2,000 gate at a "pro" show here is regarded as tops.

The Adragna brothers, of Carnegie, Pa., who performed brilliantly in the two top bouts of the first professional show of the season here March 18, drew down approximately $575 of the $2,200 gate but Ricker figures it will cost more to get the "fighting brothers" to return for future matches.

Adragna Gets $1,142

The local matchmaker produced a newspaper clipping from a Pittsburgh paper which stated that Mimmie Adragna, who whipped Jimmie Ricco, of Baltimore, here last month, received $1,142 for his second winning fight, against Augie Lapara, at New Orleans last Monday night, and he will return to Louisiana for another engagement on May 6. Mimmie and his brother, Sammy, have taken the Crescent City by storm according to reports from the South. Sammy will box Cosby Linson at New Orleans next Monday.

"My first show pleased the fans and I'm doing my best to line up another corking fight card," Ricker declared.

Shrout To Resume Shows

Matchmaker Robert E. Shrout, Jr., of the Allegany Athletic Association, who presented his last amateur show in SS. Peter and Paul gym on March 11, hopes to resume fistic action early next month. He will likely stage his next simon pure swat carnival two weeks after Ricker's show.

"I have plenty of time to work on a good card and I hope to be able to line up something worthwhile," Shrout said.

Orioles To Open Season Thursday

Baltimore Will Be Host to Rochester Wings in Its Opener

NEW YORK, April 16 (AP) — The International league, which begins its sixty-third consecutive season tomorrow, is in store for a banner year both at the gate and on the playing field in the opinion of Frank J. Shaughnessy, president of the circuit.

Toronto's Maple Leafs start the ball rolling at Syracuse tomorrow but the remainder of the teams do not swing into action until Thursday with Montreal at Jersey City, Rochester at Baltimore and Buffalo at Newark.

"Financially the league is bound to have a humdinger season," he added. "Surely the public is more sportminded than ever and that will be reflected in the spin of the turnstiles."

Cleveland Ace Twirls 3-Hitter, Fans Ten; Detroit, Yanks and Bosox Win Openers

CHICAGO, April 16 (AP) — Bobby Feller bested bespectacled Bill Dietrich in a brilliant pitching duel as the Cleveland Indians nipped the Chicago White Sox, 1-0, in an American league opener witnessed by 20,106 chilled fans at Comiskey park today.

Feller, who hurled an unprecedented opening day no-hitter exactly six years ago, yielded three hits and struck out ten, but needed a belly-flop catch by Center-Fielder Bob Lemon in the ninth to clinch the victory.

Dietrich, who fanned nine and gave up six hits, was touched for the deciding marker in the sixth when George Case walked, advanced on a sacrifice and scored on Hank Edwards's single, the second of three hits for the husky Tribe right-fielder. Box:

HAD NEWHOUSER WINS

DETROIT, April 16 (AP) — Hal Newhouser, Detroit's lefthanded pitching ace chosen for two straight years as the American league's most valuable player, handcuffed the St. Louis Browns on six scattered hits and struck out eight men today as the world champion Tigers nipped the Brownies 2 to 1.

It remained for Hank Greenberg, however, to provide the throng of 52,118 paid—an opening game record crowd here— with its biggest thrill. Greenberg's fourth inning homer, a line drive into the left field seats with nobody on base, accounted for the winning run. Box:

HUGHSON TAMES NATS

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP) — President Truman made the first pitch and Ted Williams the No. 1 homer, thrilling 30,372 fans today as Boston's Red Sox beat Washington's Senator's, 6-3 in the season's opener.

Williams's homer with none on base was the longest hit seen here in fifteen years, carrying 430 feet into the centerfield bleachers. Jeff Heath of the Senators also hit a four-bagger, a 375-foot drive over the right field fence.

Strike of Grooms Mars Havre de Grace Meeting

Officials Fear Walkout Will Spread; Double Players Get Refunds Due to Scratches

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., April 16 (AP)—A strike of grooms at Havre de Grace today threatened to interrupt the track's spring meeting as officials voiced fears the walkout would spread to sympathetic blacksmiths and exercise boys.

Charles J. McLennan, racing secretary, asked that all persons attending tomorrow's races save admittance stubs to facilitate a refund if cancellation of that program proved necessary.

Despite several late scratches necessitated by the grooms' action, all races today were run as scheduled, and Cedar Farm's Lovemenow captured the feature, the $4,500 Gunpowder purse.

The daily double, combining Skippy B and Fred Cody, was worth $112.60 for $2. The track found it necessary, however, to make many mutuel refunds on daily double tickets, because of the scratches resulting from the strike. A false break in the fourth added further complications to the program, witnessed by 16,000 persons.

Five Kentucky Derby Eligibles Fail at Jamaica

By SID FEDER

NEW YORK, April 16—(AP)—Five of the second-string Kentucky Derby candidates went to the post in a couple of six-furlong sprints at Jamaica today, and not one of them managed to some home in the money.

The only day of hope among the lot of them in both halves of the Jamaica handicap was that the fast-finishing Ohio dark-horse, Alworth, may speak a loud enough piece to get that train ride to Kentucky May 4.

Otherwise, the only way such nominees as the Canadian sprinter, Windfields, and William Helis's Lycos, who wound up fourth and eighth, respectively, in the second half of the Jamaica, will find out about the derby will be to listen on the radio May 4. The other two eligibles to run today were East Light, a complacent seventh in Jamaica's first half, and Alstimu, a weary sixth in the second section.

A couple of Preakness eligibles, neither of whom was nominated for the derby, picked up the winner's paycheck of $8,025, for each end of the stake. In the first half, William Woodward's fleet filly, Bonnie Beryl, backed down to $4 for $2 by the crowd of 35,758—largest weekday throng of the Jamaica meeting—zipped the six furlongs in 1:11 2-5 to finish a head in front of the California invader, Jay Paley's Inroc, and give Jockey Jimmy Stout his first win of the New York season.

Alworth, a snappy campaigner in Florida last winter, just ran around behind the field in the first half, then came a-w down the stretch to run to Bonnie Beryl. His rapid run for the wire gave promise that the Wood's stretched-out length and the even longer mile and a quarter yardage of the derby, may fit his long legs better.

Police Warn Persons Who Read Dope Sheets

NEW YORK, April 16 (AP)—It's not illegal to read racing dope sheets in New York City—if you're careful where you stand.

Police Commissioner Arthur W. Wallander, clarifying yesterday's announcement police would arrest persons found scanning "scratch sheets," said today they would act under a law which forbids crowds at street corners or building entrances if they interfere with pedestrian traffic.

Feed Your Dog as Many Famous Breeders Do

H. Jack Cooper, owner of Aragon Kennels, Franklin Park, Ill. and breeder of champion Irish Setters, says: "We have found that basing our feeding on GRO-PUP helps produce rugged pups with good bone structure. Also, since using GRO-PUP, we have had no trouble with indigestion."

MOST breeders and veterinarians use and recommend a foundation diet of good dry dog food fed with scrap meat, including fat. So many feed Kellogg's GRO-PUP because it provides all the vitamins and minerals dogs are known to need for growth and vigor.

Officials Fear Walkout Will Spread; Double Players Get Refunds Due to Scratches

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., April 16 (AP)—A strike of grooms at Havre de Grace today threatened to interrupt the track's spring meeting as officials voiced fears the walkout would spread to sympathetic blacksmiths and exercise boys.

Charles J. McLennan, racing secretary, asked that all persons attending tomorrow's races save admittance stubs to facilitate a refund if cancellation of that program proved necessary.

Despite several late scratches necessitated by the grooms' action, all races today were run as scheduled, and Cedar Farm's Lovemenow captured the feature, the $4,500 Gunpowder purse.

Lovemenow paid $9.60, $4.00, and $2.90 for $2.

The daily double, combining Skippy B and Fred Cody, was worth $112.60 for $2. The track found it necessary, however, to make many mutuel refunds on daily double tickets, because of the scratches resulting from the strike. A false break in the fourth added further complications to the program, witnessed by 16,000 persons.

Parsons Cagers Are Rewarded by Brooks

PARSONS, W. Va., April 16.—Two Parsons high school basketball players have been honored by Coach Homer Brooks for their performance in foul shooting during the past season.

Donald Roy was presented a medal for making the most foul shots at regular practice while Lewis Roy received an award for converting approximately fifty-eight per cent of his shots in the regular games.

Five Kentucky Derby Eligibles Fail at Jamaica

By SID FEDER

NEW YORK, April 16—(AP)—Five of the second-string Kentucky Derby candidates went to the post in a couple of six-furlong sprints at Jamaica today, and not one of them managed to some home in the money.

The only day of hope among the lot of them in both halves of the Jamaica handicap was that the fast-finishing Ohio dark-horse, Alworth, may speak a loud enough piece to get that train ride to Kentucky May 4.

Otherwise, the only way such nominees as the Canadian sprinter, Windfields, and William Helis's Lycos, who wound up fourth and eighth, respectively, in the second half of the Jamaica, will find out about the derby will be to listen on the radio May 4. The other two eligibles to run today were East Light, a complacent seventh in Jamaica's first half, and Alstimu, a weary sixth in the second section.

A couple of Preakness eligibles, neither of whom was nominated for the derby, picked up the winner's paycheck of $8,025, for each end of the stake. In the first half, William Woodward's fleet filly, Bonnie Beryl, backed down to $4 for $2 by the crowd of 35,758—largest weekday throng of the Jamaica meeting—zipped the six furlongs in 1:11 2-5 to finish a head in front of the California invader, Jay Paley's Inroc, and give Jockey Jimmy Stout his first win of the New York season.

In the second section, a $40.20 for $2 outsider, Blunt Remark, owned by Texas oil man Frank Frankel, lasted for a head decision over Jule Fink's Ringoes in 1:13 1-5.

Alworth, a snappy campaigner in Florida last winter, just ran around behind the field in the first half, then came a-w down the stretch to run to Bonnie Beryl. His rapid r n for the wire gave promise that the Wood's stretched-out length and the even longer mile and a quarter yardage of the derby, may fit his long legs better.

Police Warn Persons Who Read Dope Sheets

NEW YORK, April 16 (AP)—It's not illegal to read racing dope sheets in New York City—if you're careful where you stand.

Police Commissioner Arthur W. Wallander, clarifying yesterday's announcement police would arrest persons found scanning "scratch sheets," said today they would act under a law which forbids crowds at street corners or building entrances if they interfere with pedestrian traffic.

H. Jack Cooper, owner of Aragon Kennels, Franklin Park, Ill. and breeder of champion Irish Setters, says: "We have found that basing our feeding on GRO-PUP helps produce rugged pups with good bone structure. Also, since using GRO-PUP, we have had no trouble with indigestion."

MOST breeders and veterinarians use and recommend a foundation diet of good dry dog food fed with scrap meat, including fat. So many feed Kellogg's GRO-PUP because it provides all the vitamins and minerals dogs are known to need for growth and vigor.

Two Forfeit Bond While One Pays Fine On Driving Charges

Norman Paul Reidler, Tunnelton, W. Va., forfeited bond of $112.90 in trial magistrates court yesterday when he did not appear for hearings on charges of drunken and reckless driving.

Reidler was arrested in LaVale, April 13, by State Trooper Blair J. Buckel. The officer said the man was driving recklessly, weaving his car over the road and endangering other motorists.

Ann C. Bloom, RFD No. 1, was fined $5.75 by Trial Magistrate Frank A. Perdew, after pleading guilty to a charge of passing a school bus while it was discharging passengers in LaVale. Trooper Harry A. Holsinger made the arrest Monday.

John D. Laing, RFD No. 2, arrested Sunday by Trooper Ira G. Unger, forfeited bond of $6.45 when he failed to appear before Trial Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr. yesterday. He was arrested on a charge of exceeding thirty miles an hour in a thirty-mile zone.

Forest Fire Destroys Anne Arundel Homes

BALTIMORE, April 16—Firefighters patrolled a 300-acre woodland area of Anne Arundel county today guarding against fresh outbreaks of flames which destroyed three houses and approached the Hawkins Point ammunition depot.

The forest fire—one of fourteen fought yesterday in Southern Maryland—was attributed to lack of moisture caused by a thirteen-day drought and perhaps a carelessly discarded cigaret stub. It swept over the county until early this morning when it was brought under control by volunteers, community fire companies, and hundreds of coast guardsmen and sailors.

The coastguardsmen—350 of them—were called out when the fire headed in the direction of the ammunition loading area at Hawkins Point. They brought along mobile fire-fighting apparatus, and the flames were halted about a mile from the depot.

At least three homes and a number of outbuildings were destroyed, but Henry W. Schlosser, senior forest supervisor in the Laurel area, said "fortunately, we kept the flames from well-populated areas."

Two Forfeit Bond While One Pays Fine On Driving Charges

Norman Paul Reidler, Tunnelton, W. Va., forfeited bond of $112.90 in trial magistrates court yesterday when he did not appear for hearings on charges of drunken and reckless driving.

Reidler was arrested in LaVale, April 13, by State Trooper Blair J. Buckel. The officer said the man was driving recklessly, weaving his car over the road and endangering other motorists.

Ann C. Bloom, RFD No. 1, was fined $5.75 by Trial Magistrate Frank A. Perdew, after pleading guilty to a charge of passing a school bus while it was discharging passengers in LaVale. Trooper Harry A. Holsinger made the arrest Monday.

John D. Laing, RFD No. 2, arrested Sunday by Trooper Ira G. Unger, forfeited bond of $6.45 when he failed to appear before Trial Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr. yesterday. He was arrested on a charge of exceeding thirty miles an hour in a thirty-mile zone.

Forest Fire Destroys Anne Arundel Homes

BALTIMORE, April 16—Firefighters patrolled a 300-acre woodland area of Anne Arundel county today guarding against fresh outbreaks of flames which destroyed three houses and approached the Hawkins Point ammunition depot.

The forest fire—one of fourteen fought yesterday in Southern Maryland—was attributed to lack of moisture caused by a thirteen-day drought and perhaps a carelessly discarded cigaret stub. It swept over the county until early this morning when it was brought under control by volunteers, community fire companies, and hundreds of coast guardsmen and sailors.

The coastguardsmen—350 of them—were called out when the fire headed in the direction of the ammunition loading area at Hawkins Point. They brought along mobile fire-fighting apparatus, and the flames were halted about a mile from the depot.

At least three homes and a number of outbuildings were destroyed, but Henry W. Schlosser, senior forest supervisor in the Laurel area, said "fortunately, we kept the flames from well-populated areas."

In Memoriam

Dear Fred, one year ago today,
The Lord claimed you for His throne,
He took you to the land above
And now you are His own.

We miss you here on earth, dear Fred,
We loved you very dear,
And to us you never will be dead,
You always seem so near.

God bless you, Father, son and brother,
And until we see your smiling face,
Dear Fred, there never will be another
That could ever take your place.

Sadly missed by his Parents,
MR. & MRS. R. S. KINCAID,
BROTHERS AND SISTERS.

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, John D. Myers, who passed away April 17, 1945.

Of the loss of one we loved so well,

HAGERSTOWN SHERIFF OFFERS $300 REWARD IN KENNEDY SLAYING

HAGERSTOWN, April 16 (AP) — Sheriff John B. Huyett today offered a personal reward of $300 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the slayer of Betty Jane Kennedy, whose nude body was found April 4 in nearby Pennsylvania.

Meanwhile, officers reported that the shoes worn by the 19-year-old girl when she was slain were found a short distance from the spot where her purse was recovered last week on Route 16, near Rouzerville, Pa.

City Detective Wayne Sellman said the shoes were found yesterday and reported by Mrs. Bernice Toms, who came upon one of them while she was seeking mushrooms. After finding the first shoe, a brown pump, Mrs. Toms and her husband searched for the second, and found it 75 feet away.

Recovery of the shoes led police to intensify their search of the highway, which leads to the Sunshine trail, for the other missing items of clothing. The girl's body was nude when found the morning of April 4, except for a slip rolled up under her arms.

The police said a billfold in which the girl kept her personal papers and pictures evidently had been removed from her purse, which was found a mile and a half from the girl's body. The billfold is still missing.

Miss Kennedy was last seen alive the night of April 3. Doctors who examined the body said she was strangled and her neck was broken.

In loving memory of Frederick Kincaid, who was killed in action one year ago today.

Dear Fred, one year ago today,
The Lord claimed you for His throne,
He took you to the land above
And now you are His own.

We miss you here on earth, dear Fred,
We loved you very dear,
And to us you never will be dead,
You always seem so near.

God bless you, Father, son and brother,
And until we see your smiling face,
Dear Fred, there never will be another
That could ever take your place.

Sadly missed by his Parents,

And while he sleeps a peaceful sleep,

HAGERSTOWN SHERIFF OFFERS $300 REWARD IN KENNEDY SLAYING

HAGERSTOWN, April 16 (AP) — Sheriff John B. Huyett today offered a personal reward of $300 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the slayer of Betty Jane Kennedy, whose nude body was found April 4 in nearby Pennsylvania.

The board of county commissioners offered a $100 reward, the maximum allowed by law.

Meanwhile, officers reported that the shoes worn by the 18-year-old girl when she was slain were found a short distance from the spot where her purse was recovered last week on Route 16, near Rouzerville, Pa.

City Detective Wayne Sellman said the shoes were found yesterday and reported by Mrs. Bernice Toms, who came upon one of them while she was seeking mushrooms. After finding the first shoe, a brown pump, Mrs. Toms and her husband searched for the second, and found it 75 feet away.

Recovery of the shoes led police to intensify their search of the highway, which leads to the Sunshine trail, for the other missing items of clothing. The girl's body was nude when found the morning of April 4, except for a slip rolled up under her arms.

The police said a billfold in which the girl kept her personal papers and pictures evidently had been removed from her purse, which was found a mile and a half from the girl's body. The billfold is still missing.

Miss Kennedy was last seen alive the night of April 3. Doctors who examined the body said she was strangled and her neck was broken.

County Tax Rate Remains at $1.77, Same as in 1945

$30,000 Appropriated for Election Expenses; Repairing Costs Cut

The 1946 tax levy which was fixed yesterday by the county commissioners revealed that property owners in Allegany county do not face any increase in taxation this year.

The 1946 rate will remain fixed at $1.77 on each $100 of assessable property, the same as last year, the report shows.

The only big increase shown in the levy approved yesterday is that of election expenses set at $30,000 compared to $4,000 last year. This, of course, is necessitated by this year's elections. This increase, however, is balanced by a corresponding decrease in repair costs and salaries.

Total Levy Is $1,945,863.86

The total amount called for is $1,945,863.86. An assessment of $95,000,000 at $1.77 on each $100 of assessable property equals $1,681,500. Other sources of income which pull the total up to the $1,945,863 figure are:

Tax from bank stock, $8,000; corporation franchise tax, $1,500; amount due from the state for the maintenance of insane, $8,000; estimated amount of interest on taxes, $5,000; estimated from liquor licenses, $15,000; from the state roads commission for lateral roads, $122,500; from the state comptroller, county's allocation of income tax, $10,000; anticipated receipts from jail, $2,000; magistrate's, $1,500; people's court, $2,000; from paid patients in state hospitals $4,000; from proceeds of Allegany inn mortgage, $19,500; and an unexpected balance from the Allegany County Welfare Board, $1,084.74; and an aggregate of unexpended balances of $64,279.11 from the previous levy.

Anticipated costs as set by the board for the 1946 levy are as follows: aid to dependent children, $9,500; Allegany County Home and Infirmary, $37,000; appropriations to incorporated towns, $19,174; appropriations to volunteer fire companies, $12,525; assessment expense, $15,000; attorney's fees, $500; board of health, $18,000, the same as last year; bounties, $2,000; circuit court judges and stenographers, $6,111; clerk's fees, $3,226.04; constables' fees, $4,000; contingent fund, $57,256.82; county commissioners, $19,440; county office building maintenance, $4,000; court house fund, $11,000; debt bond account, $191,000; debt bond coupon account, $127,586.25; deputy medical examiner, $1,800; discounts, $75,000; election expenses, $30,000; farmers' cooperative agent, $4,300; forest fire account, $2,000; general public assistance, $74,797.27; insane asylum, $36,000; insolvencies and erroneous assessments, $11,000; jail account, $11,000; jury and witness fund, $12,000; juvenile court fund, $5,000; magistrates' fund, $9,500; Maryland Training School for Boys and Girls, $14,000; old age pensions, $41,269.12; orphans' court fund, $4,519.18; peoples' court fund, $13,460; public assistance to blind, $2,490; public schools, $807,313; repairs to county buildings, $5,000; roads and bridges, $182,500; sheriff's salaries, $12,432; state's attorney's fund, $13,000; state insane hospitals, $29,000; sundry charities, $1,500; tax collectors' fund, $26,000; tax sale purchases, $2,000; transfer fees, $264; and treasurer's salary, $1,300.

Road, Bridge Funds Increase

In comparing this year's levy with that of last year it is noted that the 1946 appropriations list prospective costs in the road and bridge fund at $182,500 compared to $128,187 last year, an increase of $54,312.77. Actually, the amount levied for this maintenance is $60,000, representing a decrease of $9,887.23, compared to the year before. The explanation of the apparent increase is in the fact that income this year from the state gasoline tax for lateral roads is expected to be $122,500 compared to only $58,300 the year before. The reason for this expected increase in revenue is, of course, the end of the war and the lifting of wartime restrictions on gasoline and automobile accessories.

A study of a breakdown of the fractions in the amounts levied reveals that schools require 73.44 of the 177 total levied, being by far the largest single expense of the county. The debt bond account represents 17.37 and is followed by the road and bridge item of 16.65.

Twenty-four Increases

In all, twenty-four increases in appropriations, most of them minor in nature, are noted in the 1946 levy compared to the 1945 levy. The largest increases for elections and bridges and roads have already been noted. Assessment expense was upped $3,000, the appropriation for the county home shows an increase of $2,000; court house expenses will be $2,500 more, general public assistance, $2,398 more, insolvencies and erroneous assessments $2,000 more; juvenile court fund shows an increase of $2,100, public schools an increase of $1,504; and the tax collectors' fund an increase of $2,000.

Eight anticipated cost decreases are shown on the new levy. The board has slashed repairs for county buildings from $20,000 last year to $5,000 this year, a decrease of $15,000. The board cut their own fund from $19,800 to $17,790, a decrease of $2,010; and the salary-wage increase of $7,100 levied last year will not be levied this year.

Volunteers Will Launch Campaign For Church Fund

Sixty volunteer workers attended a dinner last evening at First Presbyterian Church lecture hall, to begin a fund raising campaign, for the purpose of financing a building expansion program at the church. The campaign is to raise a total of $60,000, of which $15,000 is already in the church's building fund.

Gordon L. Bowie was master of ceremonies and presented the speakers, including John F. Rodman, Jr., chairman of the building and finance committee; Edmund S. Burke, co-chairman, Harold W. Smith and the Rev. William A. Eisenberger, pastor.

Rodman explained the purpose of the drive and outlined the need for additional facilities at the church. He praised the work of the committee over a period of months, as plans were made, revised and worked out, and thanked all those who helped plan the campaign.

More Facilities Needed

Burke said facilities of the church have not been expanded for over twenty-five years, and the need is great. He contrasted the present era with the era when the church was built seventy-five years ago, and expressed the view that while the cost now will be greater, opportunities and incomes of the great majority of people are equally greater. Burke said there are 880 members of the church. This means, he explained, that if each member contributes an average of $10 per year for five years, the needed $45,000 can be obtained without "financial pain to anyone."

Smith spoke on the history of the church. He said the church has played a major part in the history of the community, and in community development. The membership of the church has been well represented in every drive, campaign and major project for community good, over a period of many years, he said.

Smith reminded his listeners that this is a capital account campaign, with pledges for five year periods, and more time should be taken with each prospect than is normally used in soliciting subscriptions on local annual drives. He referred to his listeners as "old campaigners," saying, "As I look around, I see many faces that are always present at affairs of this kind. But this is the first time we have ever assembled to do something for our own church."

Pastor Praises Publicity

The Rev. Mr. Eisenberger spoke briefly on the need for the expanded church facility. He told workers the "church has many friends in the community," and many people have complimented him as a representative of the church on the progressive step about to be undertaken. The minister also said that publicity regarding the building program has resulted in several personal encounters by reliable and responsible persons who have said, "I want to join your church."

The first report of the campaign's progress is to be made at 7 p. m. April 24, Rodman said. A meeting of team captains will be held at that time. Rodman explained this is the same night as the annual meeting of the congregation, and it is hoped that a good report can be obtained for that meeting.

The campaign will continue until every member of the church is contacted, and it is hoped that a final meeting can be held April 30, it was indicated.

The dinner was prepared and served by members of the Women's Association of the church. Mrs. E. T. Haller had charge of the dinner, assisted by Mrs. Walter Pierce and others. Mrs. Porter D. Collins and Mrs. P. G. Ervin are co-leaders of the women's division for the campaign.

Audiometer Used At Local Clinic

An estimated thirty-eight patients were examined yesterday on the opening day of a hearing clinic being conducted by Dr. M. B. Breitstein, Baltimore, of the Johns Hopkins hospital staff, at headquarters of the Allegany County League for Crippled Children.

Four of the patients, most of whom were school children, were from Garrett county, according to Dr. Joseph P. Franklin, city and county health officer.

An audiometer recently donated to the county health department by Mountain district of the American Legion, which is sponsoring the clinic in co-operation with the health department, was used to test the hearing of the patients. Mrs. Breitstein operated the audiometer.

Mrs. Hume O. Annan, executive secretary of the league, visited the clinic yesterday morning. She returned from Baltimore last Thursday, where she had been hospitalized for several weeks following an automobile accident in Alabama during a vacation trip last February.

Mrs. Annan said last night that she will return to Baltimore next week for observation and any necessary treatment, adding that she will not be able to resume her duties at league headquarters for several weeks. She suffered injuries of the chest and face in the accident.

The clinic will be held from 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. today, and from 9 a. m. until noon tomorrow. No more appointments are available, Dr. Franklin said.

Public health nurses who assisted Dr. Breitstein yesterday were the Misses Anna Hardy, Louise Lippold, Marion Weber, supervisor of public health nurses in Allegany county; and Catherine Smith.

Textile Union Will Act on Wage Offer

Members of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, will meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock and tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock to act upon a Celanese Corporation of America offer of a five per cent wage increase.

In a statement of April 12, William Boyd Coleman, president, declared the officers and negotiating committee of the union will recommend that the offer be rejected.

Union officials said they will oppose the offer for two reasons, first, because they are opposed to percentage increases in wages and second, because the offer excludes some 1,000 employes at the Celanese plant from any wage increase.

Company officials, in announcing the offer, said the exceptions to the offer were in the warp knitting, dyeing and cafeteria departments, and asserted workers there are already on an equitable basis when compared to other establishments.

Commission Opens Bids on Frederick, Hagerstown Road

BALTIMORE, April 16 (AP) — The Williams Construction Company, Middle River, was low bidder of five bidding for the 8.63-mile Hagerstown - Myersville - Frederick dual highway, State Roads Commissioner Robert Reindollar announced today.

He said the Williams company bid $745,501.50 for a reinforced concrete job and $728,912.50 for asphaltic concrete on the relocation stretch two miles southeast of Funkstown.

Bids will be opened April 23 on the following highway projects: Wisconsin avenue, extending two miles to Chestnut avenue, and University Lane, between Seek's Corner and College Park, about three and one-half miles—asphaltic concrete surfacing; Main street in Denton, less than a mile—grading and penetration macadam widening.

Reindollar set April 26 for receiving bids on the following county projects for bituminous road surface treatment: Dorchester, Worcester, Wicomico and Somerset, 591,125 gallons; Talbot, Caroline, Queen Anne's, Kent, and Cecil 357-219 gallons; Anne Arundel, Carroll, Howard, and Montgomery 266,843 gallons; Baltimore and Harford, 193,884; Calvert, Charles, St. Mary's, and Prince George's, 876,623; Allegany, Garrett, Frederick, and Washington, 260,146.

Judge Capper Says Young Children Should Not Be Detained in Jail

Speaking on the subject "Juvenile Delinquency", Associate Judge Walter C. Capper yesterday told the members of the Rotary club that it is unwise to detain young children in a jail and that some arrangement should be made to have them detained at the home of some respectable person until disposition can be made of the case.

Addressing the Rotarians at their weekly luncheon meeting, Judge Capper said that great care should be taken in handling juvenile cases and added that if "it becomes necessary to detain a young child for examination or trial it is most important, indeed, that the child be not confined with adult offenders.

"This may sound like unnecessary advice," Judge Capper said, "but I know in counties like this, and other counties in the state, no place is provided for the custody of such an offender except the county jail.

"Sheriff Steele has told me that he never confines a juvenile offender in any part of his jail occupied by adults. Nevertheless, a jail is a jail, and it is no place to confine youthful juvenile offenders except for the most serious crimes. Some arrangement can certainly be made to have such persons detained at the home of some respectable person until it can be decided definitely what disposition is to be made of the case."

In citing recent outbreaks of juvenile delinquency in Cumberland and elsewhere, Judge Capper said that it is generally conceded that most of the delinquency is caused by "broken or inadequate homes."

In many cities, nurseries are being maintained at public expense or by private charity to take care of children while their mothers are working.

Judge Capper also pointed out that in some places schools for parents have been established. In this same connection, the speaker stated that every parent with children in public schools should belong to the Parent-Teacher association of his child's school.

Coal Strike Cuts Western Maryland Shops Work Week

Revert to Five Days; Billing Clerks Furloughed; Pay Is Increased

Lyming said shop employes have been working a seven-day week since 1941, and that the cut back to forty hours was due solely to the coal strike.

If the strike continues, the next move would be to furlough employes, but Lyming said this does not appear imminent.

Prior to starting on the seven-day week during the national emergency before the war, Western Maryland shop employes were working, generally, a six to six and a half-day week, the master mechanic said.

William B. Lee, Elkins division engineer, said that no furloughing has been necessary in the maintenance of way department as yet, but that it will be necessary to lay off some employes soon unless the coal strike situation clears up.

First furloughing on the Elkins division of the Western Maryland was disclosed last night by Joseph M. Miller, division superintendent, who said that three billing clerks at Knobmount have been laid off because of the coal strike. Six billing clerks were employed at Knobmount until coal shipments declined, he said.

Although shop employes reverted to a five-day week, there is some consolation for them in the fact that a sixteen-cent hourly wage increase, retroactive to January 1, became effective yesterday, according to Miller.

He said the pay increase benefits "practically everybody" on the division although some employes are not affected.

VFW Post Roster Numbers 2,076

Henry Hart Post No. 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars met last night and accepted twenty-two new members, all veterans of World War II. The post now has a total paid-up membership of 2,076,, according to John Fike, commander.

Reports were made on three members who are patients in veterans' hospitals. They are Henry Stein, patient at Aspinwall; William Shade, University hospital, Baltimore and Michael Grady, at Perry Point. The three veterans are doing all right, it was reported.

J. C. McGee was appointed a committee of one to represent the post on the Civilian Volunteer committee, to encourage and promote recruiting programs for the army. The post membership voted unanimously to assist in the program and give it their co-operation.

Two Appeal Cases Heard by Court; Civil Cases Today

In an appeal case tried yesterday in circuit court before a jury, a verdict of $40.06 in favor of Mrs. Mary Koontz, Mt. Savage, was returned. The appeal was taken by Edward D. Hartman, Cumberland, from a decision by Trial Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., in Trial Magistrates' court following a collision of two cars last November 4 at the intersection of Fairview avenue and Furnace street. Paul M. Fletcher was counsel for Mrs. Koontz and Hartman was represented by William L. Wilson, Jr.

A judgment by agreement for $500 in favor of Andrew J. McKenzie was returned yesterday after his $2,000 damage action against Glenna Robertson was started before a jury and Chief Judge William A. Huster and Associate Judge Walter C. Capper.

McKenzie represented by Estel C. Kelley, said he was struck by an automobile owned by the defendant on November 20, 1943, while he was crossing the street in Lonaconing. Edward J. Ryan was counsel for the defendant.

McKenzie charged that his right leg was fractured and he was confined in a hospital for some time. An artificial leg was also damaged, he said. McKenzie had his left leg amputated at the knee several years prior to the accident on the street.

Following a hearing before Judge Huster, a settlement was reached in equity action of Carl Tribut against his wife, Mrs. Mary Tribut, in a dispute over $4,500 which Tribut charged he had hidden under a coal pile at his home and which he said his estranged wife removed and placed in the First National Bank here.

Terms of the settlement were not disclosed but it was said the money was divided by the couple. They have been married more than sixteen years and have four children. The wife filed a divorce action some time ago in circuit court. John T. Fey and Kelley were attorneys for the wife with Edward J. Ryan representing Tribut.

Members of the petit jury were instructed to return this morning when civil cases are scheduled. A number of cases on the civil docket have been postponed or will be removed from this county, court attaches said yesterday.

Seek Crash Driver

Police are still seeking the hit-and-run driver who they were told struck and badly damaged the car of Lester J. Jewell while it was parked in front of 937 Maryland avenue Saturday.

George C. Doub Makes Statement On Candidacy

Former Cumberlander Has No GOP Opposition for Attorney General

George Cochran Doub, formerly of Cumberland, who is unopposed for the Republican nomination for attorney general after filing his certificate of candidacy late Monday night, declared yesterday that he will conduct the office "without reference to politics or political influence or political interests" if he is elected.

Running on the ticket with Theodore R. McKeldin, who is seeking the Republican nomination for governor, Doub, in a prepared statement, declared that "under the Maryland Constitution it is the duty of the attorney general to prosecute and defend on the part of the state all cases in the court of appeals and in the Supreme Court of the United States, by or against the state. He must also furnish legal opinions to the General Assembly, the governor, the comptroller, any state's attorney and other state officers.

"The office of attorney general is, and should be, therefore, a non-political office. I have never held public office, and have never run for public office before. If I am elected, the office of attorney general will be conducted—as it should be—without reference to politics or political influence or political interests.

Practices in Baltimore

"I am pleased to be associated with Theodore R. McKeldin, the candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, who will give the state, if elected, a capable, progressive administration."

Doub was admitted to the bar in 1926 and since then has practiced law in Baltimore. He is a member of the law firm of Marshall, All, Carey and Doub; is a member of the character committee appointed by the court of appeals to pass on applicants for the Maryland Bar, and is a member of the American Bar Association, the Maryland Bar Association and the Baltimore Bar Association.

He is former general attorney for the Western-Maryland Railway Company, and is president of the Maryland's Children Aid Society.

A lieutenant commander in the United States Naval Reserve, Doub served for three years with the Pacific fleet during the war as air combat intelligence officer for Carrier Air Group Six. He was on the aircraft carrier USS Enterprise during the longest night torpedo attacks of the war.

Served on USS Intrepid

Doub was on the aircraft carrier USS Intrepid when it was torpedoed off Truk, and was on the USS Hancock when left burning from Kamikaze attacks off Okinawa. He participated in five major engagements in the war.

Doub was educated at Episcopal high school and Princeton university, and received his bachelor of arts degree from Johns Hopkins university and his law degree from the University of Maryland Law school.

He is a son of former Judge and Mrs. Albert A. Doub, Cumberland, is married and has three children. He makes his home now at Owings Mills.

Tawes and Cobey Confer on Local Campaign Policy

J. Millard Tawes, state comptroller and candidate for governor on the Democratic primary ticket, accompanied by his running mate, Charles Roloson, Baltimore business executive, candidate for state comptroller, are visiting this city and county in the interests of their campaign.

Yesterday the two candidates conferred with W. Earle Cobey, candidate for attorney-general on the Democratic primary ballot. Cobey, local attorney and veteran of World War II, endorsed Tawes and Roloson in his announcement.

The attorney-general slot is open on the Tawes ticket, but the gubernatorial candidate said yesterday, "I am conferring with Mr. Cobey and hope to have an announcement in a few days concerning the attorney-general place in my ticket. I welcome the indorsement of Mr. Cobey and the support of himself and his friends. The anonuncement of Mr. Cobey's candidacy has been well received throughout the state."

Tawes and Roloson made numerous visits throughout the city, met and conferred with a number of officials and well known people. Last night Tawes attended a meeting of volunteer firemen of Allegany and Garrett counties in Barton, and Roloson attended a meeting of the Retail Grocers Association here.

Conferences were held last night with Democratic party workers here who are supporting Tawes, Roloson and Cobey. Plans are being made to open Tawes headquarters Thursday.

Tawes and Roloson plan to leave for Baltimore this morning, where Tawes has a speaking engagement tonight.

Both candidates indicated they expect to return to this county and also to visit in Garrett county at an early date.

Compensation Test Case for Miners To Be Heard Today

Whether or not coal miners are eligible for Maryland unemployment compensation benefits during the present work stoppage is expected to be determined here today when the appeal of Arthur Metz, an employe of the Campbell Coal Company, is heard by a referee assigned to the case by the Maryland Jnemployment Compensation Board.

The hearing, to be attended by coal operators and representatives of District 16, United Mine Workers of America, will be held before Miss Irene Zaccaro, Baltimore, the referee. It is scheduled for 10 a. m. in city hall auditorium.

Several miners filed claims for compensation after the coal strike began, but they were disallowed by a preliminary decision.

Metz filed his appeal with the state board on April 8 in the nature of a test case, and the decision reached at today's hearing is expected to decide if approximately 2,000 other miners in Allegany and Garrett counties are eligible for unemployment benefits during the stoppage.

In his appeal, Metz declared that he is not on strike, but that he has no contract or wage agreement with his employer and therefore cannot work. On that basis, he said, he is entitled to compensation.

Criminal Trial To Open Monday

Criminal trials of the April court term will begin Monday with Edward A. Shook, 41, Rawlings, scheduled to go on trial for manslaughter in the death of Martin C. Duncan, 50, Harrison street, a Celanese worker, who was struck by Shook's car at 7:30 last January 5, according to police.

Officers reported that Duncan was walking along the McMullen highway when he was struck by the automobile and died January 16 in a local hospital. He received a fractured skull and other injuries.

State police said Shook stopped his car and then extinguished his car lights and left the scene but wrecked his machine about a mile from the scene of the mishap. State Trooper Glen D. Folk said Shook was hiding near the wrecked car and was discovered when he lighted a cigaret.

County authorities said Harry Hickle is accused of receiving twenty-four blankets, valued at $74.60, and a clothes hamper, said to have been stolen February 25 from the Siehler Furniture Company store, North Centre street.

Three boys and two girls from Fort Hill high school will be named to serve on the council, with two boys and one girl from Allegany high school. # Fort Hill High Students Are Taking School Elections Today Seriously

A week of campaigning, with posters, cards and political speeches over the public address system, will be climaxed this morning by the annual election of officers for student government and the upper three classes at Fort Hill high school.

Patterning their election upon the city election held here last month, the students set up regulations for filing petitions of candidacy, held a registration day for prospective voters, conducted a primary election last Friday, and borrowed ten voting booths and three ballot boxes from Samuel E. Griminger, city clerk, for use in the general election.

Calvin Mahaney, student public relations officer who is one of the three student officers in charge of the election, said that forty members of next year's sophomore, junior and senior classes are running for the sixteen elective offices to be filled today.

Fifty-six petitions, each signed by forty students, were filed with Phyllis Burley, a senior and secretary of the department of industry at the school, by April 5, the deadline for filing. Last Friday a primary election was held to cut down on the number of candidates.

700 Ballots Prepared

The voting booths have been set up in the school gymnasium, where balloting will be held from 9 to 11:30 a. m. today. The tellers will be Miss Burley, Mahaney and Harold Bishop, president of the student council, who are in charge of the election, assisted by Miss Lillian Myers, faculty advisor and a member of the history department teaching staff.

Results of the election will be announced over the school's public address system as soon as the votes are tabulated, Mahaney said. Successful candidates will take office next fall.

The two topics to be discussed at this year's conference are school cafeterias and pupil transportation, and the Allegany county school setup was selected as the locale for the annual meeting due to this school system's accepted excellence in both departments. The fact this county was selected for the discussions and an all-day "field trip" is regarded as a distinct compliment to the Allegany county schools and school officials here have prepared an elaborate program.

The two-day meeting will open at 9:45 a. m. Thursday with a presentation of the program by Superintendent Charles L. David W. Zimmerman, state supervisor of special education, will preside at the conference on transportation scheduled for 9 o'clock Friday morning at the administration building. The general topic will be "Transportation of School Children" and Dr. Gleen Featherstone, senior specialist of school transportation, United States Office of Education, will speak. # Marines To Recruit Local Platoon

The marine corps has announced a plan to enlist and organize a platoon of sixty Cumberland and Allegany county men, to be known as the Cumberland Platoon, for induction into marine corps service June 4, according to S-Sgt. Murrel Brainerd, local recruiter.

Brainerd said yesterday, that Major K. B. Pickel of the Baltimore Marine Corps Procurement Division, has approved the plan, and instructed Brainerd to proceed with enlisting the platoon.

Designed to attract young men about to graduate from high school, the platoon will be inducted and sworn in on the stage of the Strand theater the night of June 4, by Major Pickel. The men will then leave for twelve weeks training as a unit, at Parris, Island, S. C. At the end of twelve weeks training, each will be given a ten-day furlough, returning to Cumberland together, and going back to Parris Island as a unit.

One section of the platoon, Brainerd said will be an aviation section, while the other will be made up of men assigned to line and general duty.

County Tax Rate Remains at $1.77, Same as in 1945

$30,000 Appropriated for Election Expenses; Repairing Costs Cut

The 1946 tax levy which was fixed yesterday by the county commissioners revealed that property owners in Allegany county do not face any increase in taxation this year.

The 1946 rate will remain fixed at $1.77 on each $100 of assessable property, the same as last year, the report shows.

The only big increase shown in the levy approved yesterday is that of election expenses set at $30,000 compared to $4,000 last year. This, of course, is necessitated by this year's elections. This increase, however, is balanced by a corresponding decrease in repair costs and salaries.

The total amount called for is $1,945,863.86. An assessment of $95,000,000 at $1.77 on each $100 of assessable property equals $1,681,500. Other sources of income which pull the total up to the $1,945,863 figure are:

Tax from bank stock, $8,000; corporation franchise tax, $1,500; amount due from the state for the maintenance of insane, $8,000; estimated amount of interest on taxes, $5,000; estimated from liquor licenses, $15,000; from the state roads commission for lateral roads, $122,500; from the state comptroller, county's allocation of income tax, $10,000; anticipated receipts from jail, $2,000; magistrate's, $1,500; people's court, $2,000; from paid patients in state hospitals $4,000; from proceeds of Allegany inn mortgage, $19,500; and an unexpected balance from the Allegany County Welfare Board, $1,084.74; and an aggregate of unexpended balances of $64,279.11 from the previous levy.

Anticipated costs as set by the board for the 1946 levy are as follows: aid to dependent children, $9,500; Allegany County Home and Infirmary, $37,000; appropriations to incorporated towns, $19,174; appropriations to volunteer fire companies, $12,525; assessment expense, $15,000; attorney's fees, $500; board of health, $18,000, the same as last year; bounties, $2,000; circuit court judges and stenographers, $6,111; clerk's fees, $3,226.04; constables' fees, $4,000; contingent fund, $27,266.82; county commissioners, $19,440; county office building maintenance, $4,000; court house fund, $11,000; debt bond account, $191,000; debt bond coupon account, $127,586.25; deputy medical examiner, $1,800; discounts, $75,000; election expenses, $30,000; farmers' cooperative agent, $4,300; forest fire account, $2,000; general public assistance, $74,797.27; insane asylum, $36,000; insolvencies and erroneous assessments, $11,000; jail account, $11,000; jury and witness fund, $12,000; juvenile court fund, $13,460; public assistance to blind, $2,490; public schools, $807,313; repairs to county buildings, $5,000; roads and bridges, $182,500; sheriff's salaries, $12,432; state's attorney's fund, $13,000; state insane hospitals, $29,000; sundry charities, $1,500; tax collectors' fund, $26,000; tax sale purchases, $2,000; transfer fees, $264; and treasurer's salary, $1,300.

Road, Bridge Funds Increase

In comparing this year's levy with that of last year it is noted that the 1946 appropriations list prospective costs in the road and bridge fund at $182,500 compared to $128,187 last year, an increase of $54,312.77. Actually, the amount levied for this maintenance is $60,000, representing a decrease of $9,887.23 compared to the year before. The explanation of the apparent increase is in the fact that income this year from the state gasoline tax for lateral roads is expected to be $122,500 compared to only $58,300 the year before. The reason for this expected increase in revenue is, of course, the end of the war and the lifting of wartime restrictions on gasoline and automobile accessories.

A study of a breakdown of the fractions in the amounts levied reveals that schools require 73.44 of the 177 total levied, being by far the largest single expense of the county. The debt bond account represents 17.37 and is followed by the road and bridge item of 16.65.

In all, twenty-four increases in appropriations, most of them minor in nature, are noted in the 1946 levy compared to the 1945 levy. The largest increases for elections and bridges and roads have already been noted. Assessment expense was upped $3,000, the appropriation for the county home shows an increase of $2,500; court house expenses will be $3,500 more, general public assistance, $2,398 more, insolvencies and erroneous assessments $2,000 more; juvenile court fund shows an increase of $2,100, public schools an increase of $1,504; and the tax collectors' fund an increase of $2,000.

Eight anticipated cost decreases are shown on the new levy. The board has slashed repairs for county buildings from $20,000 last year to $5,000 this year, a decrease of $15,000. The board cut their own fund from $19,800 to $17,790, a decrease of $2,010; and the salary-wage increase of $7,100 levied last year will not be levied this year.

Volunteers Will Launch Campaign For Church Fund

Sixty volunteer workers attended a dinner last evening at First Presbyterian Church lecture hall, to begin a fund raising campaign, for the purpose of financing a building expansion program at the church. The campaign is to raise a total of $60,000, of which $15,000 is already in the church's building fund.

Gordon L. Bowie was master of ceremonies and presented the speakers, including John F. Rodman, Jr., chairman of the building and finance committee; Edmund S. Burke, co-chairman, Harold W. Smith and the Rev. William A. Eisenberger, pastor.

Rodman explained the purpose of the drive and outlined the need for additional facilities at the church. He praised the work of the committee over a period of months, as plans were made, revised and worked out, and thanked all those who helped plan the campaign.

More Facilities Needed

Burke said facilities of the church have not been expanded for over twenty-five years, and the need is great. He contrasted the present era with the era when the church was built seventy-five years ago, and expressed the view that while the cost now will be greater, opportunities and income of the great majority of people are equally greater. Burke said there are 880 members of the church. This means, he explained, that if each member contributes an average of $10 per year for five years, the needed $45,000 can be obtained without "financial pain to anyone."

Smith spoke on the history of the church. He said the church has played a major part in the history of the community, and in community development. The membership of the church has been well represented in every drive, campaign and major project for community good, over a period of many years, he said.

Smith reminded his listeners that this is a capital account campaign, with pledges for five year periods, and more time should be taken with each prospect than is normally used in soliciting subscriptions on local annual drives. He referred to his listeners as "old campaigners," saying, "As I look around, I see many faces that are always present at affairs of this kind. But this is the first time we have ever assembled to do something for our own church."

Pastor Praises Publicity

The Rev. Mr. Eisenberger spoke briefly on the need for the expanded church facility. He told workers the "church has many friends in the community," and many people have complimented him as a representative of the church on the progressive step about to be undertaken. The minister also said that publicity regarding the building program has resulted in several personal encounters by reliable and responsible persons who have said, "I want to join your church."

The first report of the campaign's progress is to be made at 7 p. m. April 24, Rodman said. A meeting of team captains will be held at that time. Rodman explained this is the same night as the annual meeting of the congregation, and it is hoped that a good report can be obtained for that meeting.

The campaign will continue until every member of the church is contacted, and it is hoped that a final meeting can be held April 30, it was indicated.

The dinner was prepared and served by members of the Women's Association of the church. Mrs. E. T. Haller had charge of the dinner, assisted by Mrs. Walter Pierce and others. Mrs. Porter D. Collins and Mrs. P. G. Ervin are co-leaders of the women's division for the campaign.

Judge Capper Says Young Children Should Not Be Detained in Jail

Speaking on the subject "Juvenile Delinquency", Associate Judge Walter C. Capper yesterday told the members of the Rotary club that it is unwise to detain young children in a jail and that some arrangement should be made to have them detained at the home of some respectable person until disposition can be made of the case.

Addressing the Rotarians at their weekly luncheon meeting, Judge Capper said that great care should be taken in handling juvenile cases and added that if "it becomes necessary to detain a young child for examination or trial it is most important, indeed, that the child be not confined with adult offenders.

"This may sound like unnecessary advice," Judge Capper said, "but I know in counties like this, and other counties in the state, no place is provided for the custody of such an offender except the county jail.

"Sheriff Steele has told me that he never confines a juvenile offender in any part of his jail occupied by adults. Nevertheless, a jail is a jail, and it is no place to confine youthful juvenile offenders except for the most serious crimes. Some arrangement can certainly be made to have such persons detained at the home of some respectable person until it can be decided definitely what disposition is to be made of the case."

In citing recent outbreaks of juvenile delinquency in Cumberland and elsewhere, Judge Capper said that it is generally conceded that most of the delinquency is caused by "broken or inadequate homes."

In many cities, nurseries are being maintained at public expense or by private charity to take care of children while their mothers are working.

Judge Capper also pointed out that in some places schools for parents have been established. In this same connection, the speaker stated that every parent with children in public schools should belong to the Parent-Teacher association of his child's school.

BALTIMORE, April 16 (AP) — The Williams Construction Company, Middle River, was low bidder of five bidding for the 8.83-mile Hagerstown - Myersville - Frederick dual highway, State Roads Commissioner Robert Reindollar announced today.

Audiometer Used At Local Clinic

An estimated thirty-eight patients were examined yesterday on the opening day of a hearing clinic being conducted by Dr. M. B. Breitstein, Baltimore, of the Johns Hopkins hospital staff, at headquarters of the Allegany County League for Crippled Children.

Four of the patients, most of whom were school children, were from Garrett county, according to Dr. Joseph P. Franklin, city and county health officer.

An audiometer recently donated to the county health department by Mountain district of the American Legion, which is sponsoring the clinic in co-operation with the health department, was used to test the hearing of the patients. Mrs. Breitstein operated the audiometer.

Mrs. Hume O. Annan, executive secretary of the league, visited the clinic yesterday morning. She returned from Baltimore last Thursday, where she had been hospitalized for several weeks following an automobile accident in Alabama during a vacation trip last February.

Mrs. Annan said last night that she will return to Baltimore next week for observation and any necessary treatment, adding that she will not be able to resume her duties at league headquarters for several weeks. She suffered injuries of the chest and face in the accident.

The clinic will be held from 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. today, and from 9 a. m. until noon tomorrow. No more appointments are available, Dr. Franklin said.

Public health nurses who assisted Dr. Breitstein yesterday were the Misses Anna Hardy, Louise Lippold, Marion Weber, supervisor of public health nurses in Allegany county; and Catherine Smith.

Textile Union Will Act on Wage Offer

Members of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, will meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock and tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock to act upon a Celanese Corporation of America offer of a five per cent wage increase.

In a statement of April 12, William Boyd Coleman, president, declared the officers and negotiating committee of the union will recommend that the offer be rejected.

Union officials said they will oppose the offer for two reasons, first, because they are opposed to percentage increases in wages and second, because the offer excludes some 1,000 employes at the Celanese plant from any wage increase.

Company officials, in announcing the offer, said the exceptions to the offer were in the warp knitting, dyeing and cafeteria departments, and asserted workers there are already on an equitable basis when compared to other establishments.

Coal Strike Cuts Western Maryland Shops Work Week

Revert to Five Days; Billing Clerks Furloughed; Pay Is Increased

The Western Maryland railway shops here reverted yesterday to a five-day week because of the coal strike, George R. Lyming, master mechanic of the Elkins division, said last night.

Lyming said shop employes have been working a seven-day week since 1941, and that the cut back to forty hours was due solely to the coal strike.

If the strike continues, the next move would be to furlough employes, but Lyming said this does not appear imminent.

Prior to starting on the seven-day week during the national emergency before the war, Western Maryland shop employes were working, generally, a six to six and a half-day week, the master mechanic said.

William B. Lee, Elkins division engineer, said that no furloughing has been necessary in the maintenance of way department as yet, but that it will be necessary to lay off some employes soon unless the coal strike situation clears up.

First furloughing on the Elkins division of the Western Maryland was disclosed last night by Joseph M. Miller, division superintendent, who said that three billing clerks at Knobmount have been laid off because of the coal strike. Six billing clerks were employed at Knobmount until coal shipments declined, he said.

Although shop employes reverted to a five-day week, there is some consolation for them in the fact that a sixteen-cent hourly wage increase, retroactive to January 1, became effective yesterday, according to Miller.

He said the pay increase benefits "practically everybody" on the division although some employes are not affected.

VFW Post Roster Numbers 2,076

Henry Hart Post No. 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars met last night and accepted twenty-two new members, all veterans of World War II. The post now has a total paid-up membership of 2,076, according to John Fike, commander.

Reports were made on three members who are patients in veterans' hospitals. They are Henry Stein, patient at Aspinwall; William Shade, University hospital, Baltimore and Michael Grady, at Perry Point. The three veterans are doing all right, it was reported.

J. C. McGee was appointed a committee of one to represent the post on the Civilian Volunteer committee, to encourage and promote recruiting programs for the army. The post membership voted unanimously to assist in the program and give it their co-operation.

Two Appeal Cases Heard by Court; Civil Cases Today

In an appeal case tried yesterday in circuit court before a jury, a verdict of $40.06 in favor of Mrs. Mary Koontz, Mt. Savage, was returned. The appeal was taken by Edward D. Hartman, Cumberland, from a decision by Trial Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., in Trial Magistrates' court following a collision of two cars last November 4 at the intersection of Fairview avenue and Furnace street. Paul M. Fletcher was counsel for Mrs. Koontz and Hartman was represented by William L. Wilson, Jr.

A judgment by agreement for $500 in favor of Andrew J. McKenzie was returned yesterday after his $2,000 damage action against Glenna Robertson was started before a jury and Chief Judge William A. Huster and Associate Judge Walter C. Capper.

McKenzie represented by Estel C. Kelley, said he was struck by an automobile owned by the defendant on November 20, 1943, while he was crossing the street in Lonaconing. Edward J. Ryan was counsel for the defendant.

McKenzie charged that his right leg was fractured and he was confined in a hospital for some time. An artificial leg was also damaged, he said. McKenzie had his left leg amputated at the knee several years prior to the accident on the street.

Following a hearing before Judge Huster, a settlement was reached in equity action of Carl Tribut against his wife, Mrs. Mary Tribut, in a dispute over $4,500 which Tribut charged he had hidden under a coal pile at his home and which he said his estranged wife removed and placed in the First National Bank here.

Terms of the settlement were not disclosed but it was said the money was divided by the couple. They have been married more than sixteen years and have four children. The wife filed a divorce action some time ago in circuit court. John T. Fey and Kelley were attorneys for the wife with Edward J. Ryan representing Tribut.

Members of the petit jury were instructed to return this morning when civil cases are scheduled. A number of cases on the civil docket have been postponed or will be removed from this county, court attaches said yesterday.

He must also furnish legal opinions to the General Assembly, the governor, the comptroller, any state's attorney and other state officers.

"The office of attorney general is, and should be, therefore, a non-political office. I have never held public office, and have never run for public office before. If I am elected, the office of attorney general will be conducted—as it should be—without reference to politics or political influence or political interests.

Practices in Baltimore

"I am pleased to be associated with Theodore R. McKeldin, the candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, who will give the state, if elected, a capable, progressive administration."

He is a member of the law firm of Marshall, All, Carey and Doub; is a member of the character committee appointed by the court of appeals to pass on applicants for the Maryland Bar, and is a member of the American Bar Association, the Maryland Bar Association and the Baltimore Bar Association.

A lieutenant commander in the United States Naval Reserve, Doub served for three years with the Pacific fleet during the war as air combat intelligence officer for Carrier Air Group Six. He was on the aircraft carrier USS Enterprise during the longest night torpedo attacks of the war.

Served on USS Intrepid

Compensation Test Case for Miners To Be Heard Today

Whether or not coal miners are eligible for Maryland unemployment compensation benefits during the present work stoppage is expected to be determined here today when the appeal of Arthur Metz, an employe of the Campbell Coal Company, is heard by a referee assigned to the case by the Maryland Unemployment Compensation Board.

The hearing, to be attended by coal operators and representatives of District 16, United Mine Workers of America, will be held before Miss Irene Zaccaro, Baltimore, the referee. It is scheduled for 10 a. m. in city hall auditorium.

Several miners filed claims for compensation after the coal strike began, but they were disallowed by a preliminary decision.

Metz filed his appeal with the state board on April 8 in the nature of a test case, and the decision reached at today's hearing is expected to decide if approximately 2,000 other miners in Allegany and Garrett counties are eligible for unemployment benefits during the stoppage.

In his appeal, Metz declared that he is not on strike, but that he has no contract or wage agreement with his employer and therefore cannot work. On that basis, he said, he is entitled to compensation.

Officers reported that Duncan was walking along the McMullen highway when he was struck by the automobile and died January 16 in a local hospital. He received a fractured skull and other injuries.

State police said Shook stopped his car and then extinguished his car lights and left the scene but wrecked his machine about a mile from the scene of the mishap. State Trooper Glen D. Folk said Shook was hiding near the wrecked car and was discovered when he lighted a cigaret.

Harry L. Hickle, Cumberland, was indicted on five counts of receiving stolen goods. His brother, Anthony Hickle, was also indicted on several charges of larceny.

County authorities said Harry Hickle is accused of receiving twenty-four blankets, valued at $74.60, and a clothes hamper, said to have been stolen February 25 from the Siehler Furniture Company store, North Centre street.

Marines To Recruit Local Platoon

The marine corps has announced a plan to enlist and organize a platoon of sixty Cumberland and Allegany county men, to be known as the Cumberland Platoon, for induction into marine corps service June 4, according to S-Sgt. Murrel Brainerd, local recruiter.

Brainerd said yesterday, that Major K. B. Pickel of the Baltimore Marine Corps Procurement Division, has approved the plan, and instructed Brainerd to proceed with enlisting the platoon.

Designed to attract young men about to graduate from high school, the platoon will be inducted and sworn in on the stage of the Strand theater the night of June 4, by Major Pickel. The men will then leave for twelve weeks training as a unit, at Parris, Island, S. C. At the end of twelve weeks training, each will be given a ten-day furlough, returning to Cumberland together, and going back to Parris Island as a unit.

One section of the platoon, Brainerd said will be an aviation section, while the other will be made up of men assigned to line and general duty.
